CITY COUNCIL ASKS TRAFFIC CODE REVISION

Commissioners Urged to Name Committee for Public Hearings.

AUTHORITY CONFLICT ELIMINATION SOUGHT

Study of Situations in Other Places Would Be Made.

COMPLETE NEW LAW BELIEVED BEST PLAN

Authorities Delay Decision, but Indications Are It Will Be Favorable.

General revision of the District traffic laws was recommended by William W. Bride, corporation counsel, in a memorandum given the District Commissioners yesterday and, although the Commissioners made the memorandum public with the explanation that they had not had time to study it, indications are that the proposal will meet with their hearty approval.

Mr. Bride proposed appointment by the Commissioners of a special committee composed of a representative of the Board of Commissioners, the major and superintendent of police, the traffic director, the Public Utilities Commission and the United States Bureau of Efficiency.

Public hearings would be held by the special committee and the views of various persons and representatives of various interests of the city's life would be heard and considered in the drafting of a new law which would, perhaps, embody many provisions of the existing law but would eliminate existing apparent conflicts of authority among officials and agencies.

May Investigate Other Cities.

"This committee," Mr. Bride said, "should hold hearings where various persons interested might have the opportunity to express their views; should investigate conditions in other cities, and, at the conclusion of its study, should make a full and complete report upon the situation, with a proposal for definite legislation.

"I believe that this will save time, for, instead of having the present law interpreted and its rights, duties and responsibilities fixed, with the consequent long legal delays that will be necessary, a modern, complete and definite law can be enacted, without the antiquated, overlapping and indefinite provisions of the present-day law.

"I am confident that if such new legislation is presented to Congress, backed by the support of the Board of Commissioners, the Public Utilities Commission and the Bureau of Efficiency, Congress will be very willing to give its aid to promptly enact it into law."

Request Causes Move.

Mr. Bride's recommendation was made as a result of a request by the Commissioners for an interpretation of the various provisions of existing traffic laws, especially in view of the divided authority and also on the question of where responsibility of various officials and agencies began and ended in controlling traffic.

This question was brought to the fore recently by the Bureau of Efficiency, which attacked the Utilities Commission and the District Commissions for what it described as usurptation of the authority of the director of traffic.

That the District Commissioners are not satisfied that the existing traffic control situation is ideal is common knowledge, although none has gone beyond the point of saying publicly that he was studying the problem and seeking to find ways to better the law and control at needed points.

Turner Sets Mark On East-West Hop

Capt. Frank Hawks' Time Is Beaten by 26 Minutes by Flight.

Glendale, Calif., May 27 (A.P.).—Capt. Roscoe Turner landed here at 7:46:34 p. m. (Pacific standard time) tonight establishing a new record for transcontinental East-to-West flight.

Capt. Turner's total elapsed time was 18 hours 43 minutes and 34 seconds.

Capt. Turner beat by 26 minutes 18 seconds the record set by Capt. Frank Hawks June 27, 1929. Capt. Hawks' time was 19 hours 10 minutes and 32 seconds.

Third Royal British Court of Season Brilliant as 600 Are Presented.

London, May 27 (A.P.).—The third royal British court of the season, at which 8 American girls and women were among the 600 from all nations presented, was a brilliant affair tonight despite the absence of King George because of a rheumatic attack.

The presentees were received by Queen Mary alone, but they were consoled in the absence of the king by the figure of the Prince of Wales, resplendent in his scarlet uniform as colonel in chief of the Welsh Guards, standing at the side of his royel mother.

Americans presented were Mrs. Frederick Thwaits, Milwaukee; Mrs. George Phelps, Detroit; Miss Helen Howell, Chicago; Mrs. Guy Goff, Clarksburg, W. Va.; Miss Vera Bloom, New York City; Mrs. George Carr, Chicago; Miss Carolyn Widman, Brooklyn, and Miss Elizabeth Plankinton, New York City.

Mrs. Thwaits wore a gown of shell pink satin and georgette, embroidered in diamante, and carried a pink feather fan. Mrs. Philips was dressed in a flesh-colored satin and chiffon gown, embroidered in silver, with a train of heavy satin lined with chiffon and embroidered in silver threads. She also carried a feather fan.

JEWELRY LOOT OF $1,300,000 IS UNEARTHED

New York Safe-Deposit Boxes Yield Wealth of Stolen Gems.

FOUR BANK VAULTS CLEARED OF BOOTY

Race Track Broker Sixth Arrested After Foray on Hotel Room.

$1,000 BILLS HURLED FROM WINDOW IN RAID

Caches Traced in 9 Weeks of Detective Work That Rivals Film Scenario.

New York, May 27 (N.Y.W.N.S.).—About $1,000,000 worth of stolen diamonds and jewelry were found in safe deposit boxes in four banks today as a result of the spectacular raid on room No. 1985 in the Hotel Commodore Monday, when four men and a woman were arrested with $300,000 worth of jewels in their possession.

Less than an hour after the quintet had been locked up at headquarters, a couple of detectives, armed with warrants issued a week previous by Supreme Court Justices Ingraham and May, went visiting branch banks in Brooklyn and New York.

They found box after box and several pouches of both cut and uncut diamonds and other stones at the National City Banks (Kings Highway Branch), the Guardian National Bank (Sheepshead Bay Branch), the Long Island Safe Deposit Co. in Brooklyn and at the Bank of America in New York. The largest cache was in the latter safe.

Race Track Man Arrested.

The detectives, Lieut. Richard Oliver and Daniel J. Ryan, arrested Robert C. Nelson, broker and race track habitue, of Brooklyn, as the holder of the deposit boxes. He admitted he often took diamonds at the tracks, that might be stolen, as collateral for loans, but denied any connection with the group arrested in the Commodore. Commissioner Mulrooney thought differently and held him for receiving stolen goods.

The nine weeks of shadowing and detective work which would rival any motion picture scenario or fiction is now practically over.

Commissioner Mulrooney admitted that the arrest of the six persons and recovery of approximately $1,300,000 worth of rings, necklaces, pearls and diamonds—more than 2,000 pieces in all—marked the completion of the case. He termed it the greatest single catch in the history of the department.

Bills Scattered From Window.

How the city detectives and insurance investigators, headed by Noel C. Scaffa, ferreted out the case is officially a closed secret—perhaps only until the prisoners are either convicted or freed.

The fact remains that either an undercover detective or insurance investigator did get into the good graces of the alleged diamond thieves because they threw away $25,000 in bills when the raiders caught them

TERROR REIGNS IN INDIA CITIES WITH 82 SLAIN

863 Injured as Clashes Rend Dacca, Bombay, Rangoon, Lucknow.

15 WOMEN IN BURMA MURDERED BY MOBS

RELIGIOUS BATTLES ECLIPSE SALT RAIDS

Soldiers and Police Holding Selves Ready to Quell Further Rioting.

Bombay, India, May 27 (A.P.).—Riot and tumult, or their aftermath of chaos and uncertainty, reigned today in four great cities of Britain's Indian possessions.

A rough computation of official figures showed that in Rangoon, Lucknow, Dacca and Bombay, 82 persons had been killed, 863 injured and hundreds upon hundreds arrested.

Over the week-end the riots have broken out of the bounds of the civil disobedience campaign. They overshadowed the salt raids of Mathatma Gandhi's volunteers and made of "nonviolence" a merely academic term.

Rangoon, the Burmese capital, not yet recovered from the heavy earthquake of several weeks ago, tonight was a beleagured city. Soldiers and police were striving desperately to maintain a hold, already precarious, over fighting coolies and lawless bands.

Police Fire Into Mob.

Fifty-four bodies lay in the city mortuary, and many others are believed to have been carried away by friends or kinsmen. The official death list stands at 80 and the injured list at 740, but these figures are considered much below the unobtainable totals.

No less serious were conditions in famous Lucknow, the great British stronghold of the Indian mutiny of 1857-58. A roll of 4 dead and 30 injured there represents a casualty list that seems likely to be considerably increased on the receipt of further news.

More serious trouble is feared at any moment. Bands of rioters paraded through all quarters of the city after having been dispersed in a hot skirmish with police and soldiers at Aminabad Park, in the busiest center of the city.

The police fired 57 shots at close range into a mob attacking one of their outposts. Fourteen policemen were taken to hospitals.

Bombay Quiet, But Tense.

At Dacca, ancient Bengal city, 150 miles from Calcutta, rioting and fighting between Hindus and Moslems left the streets deserted and peaceful inhabitants within doors. Business was at a standstill.

Looting and stabbings continued today as sequels to the communal riots, which began on Thursday. They have so far caused the deaths of 14 persons and the injury of 40, de-

FLEXIBLE RATE ITEM OF TARIFF RETURNED FOR CONFERENCE CUT

Pratt Changes Stand On Japan Navy Ratio

Taylor Regards 5-3 Shift as Hazardous to the United States.

By ALBERT W. FOX.

Secret diplomatic correspondence between the United States and Japan, relative to abandonment of the American cruiser program, is included in the demand which the Senate foreign relations committee has made upon Secretary Stimson for all diplomatic correspondence throwing light on preliminary negotiations incident to the London Naval Treaty.

The demand is politely worded and may be construed by Mr. Stimson as a request, which may or may not be granted. It is not always compatible with the public interest to produce confidential diplomatic correspondence but as a rule the foreign relations committee of the Senate is not denied the privilege of ascertaining what has transpired behind the scenes in international negotiations. A reply from Mr. Stimson is expected today or tomorrow.

Testimony before the foreign relations committee yesterday was all against the London treaty.

formerly in charge of naval war plans, testified that the 8-inch-gun cruiser is absolutely essential to protect trade routes and enable America to obtain raw materials in time of war. "We can't use the 6-inch for this purpose."

Democrat Point of Order Meets Approval of Vice President.

CONFUSION FOLLOWS SURPRISE MOVEMENT

Provision for Making of Levies by Commission to Come Out.

BILL TO BE DELAYED FOR ONLY BRIEF TIME

Four Other Clauses Appear Slated for Protest Before Senate.

By CARLISLE BARGERON.

The tariff, or rather the highly controverted part of it, went back to conference yesterday after but a brief lease in the Senate.

Vice President Curtis sustained a point of order by Senator Barkley, of Kentucky, against the provision which would give the Tariff Commission rate-making power in the event the President failed to act upon its recommendation within 60 days.

The idea emanated in the Democratic camp and went out from the same source, so the administration is hardly put out over the result, though it did come as a general surprise and caused considerable confusion among the Republican forces for several minutes.

When the atmosphere had cleared it looked as though the bill would be delayed only briefly.

Contains Flexible Provision.

The conferees made their report in two parts. The part that goes back to conference contains the flexible provision, and the rates on cement and lumber, the ultimate fate of the measure resting on the latter.

It is not likely, however, that they will be affected by yesterday's action. Senator Smoot will probably call the conferees together today, and they will strike out the provision making the rates of the Tariff Commission effective if the President did not act on its recommendation within 60 days.

This would leave the commission only with authority to recommend rates, and if the President did not act one way or the other in the prescribed time the matter would become dead.

Conferees' Original Intention.

This is the way the conferees had originally intended to report the bill, but the commission rate-making clause was added at the insistence of the Democratic confe... ...ticularly Representative Garner.

There was an implied rather than a direct threat over the President in the added provision. He might be expected to either approve or disapprove a commission recommendation within 60 days, but the added provision would prevent pigeon holing without action one way or the other as occurred in the Coolidge administration.

The impression is that it was an exaggerated account of this provision that the Four Horsemen of the Rapidan, Senators Allen, Walcott, Hatfield and Goldsborough, gave the President last week-end and which caused them to be hastily sent back to town to have the matter corrected. As the situation worked out, their week-end party need not have been disturbed at all.

Democratic Attack Surprise.

It was surprising that the attack came from the Democratic side, but not only did Senator Barkley make the point of order, but Senator Walsh, of Montana, supported him. The conferees had exceeded their authority, it was contended, in delegating rate-making power to the commission.

It was the opinion of Senator Harrison, of Mississippi, and the other Democratic conferees that inasmuch as they could not get their proposal by which the flexible rate-making power would have been returned to Congress, they were getting something

PRATT URGES RADIO FOR FIGHTING CRIME

Would Equip 16 Automobiles With Receiving Sets for Patrol Work.

HOOK-UP WITH SIX CITIES

Appropriation of $18,500 to establish a police short wave radio broadcasting and receiving service, is asked by Maj. Henry G. Pratt, superintendent of police, in his annual estimates for 1932 now under study by the District Commissioners.

The program calls for a broadcasting station with towers of 50 and 100 feet in height, equipment of sixteen automobiles with radio receiving sets, and a hook-up with six cities and towns surounding the National Capital.

The Maryland and Virginia towns in which the District authorities would place receiving sets for instant police communication, were specified as Rockville, Md.; Alexandria, Va.; Fredericksburg, Va.; Fairfax, Va.; Annapolis, Md., and Laurel, Md.

Twenty-five cities throughout the country have established police radio stations which are recognized as an invaluable aid in combatting crime, it was said in support of the item. Detroit, it was pointed out, in 1929 sent 22,598 messages to police automobiles equipped with radio receiving sets. Messages were sent in 8,288 emergencies and resulted in 1,325 arrests, the average time required for one or more cruising police cars to reach the scene of the crime or emergency being two minutes.

Application to the Federal Radio Commission for a broadcasting permit and assignment of a wave length has already been made, and there is little doubt that the application will be granted, Maj. Pratt believes.

In all, the 1932 estimates for the Police Department call for $3,320,158.

6,000 FLEE HOMES IN RED RIVER FLOOD

House Member Telegraphs Red Cross in Capital to Aid Refugees.

YOUTH, 17, LOSES LIFE

New Orleans, La., May 27 (A.P.).—Refugee camps dotted the hills of Red River and Natchitoches Parishes tonight as flood waters from the Red River and its tributaries forced more families from their homes. Thousands of homes were partly or completely covered by water that was still rising today. Men, women and children crowded together in the refugee camps.

Officials who have checked the area report 105,000 acres under water in these parishes with another 100,000 emerging from water in Caddo, Bossier and De Soto. Estimates of the homeless inhabitants have passed 6,000.

Representative James B. Aswell toured the area in Natchitoches Parish today and immediately telegraphed national headquarters of the Red Cross in Washington for aid. He described the situation as a "grave emergency" and "distressing in the extreme." He asked for immediate relief for 1,000 families and $14,000 for food for refugees for four weeks and $4,000 for replanting 40,000 acres.

Meantime planters and merchants were cooperating with local chapters of the Red Cross in caring for the refugees. The National Red Cross ordered field agents to investigate conditions in Natchitoches Parish with the view to offering aid.

Dolph Frantz, managing editor of the Shreveport Journal, flew over the flooded area between Shreveport and Coushatta today and reported flood conditions more widespread than in 1927. Only the roofs of hundreds of

REFERENDUM URGED ON LIQUOR BY JONES

Author of 5-10 Measure to Aid Dry Law Repeal if State So Votes.

UTTERANCE CAUSES STIR

Senator Wesley L. Jones (Republican), Washington, hurled a bombshell into the wet-dry controversy yesterday in announcing that "the proper and courageous thing to do" would be to submit prohibition to a referendum in his State and that he would abide by its dictum in voting in the Senate for repeal, modification or enforcement of the eighteenth amendment.

Sponsor of the stringent "five-and-ten" law for Volstead violators, Senator Jones issued the pronouncement in commenting on action of the Republican State convention in Washington State favoring modification in the dry statutes. He said he thought the convention vote represented only a "small section of the people," and that he believed in the prohibition laws. He added also that the convention action "binds no one."

"I have no hesitation in saying to the people in my State that while not adhering to my personal conscientious views on prohibition," the statement said, "if they, in the duly constituted way, ask Congress to submit an amendment to the eighteenth amendment repealing or modifying it, I will vote for such submission as a member of the Senate at the time such request is submitted."

Asking, "Is not that fair?" the statement continued:

"The opponents of prohibition seem to want to follow every method against prohibition but the lawful ones. They seem to want to undermine or evade the law rather than to attack it openly and courageously. I may not agree with many, who oppose prohibition, but I have the greatest respect for those who have

PEYSER HITS CLIQUE IN SCHOOL POLITICS

Elective System for Board of Education Is Urged at Hearing on Bill.

COLPOYS URGES PROJECT

Testimony by Maj. Julius Peyser that political cliques had influenced appointment of members of the District Board of Education when Chief Justice McCoy was on the District Supreme Court bench and that another agency would be preferable to the present system featured the continued hearing on the Zihlman bill last night before the District education subcommittee in the House Office Building. The hearing room was packed with advocates of the measure.

Maj. Peyser, himself a former member of the School Board, declared that he believed that 80 per cent of the residents of the National Capital favor the elective board proposal. In answer to a question he said that he was willing to pay higher taxes for this privilege and that he was certain other representatives of large financial interests felt the same way.

"I believe that the Board of Education should be composed of parents rather than educators," he said, "and they should be responsible to the people of Washington."

Divers interests in the city have influenced appointment of the board members from an exclusive group, he charged, and pleas of the rank and file of Washingtonians have been ignored by the justices.

John C. Colpoys, editor of the Trade Unionist, as representative of the Central Labor Union, enthusiastically indorsed the bill, reiterating some of the charges of Maj. Peyser and making specific complaint of the weakness of the vocational system in the District schools.

He also expressed the opinion that there are "too many fads" in the Business in Washington

By ARTHUR J. MAY,
President F. P. May Hardware Co.

With our business for the first quarter of this year showing a gain over a year ago, both in sales volume and in profit, I feel quite comfortable about the economic outlook.

The recent industrial upheaval appeared to me to be a natural readjustment to shake out undesirable factors which had been developing gradually in our business structure largely because conditions in general for some time were so satisfactory that we paid scant attention to these flaws.

Undue speculation was, I believe, one of the principal weaknesses in the situation as it existed before the crash. By that I mean that business men in general were inclined to seek fortune in unfamiliar fields to the neglect of business which should have had their undivided attention.

This naturally was detrimental to credit, and with credit impaired there was but one possible result, the depression from which we are but now emerging.

We have had to keep close watch over our merchandising methods in recent years to meet changing conditions, discarding many lines and adding others, and I believe other industries have faced a similar situation.

But I believe that most branches of practically every industry are coming to realize that new standards have been raised, and that they must make readjustments to meet the situation if they are to be numbered among ultimate survivors.

Harris & Ewing.
ARTHUR J. MAY.

I do not look for any boom period soon, but I do feel that when we reach the end of 1930, the net result on our books will be more satisfactory than at the close of 1929. I am not at all convinced that we are entirely out of the rough, but I do feel that with proper attention to business and due recognition of new requirements, there is little more to fear.

Country Housewives Found To Work 62 Hours Weekly

City Class Follows With 51 Hours, U. S. Bureau Chief Discovers.

(Associated Press.)

Like old Diogenes looking for his honest man, the United States Bureau of Home Economics is trying to search out the modern "Lady of Leisure," who, supposedly, took the place of the old-fashioned housewife.

By keeping time schedules on 2,000 country homemakers, Miss Hildegarde Kneeland, chief of the division of economics, found they are still working more than 62 hours a week—full time and overtime.

She found housewives of the city industrial class are putting in about 51 hours each week, a good round hour's for any worker. And now she has turned to city-dwelling college alumni as the group "whose social and economic status fall within the class usually considered as not in the provision which would either insure the tariff commission's recommendations being put into effect or the President outright vetoing them.

There is the possibility, too, now that the matter has gone back to conference, that the House conferees may insist on their original flexible provision which, instead of curtailing the President's flexible power in existing law, considerably broadens it. The administration forces now seem to have the votes to do most anything within reason to the bill.

Ruling Causes Confusion.

Yet notwithstanding the good break that the administration seems to have gotten out of yesterday's development it was not known in the Republican camp that Vice President Curtis intended to sustain the point of order until a few minutes before he did so. Consequently, his ruling caused considerable confusion among the Republican leaders. Senator Shortridge, of California, one of the Senate conferees, moved for an appeal from the decision, but after floundering around for a while, or loafing, as he expressed it, withdrew his motion.

The decision does not augur well either for the four items in the other report, now lying on the Senate table, against which points of order are to be made. Senator Bingham, of Connecticut, wanted them settled yesterday and so did the Democrats, but Senator Smoot, for some reason which no one could figure out, protested against acting on them at the time. The items are cherries, rayon, cheese and watches. It is contended that the conferees went outside the House and Senate bills in fixing rates for these commodities.

The estimates provide $50,000 for construction of a new precinct station to be located in the Fifteenth Precinct. This precinct would be sliced out of the present Eleventh Precinct, which now embraces eighteen square miles. The Fifteenth Precinct Station would be built on a site already purchased near Benning and the dividing line of the two precincts probably would be Pennsylvania avenue.

An appropriation of $3,000 to provide for the training of a Washington policeman in identification of bullets and in ballistics is asked. This project is entirely new. It is proposed to send a member of the department to the University of Chicago, where a special course for policemen is being conducted. Detective Sergt. John Fowler now is looked on as the most expert of the Washington police in this field. Sergt. Harry Cornwell, who died several months ago, had been the department's bullet identification expert prior to his death.

Motor equipment needed by the department in 1932 will cost $94,700, which is $12,700 more than the amount for that purpose in the 1931 appropriation bill. The estimates carry $2,839,836 for salaries of officers and men. This is $31,956 more than the 1931 amount, the increase being necessary because of promotions of men required by law. The estimates make no allowance for any possible increases in the total of salaries due to passage of the pending Police and Fire Departments pay bill.

J.D. HOBBS INDICTED FOR FRAUD BY MAIL

Former Wardman Official Accused in $165,595 Note Transaction.

LETTERS ARE REVEALED

James D. Hobbs, former second vice president and treasurer of the Wardman Construction Co., Inc., was indicted yesterday by the District of Columbia grand jury on a charge of using the mails to defraud.

Hobbs is specifically charged with devising and intending to devise a scheme and artifice to defraud John V. Morris of his money and, for the purpose of executing the alleged scheme, of having deposited certain letters in the mails.

The indictment alleges that on March 6, 1927, Morris purchased apartment property at 1620 R street northwest and that Hobbs represented to him that "because of the unusual facilities at his command" he could and would facilitate management and procure sale of the newly acquired property. In this manner, it is set out, Hobbs induced Morris to take title to the property in the name of Ruth M. Gossard, who was to hold it in trust for the purchaser. Thereafter, it is charged, Hobbs directed Mrs. Gossard to execute and deliver 83 promissory notes aggregating $165,595.60, maturing at various times and all made payable to Ernest M. Hudgins. Then, the indictment alleges, Hobbs directed Mrs. Gossard to execute a deed of trust on the property to secure the 83 promissory notes.

Note Conversion Alleged.

The indictment charges that Hobbs converted the notes and proceeds of the conversion "all without the knowledge and consent" of Morris. It is charged that Hobbs did not seek to have the property conveyed for the purpose of its management and sale but with the intent to convert it to his own use.

On June 10, 1927, Hobbs in furtherance of the alleged scheme, is said to have mailed a letter to Joseph H. Himes, of the Transportation Building setting out that "You hold the notes of the Lincoln Hotel Corporation secured on lot 105, square 179, being premises 1620 R street" totaling $32,000. "We recently completed a refinancing of the first trust on this property, placing a new first trust in the same amount of $400,000, and it is necessary to substitute new second trust notes for those which you hold."

On August 19, 1927, Hobbs is alleged to have deposited a letter addressed to George Marlow, apartment 2, 1513 Meridian place northwest, and it is set out that the letter contained a statement on the apartment house at 1620 R street and pointing out that while the Wardman Co did not have the property for sale and was only managing it, that it was believed that the property was worth $750,000 and that an offer for it would be gladly received.

Other Letters Quoted.

On November 8, 1927, Hobbs is alleged to have mailed a letter to Morris inclosing a statement "covering our operation of 1620 R street" and asking Morris to "call and see me regarding this matter as soon as possible."

Morris, who now resides at 1427 Girard street northwest, recently filed suit in District Supreme Court asking $325,000 damages and charging conspiracy to defraud him of his interest in the premises at 1620 R street and the Lincoln Hotel Corporation. The suit was directed against the Wardman Construction Co., the Wardman Corporation, Harry Wardman, Hobb and others.

Morris, in his suit, charged that in furtherance of the alleged conspiracy to defraud him he was approached by the Wardman Construction Co. with a proposition to take over management of the property at 1620 R street, to fill it with tenants and effect a sale which would net him $75,000. The property, he said, was transferred to an employe of the Wardman Co. and shortly thereafter a third deed of trust for $165,595.60 (the amount cited in the indictment) was placed on the property and used to pay the debts of the defendant corporation. Later, Morris charged, the property was sold at foreclosure proceedings while still in litigation to his great damage.

The victims were Ernest Marcotte, owner of the farm, his two sons and Philippe Jutras.

Planes Worth $80,000 Wrecked in High Winds

Chilmark, Island of Martho's Vineyard, Mass., May 27 (A.P.).—Two naval seaplanes, members of a squadron of 23 airships of the black, or attacking forces in the Army and Navy's theoretical warfare now raging in Long Island Sound, were wrecked in Menemsha Inlet last night with a loss of $80,000.

The planes dragged their anchors in a high wind and fouled each other.

Real Estate Man Held in Assault

Grand Jury Indicts Five in Kidnaping and Beating of New Yorker.

New York, May 27 (A.P.).—J. Morgan Corbett, wealthy Boston real estate man, and four others were indicted by the Bronx County grand jury charged with second degree assault in the kidnaping and beating in a lonely Bronx shack of James Quinn, jr., April 1.

Quinn alleges that Cornett suspected he knew the whereabouts of Mrs. Corbett, a former Provincetown, Mass., artist's model, who disappeared last January. Quinn further charged that Corbett had him kidnaped in an attempt to force him to say where Mrs. Corbett was. He maintains he did not know.

Those indicted with Corbett were Arthur Hamel, 29, of Haverhill, Mass.; Edward Kendall, 29, of North Reading, Mass.; Edward Kline, 30, of New York and John Doe, an unidentified man. After the indictment Corbett, who had been arrested earlier in the day, supplied bail of $2,500, as did the others.

FOUR DIE, TRIO HURT IN OKLAHOMA BLAZE

Others Feared Trapped as Coliseum Walls Fall in Capital City.

LOSS FIXED AT $500,000

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 27 (A.P.).—Trapped by falling walls of the Coliseum, huge auditorium in the Stock Yards district here, at least four men lost their lives today in a fire that destroyed the building, with an estimated loss of $500,000. Three firemen were injured.

Four bodies had been recovered early tonight and firemen and 50 city prisoners were digging in the still smoking debris for bodies of other persons who were reported to have been trapped by falling walls as they sought to save new automobiles stored in the Coliseum Annex.

The dead: R. A. Mason, 29, city fireman. Dave Meiser, 31, packing plant employe. Gordon Smith, 24, used car salesman. An unidentified Negro.

Identification of Smith left Tom Smith, nephew of Assistant Fire Chief A. E. Wilkerson, missing. He previously was believed among the dead and last had been seen taking motor cars from the structure.

Tons of debris stood between workmen and partly fallen walls, where additional bodies may be found.

Six or seven men were reported by witnesses to have been trapped in the annex while attempting to push automobiles out, when the stage wall fell back into the annex.

J. B. Chapman, C. E. Bell and W. J. Bell, firemen, suffered burns and injuries, but it was believed they would recover.

Firemen were hampered throughout the day by crowds of curious who collected about the building and blocked the one direct thoroughfare that connects Oklahoma City proper with packing town—Exchange avenue. Fire trucks were delayed by congested traffic and the blaze had gained uncontrollable headway when the fire fighting got under way.

Approximately 150 new automobiles were stored in the annex of the building and volunteers rushed in to get them out. It was believed the danger was not great, as the fire at that time was confined to the main auditorium. Several workers who escaped reported that two groups of men pushing cars were caught when the stage wall fell.

Graf Zeppelin Officers And Passengers Feted

Pernambuco, Brazil, May 27 (A.P.). The elite of Brazil today joined in fetes to the officers and passengers of the Graf Zeppelin. A round of hospitality marked the day, probably the dirigible's last south of the Equator.

One hundred guests attended a luncheon given by the city's highest official to the travelers at a picnic ground. Later this afternoon a tea dance for Dr. Hugo Eckener, Prince Alfonso and their companions drew the select society coterie.

Colorado Girl Flier, 17, Killed as Plane Falls

Colorado Springs, Colo., May 27 (A.P.).—Margaret Ferguson, 17-year-old Colorado Springs High School student and one of the youngest girls in the United States to hold a Government private pilot's license, was killed today in the crash of her plane east of the city limits.

Miss Ferguson passed her Government flying tests last Friday. She was rated as a private pilot and was soloing today in an attempt to qualify as a commercial pilot. She had been studying aviation for several months, and was to have been graduated from the Colorado Springs High School June 6. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ferguson, of Colorado Springs.

20,000 IN SPAIN RIOT AGAINST BERENGUER

Police Sabers Turn Protest at Casino Gaming Ban Into Rebellion.

30 INJURED BY BULLETS

San Sebastian, Spain, May 27 (A.P.). A parade of 20,000 citizens of this royal resort city, seeking the reopening of gambling facilities at the casions, this afternoon turned into a political demonstration against the Berenguer government and rioting broke out.

Police fired into the crowds in attempting to quell the demonstrators, injuring 30 persons. Four civilians, including a woman and a child, were reported to be seriously wounded by the bullets.

The rioting lasted through most of the afternoon and the streets were heavily patrolled by police and soldiers tonight. Twenty arrests were made.

The parade had been organized in protest against continuance of Primo de Rivera's order suppressing gambling in the casinos. The citizens said they had lost much tourist trade through the suppression and they became disorderly when mounted police attempted to break up their demonstrations.

This rioting was stopped by a charge of mounted policemen with drawn sabers, who cut or bruised seventeen civilians. The crowds then dispersed, but later began gathering around the civil government buildings, and soon the streets were packed with a throng shouting insults at the government and defiance to the authorities.

Mounted and foot police charged several times and repeatedly fired into the air to frighten the demonstrators. Finally, the crowd surged forward toward the building, threatening to drag out Gov. Sanalo.

The police then opened fire directly into the advancing mass of people, severely wounding four and less gravely hurting an unknown number of others. Many of the demonstrators fled to their houses, but skirmishes between groups of citizens and police continued until dark.

Many sections of the central part of this city, where is located King Alfonso's summer palace, were deserted tonight, but elsewhere threatening crowds milled about in the streets. Police reserves were held in readiness.

SCHOOL CLIQUE HIT IN PEYSER'S SPEECH

present curriculum, such "as character education," and went even further than the first witness in stressing the need for parents in preference to pedagogues on the school board. Educators he characterized as "a queer set."

At the conclusion of his testimony Mr. Colpoys suggested that a special committee be named from the House and the Senate to make an investigation on the Zihlman proposal. He said he would be willing to abide by its findings.

Shott Bill Favored.

The subcommittee voted favorably on the Shott bill to amend section 19 of the act for retirement of public school teachers in the District. The amendment makes the act applicable to all teachers who were in the District schools in June, 1926; all District teachers who were receiving an annuity under the act of 1920, and all teachers who because of illness or disability resigned or were retired on or before June 1, 1919, if otherwise eligible.

Fourteen Teachers Are Affected.

Representatives of the Central Labor Union appeared in behalf of the Reid bill to place vocational schools of the city on a par with junior high schools and the teachers' salaries accordingly.

The present scale of salaries, it was said, are too low to attract experienced tradesmen to the schools and consequently the vocational pupils are not afforded a type of training that will be any use to them commercially.

Plea for Back Payment.

A plea for back payment of salaries of ten assistant directors in the colored schools was made by two witnesses on the Palmer bill. No objections were raised by members of the committee. A bill to order the utilization of the building now occupied by the Business High School upon completion of the Roosevelt High School was read, but no discussion was offered.

Mrs. W. T. Bannerman, chairman of the joint committee organized to obtain the passage of the Zihlman bill, revealed that she had further witnesses, and so the hearing was continued until next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock. Representative Beers, of Pennsylvania, presided in the absence of Mr. Reid.

Blaine Introduces Bill.

Senator Blaine (Republican), of Wisconsin, yesterday introduced a bill to block any attempt by the Board of Education to prohibit school employes from holding meetings or petitioning Congress. The bill says:

"Provided that said Board of Education shall at no time adopt a rule or regulation which would seek to deny to any one of the employes the right to meet and freely and fully discuss the questions of interest to them, or which would seek to deny to any of its employes, individually or collectively, the right to petition Congress in their own behalf."

Senator Blaine said that information had come to him that the Board of Education was planning to block assemblies and petitions.

Two Arrested as Dentist Is Tarred and Feathered

Three Other Wealthy Brothers Sought After Abductors Hurl Louisiana Man Into Street With Warning to Leave Town.

Hammond, La., May 27 (A.P.).—Two brothers, Charles and Gordon Starnes, members of a wealthy family, were arrested here tonight on charges of applying tar and feathers to Dr. S. L. Newsom, prominent dentist of Hammond. Deputy sheriffs tonight were searching for three other brothers, Henry, Ike and Newton Starnes.

Dr. Newsom said he was accused by the brothers of paying attentions to one of their wives. He said he was kidnaped by the five men last night, handcuffed, tarred and feathered, and thrown into a street of Hammond with a warning to leave town.

Dr. Newsom drove to his home at Columbia, Miss., but late today returned with his father. His friends rallied to his support, and with the aid of the sheriff and chief of police plans were made to prosecute the brothers.

The young dentist, a graduate of Tulane University, denied the charges of the brothers and declared he would remain in Hammond and practice his profession.

The brothers technically were charged with conspiracy to commit a felony, wounding less than mayhem, and assault and battery with a dangerous weapon.

The dentist, who enjoyed a large practice, was thrown out of an automobile in the principal street at 5 a. m. today covered with tar and feathers. He had been seized by a crowd of between fifteen and twenty men who carried him to the woods and applied the tar and feathers. The crowd was said to have debated whether to kill the dentist or subject him to public humiliation.

TRIBESMEN MAY ASK RANSOM FOR PILOTS

Spain Proceeding Cautiously in Coming to Aid of Fliers Grounded in Africa.

ONE SHIP BURIED IN SAND

Madrid, May 27 (A.P.).—Two Spanish army aviators who had been reported missing since last Wednesday were found today to be in the hands of wandering tribesmen in the vicinity of Cape Bogador, State of Rio de Oro, a Spanish-African colonial possession near the western region of the Sahara desert.

The fliers, Commandante Ricardo Burguete and Capt. Nunez Maza, in two airplanes, left Cape Juby, in the same state, last Wednesday as part of a military squadron en route to Morocco for inspection by Gen. Balmes, chief of the Spanish army air service. They were accompanied by Vicente Ferrer, a mechanic, who is a fellow captive with the officers, now, and Mohamed Ben el Buya, a Moorish chieftain whose fate has not been learned.

Meager dispatches reaching the Moroccan department of the Spanish government indicated that a water-tube broke in one plane, forcing it to land, and that the other accompanied it down. The tribesmen then took the aviators into custody and so notified a Spanish outpost in Morocco. Both planes have been found about 12 miles from Cape Bogador, one damaged and the other partly buried in a sand dune.

Spain Proceeds Cautiously.

It is not known whether the fliers are being held for ransom, or even if they are considered captives. The government is moving with delicacy in the matter, since peace officially prevails at present in Morocco and Spanish Africa, and is seeking to rescue the fliers without using military force.

It is known, however, that they are held by the same group of tribesmen which in 1927 captured Maj. Tadeo Larre-Borges and three Uruguayan companions who were attempting to fly to South America. These fliers were held for ransom after they had been forced to leave their wrecked plane. Eventually they were set free and flew over the south Atlantic successfully.

From time to time these tribesmen capture planes owned by the French Latecoere Co., which is forced to ransom them, and to carry on such business have agents in Villa Cisneros.

Planes Fying Over Area.

The Cape Juby territory is large—about half the size of Spain—and is protected by only two Spanish fortresses, garrisoned by two companies. Each fortress has a wireless station that can communicate as far as the Canary Islands.

Spanish airplanes, meanwhile, are flying over the areas described as holding the tribesmen and their captives, hoping to spot them from above.

The government's meager information indicates that the captured men lost their way. In flying from Cape Juby to Morocco they should have gone northward, but the region of Cape Bogador, where they now are held, is considerably to the south. There is the possibility, too, that they started for Villa Cisneros before going to Morocco.

Tallest Building Formally Opened

Former Gov. Smith Attends Chrysler Structure Ceremonies.

New York, May 27 (A.P.).—The tallest structure in the world—the Chrysler Building—was opened formally today. Its burnished, rustless steel spire scrapes the clouds 1,030 feet above Forty-second street and Lexington avenue, 46 feet higher than the Eiffel Tower and 75 feet above the Bank of Manhattan Building in the financial district, which was opened yesterday.

It is a building of superlatives. It is the highest, it has what is said to be the largest painting in the world in the ceiling of the lobby, a canvas 100 feet by 75, it has the highest restaurant in one of the upper floors and the highest club rooms, the Skyscraper Club, and the most stories, 78.

Former Gov. Smith, who is head of a company building a 1,100-foot building on the site of the old Waldorf Astoria Hotel further downtown, attended the brief ceremonies at the Chrysler Building today. Walter P. Chrysler also made a brief speech.

GRAF SET TO LEAVE TODAY ON U.S. TRIP

All Made Ready for Take-Off From Pernambuco on 5,500-Mile Journey.

SHORT STOP AT HAVANA

Pernambuco, Brazil, May 27 (A.P.). The Graf Zeppelin, with nearly half of her 18,000-mile flight over four continents and two oceans completed, will leave her stubby mooring mast here tomorrow for New York and Lakehurst.

Dr. Hugo Eckener said this evening that the big airship would leave here at 7 a. m. (5 a. m. E. S. T.) and that he would stay in Havana en route from two to four hours, depending on weather conditions.

Her first cruise over the Caribbean Sea and the West Indies will take her to Havanna, Cuba, by Friday.

At Campo Giquia Airfield all was activity as the cooler hours of the evening set in. Fuel, lifting gas, ballast and provisions were put aboard, together with a ton of mail. Most of the inflating of the big gas bag is done at night because of the fierce heat of the equatorial sun, and it has been slow work.

Course Not Divulged.

The course of the Graf over her 5,500-mile trip up into the Northern Hemisphere has not been divulged. It is thought that Dr. Eckener, in an effort to avoid stormy areas and torrid weather in the Amazon estuary, will leave the Brazilian coast near Natal and strike due north until about 200 miles beyond the mouth of the Amazon.

Then he can cut in over the sickle-shaped chain of West Indian islands and cruise northwestward to Havana. The stop at the Cuban capital is expected to last only a couple of hours, and then the Graf will be off for the coast of the United States.

William B. Leeds, American millionaire, and two other new passengers, who made the trip by airplane from Rio de Janeiro to Pernambuco, will make the American flight aboard the Graf. The others are Mr. Donnell, of the National City Bank of New York, and Valentine Boucas, Brazilian business man.

To Recross Equator.

In sailing northward, the Zeppelin will cross the Equator for the second time on her present flight within a few hours after leaving her mooring mast.

Rio Janeiro, May 27 (A.P.).—A bitter personal attack on Dr. Hugo Eckener was published this afternoon by the influential newspaper "Anoite." The paper, though paying tribute to the science and skill of the Graf Zeppelin's commander, asserts that his "bad manners" led to disagreeable incidents during the Zeppelin's brief visit to Rio Janeiro on Sunday.

"Commander Eckener by his bad manners everywhere causes disagreeable incidents with other peoples and his own countrymen who live in foreign countries," it says.

Failed in Good Manners.

"When the time came for the triumph of the flight to Brazil, he failed to live up to the code of civility and good manners, not understanding the destinies of his mission but acting as director of a commercialized voyage, which could have rested on a high plane above the little interests to which it degenerated.

"He is solely responsible for the restrictions imposed on newspapers and the disgust of the Brazilian authorities and of the members of the German colony."

Brazilians complain that the Graf Zeppelin remained stationary at Campo Dos Affonsos only an hour and a quarter and that Dr. Eckener did not even get out of the Gondola.

KING GEORGE AGAIN VICTIM OF ILLNESS

Inflammatory Rheumatism Confines Sovereign to Quarters.

DAMP WEATHER BLAMED

London, May 27 (A.P.).—For the first time in a twelve-month British people tonight were scanning the press for reports of the illness of their sovereign.

Confined to his quarters in Buckingham Palace with a painful attack of inflammatory rheumatism centering in his right hip, King George was obliged to forego the third court of the season, this evening, his place being occupied by the Prince of Wales.

Otherwise, according to official announcement, the King was maintaining his usual schedules. George V is 64 years old. He has had two seveere illnesses in the last two years, the present illness, however, was only indirectly related to these, due to his somewhat depleted vigor.

Damp Weather Blamed.

Lord Dawson, of Penn, the monarch's personal physician, after visiting the palace, said his majesty was in no condition to undertake the tedious ceremonies of the court tonight, giving the first intimation of his attack.

Prolonged damp weather was blamed for the King's rheumatism. It was said for him that he hoped to receive the Chamber of Commerce delegates later this week and attend the New York Philharmonic Symphony concert at Albert Hall Sunday.

The public tonight awaiteed hopefully the confirmation of these reports. The king was ill in the winters of 1928 and 1929, with serious pulmonary troubles.

Illness Not Serious.

The king's indisposition is not considered serious. Lord Dawson and Sir Stanley Hewitt, the two physicians to the king, called on his majesty during the afternoon and while no bulletin was issued, it was understood the royal patient was progressing satisfactorily.

It is understood the king is receiving massage treatment and with the recurrence of sunshiny, summery weather, expects to be as well as ever.

While the king was forced to forego his appearance at the courts tonight and tomorrow, he is not bedridden and during the afternoon went to the Buckingham Palace gardens and sat for some time in the warm sunshine.

He developed a cold in November, 1928, while reviewing an Armistice Day parade. Subsequently he was operated on and his recovery was slow. It was only in recent months that his majesty resumed his normal routine.

Gen. Russell Sailing From Haiti.

Port au Prince, Haiti, May 27 (A.P.).—Brig. Gen. John S. Russell, United States high commissioner, will sail tomorrow on the steamship Ancon for two months of conferences with State Department officials and his vacation. Charge Stuart E. Grummon will be acting commissioner until his superior's return.

AUTHORITIES AGAIN TO GRILL BREWSTER

Mental Test Over, Murder Suspect Will Go Back to Guardhouse.

EVIDENCE YET MEAGER

Agents of the Department of Justice and Lieut. Edward J. Kelly, of the homicide squad, today will requestion Private Harold L. Brewster, suspect in the Mary Baker murder mystery, who will be taken from Walter Reed Hospital this morning.

Doctors who examined the prisoner have not made any formal report as to his sanity, although it has been indicated by them that the man is mentally responsible and capable of exercising normal judgment.

Capt. A. R. Bolling will bring Brewster to the guardhouse at headquarters company, Eighteenth and C streets. Brewster's examination took two days. Capt. Bolling is uncertain as to what action will be taken against the soldier by Army officials.

It is the aim of authorities in their inquisition today to determne whether Brewster will amplify his story that he had an alteraction with a woman in an automobile in the vicinity where Miss Baker was last seen alive.

No action against Brewster is contemplated by District police. If his original confession, which he recanted, proves to be true, it will place the commission of the murder in Arlington County. Commonwealth's Attorney William C. Gloth said last night that the evidence against the man is meager and has no corroborative elements.

Mr. Gloth declared that without substantiation of his story little hope could be held for an indictment. If the police are able to find the gun with which Brewster said he committed the murder, Mr. Gloth thinks that a warrant would be sworn out. Brewster later denied that he ever owned a gun.

House Candidate Attacks Dry Law

Kentucky Woman Declares Amendment Failure in Its Ideals.

Newport, Ky., May 27 (A.P.).—Mrs. Marie Haller, candidate for the Republican congressional nomination from the Sixth Kentucky District, outlined her platform today and advocated a change in the prohibition law. "The eighteenth amendment has failed in its ideals and has become a thing of iniquity and sin," she said.

Mrs. Haller said it is far more effective to have temperance workers do their work as they have in the past and said "the amendment should not be on the sacred pages of our national Constitution."

Some people, she said, believe because a woman runs for office she should be defeated "because she is a woman." The congressional aspirant declared it was not sex, but ability to handle Government business that should decide votes at the polls.

IOWA GIRL, 13, WINS U. S. SPELLING TITLE

Helen Jensen Hurdles Her "Albumen" and Gets $1,000 Prize.

AWARDS GIVEN OTHERS

The correct spelling of the world "albumen" yesterday afternoon entitled Miss Helen Jensen, 13 years old, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, to a cash prize of $1,000 and the title "National Spelling Champion," when she defeated Miss Ruth DesJardins, 13 years old, of Detroit, Mich., in the national spelling be held in the auditorium of the New National Museum.

The contest of spellers started at 1 o'clock in the afternoon with 24 entries in line. A simple word, "license," tripped Miss Ruth Fortier, of New Britain, Conn., third prize winner. At 3 o'clock there were six in line, and finally they dwindled down to three.

Mildred Froning, of South Bend, Ind., became confused on the word "conflagration," and left Helen Jensen and Miss DesJardins remaining to fight to a finish. The audience became tense, two sponsors in the crowd leaned to the edge of their seats, and the pronouncer gave the word "asceticism." The Detroit representative halted for a moment, and then said "assetism." "Next!" said the pronouncer, and Miss Jensen spelled the word.

In order to establish officially her claim to the championship, Miss Jensen was asked to spell "albumen," and without hesitation she pronounced and slowly spelled it. For the first time in the history of the national spelling bee an Iowa girl, representing the Des Moines Register, was national champion.

The third loser was Miss Ida Cleghorn, of Cuba, New York, who misspelled "occasional." The names of the other contestants, the words they misspelled and the order in which they were ruled out follows:

Fourth, Winfield Yarnell, Carlisle, Pa., "backguard;" fifth, Ruby Vanvactor, Paducah, Ky., "abysses;" sixth James Drummond, West Liberty, Va., "concede;" seventh, David Laughlin, Glencarlyn, Va., "abominable;" eighth, Agnes Bowers, Greeley, Nebr., "grievances;" ninth, Elizabeth Doton, Pomfret, Vt., "philosophical;" tenth, Marion Heald, Fairhaven, Mass., "ileu;" eleventh, Dorothy E. Everett, New Orleans, "surety;" twelfth, Wilma Snyder, Dania, Fla., "georgette;" thirteenth, Randall Stapels, South Windham, Me., "necessarily."

Fourteenth, Ruth Smith, Green Knoll, N. J., "litigation;" fifteenth, James Vanness, Tipton, Ind., "breach;" sixteenth, Vera Isaacson, Park City, Utah, "pastime;" seventeenth, Francis McCann, Houlton, Me., "decreed;" eighteenth, Virginia Falciola, Hoboken, N. J., "conveyance;" nineteenth, Maynard Palmer, West Salem, Ohio, "saxophone;" twentieth, Angeline DeLisa, Hartford, Conn., "pleasantries;" twenty-first, Lillian Gasko, Mays Landing, N. J., "approaching;" twenty-second, Fannie Mae Schwab, Memphis, Tenn., "primarily;" twenty-third, Ida Cleghorn, Cuba, New York, "occasional," and twenty-fourth, Ruth Fortier, New Britain, Conn., "license."

Prizes in addition to the first included $500 for the second, $250 for the third, $125 for the fourth, $75 for the sixth, $50, seventh; $30 each for the eighth to fourteenth, and $25 each for the fifteenth to twenty-fourth.

$1,300,000 GEM LOOT FOUND IN NEW YORK

unawares at the hotel. The money was believed to have been payment in exchange for the first batch of diamonds recovered.

Police refused to confirm the information that an undercover man had taken the $25,000 to the room. They did report that someone threw a package out of the window and that police found about $20,000 in $1,000 and $500 denominations in the courtyard of the Hotel Commodore.

Group Arraigned in Court.

Commissioner Mulrooney would not definitely say that his men had found the bills near the hotel, but the recovery later of $3,500 by citizens, in the vicinity of the hotel, partially confirmed that supposition.

One man, whose name was withheld, picked up what he thought was a cigar coupon, but its corners proclaimed it to be a $1,000 bill. Not knowing of the missing money, he went to Brooklyn with the bill and turned it over to a Detective Banks, a personal friend. Banks notified headquarters at once.

The group arrested Monday refused to talk at the police line-up today and were subsequently taken to Yorkville Court and arraigned on charges of receiving stolen goods. Magistrate Stern held them without bail for hearing Thursday.

Carlson Jewelry Identified.

The lone woman arrested, Hilda Carter, again refused to tell police where she came from, but finally admitted from somewhere in Rhode Island. The others arraigned were William J. O'Connor, of Buffalo; Jack Rosen, James W. Watson, of Chicago, and George Cole.

Persons who lost jewelry in recent robberies and thefts were notified at headquarters that it would require another day before the stolen goods could be properly classified and checked.

John L. Carson, jr., of Buffalo, whose home was robbed during a dinner party, said he recognized some of the jewelry recovered by police as being his. He picked out several pieces from a photograph shown him by a newspaper reporter.

The first police check-up of the loot recovered from the safe deposit boxes, one of which was listed for a Mrs. Elizabeth Keating, who, police say, is Nelson's wife, revealed 2,496 pieces of jewelry. One of the more valuable pieces was an emerald ring valued at $30,000.

EIGHT U. S. WOMEN RECEIVED BY QUEEN

Miss Howell's gown was of white chiffon, cut upon severe princess lines, embroidered with irridescent beads. It had a train to match with cut scallops which also were embroidered in crystal beads. She carried a rose pink fan. Mrs. Goff wore a white satin charmeuse gown heavily embroidered in diamante, with a train of the same material embroidered in graceful sprays and lined with silver cloth. She carired a bouquet of violets and white orchids.

Miss Bloom's gown was of ivory taffeta embroidered in brilliant silver, cut with a high bodice and a long flared skirt. The court train was of silver tissue, embroidered in the same motifs as the dress. A bandeau of brilliants held her feather headdress and she carired a white feather fan.

Mrs. Carr wore a gown of gold tissue with an overdress of fine gold lace and a matching train. A salmon pink bow at the shoulder and waist and a salmon pink feather fan lent a note of color to her costume.

Queen Mary was attired in a magnificent gown of gold brocade, embroidered in gold and colored stones. She stood before the golden throne, mounted on a scarlet dias under a crimson canopy, graciously bowing and smiling as each woman was presented and made her long-rehearsed curtsy.

The function, which is considered London's outstanding fashion show, gave approval to the new silhouette long skirt, the high waist and feminine lines in general. All the gowns were long, most of them barely clearing the floor. More jewels were worn than in recent seasons, and the prevalence of long hair, elaborately coiffed, gave the scene somewhat of a Victolan air.

As usual, motor cars bearing the befeathered debutantes lined up on the Mall at 6 p. m., two hours before the royal summons came. London's curious thereupon assembled to watch them and the debutantes bore the close scrutiny with good humor, rather pleased than otherwise.

The final royal court for the season will be held tomorrow night. The following six Americans will be presented: Miss Maxine Adams, Rexburg, Idaho; Miss Carolyn Apperson Leech, Louisville; Mrs. Jacob Baur, Chicago; Mrs. Edward Spafford, New York; Mrs. Hoffman Nickerson, Oyster Bay, N. Y.; Mrs. Franklin Terr, New York.

Man Seized by Gravely Held on Gaming Charge

Third Precinct Detective Spottswood F. Gravely, who gained prominence two months ago when he shot a man in the Eighth Precinct, yesterday arrested a man in the Sixth Precinct and locked him up in the First Precinct.

Gravely was walking along F street near Sixth street northwest, when he saw Alfred Blitz, 28 years old, of Spring road near Thirteenth street northwest, enter a house carrying a black bag. Gravely followed him into the house and arrested him. In the house there were adding machines and numbers slips. When Blitz was booked at the First Precinct he was found to be carrying $5,000 in cash on his person. He was charged with setting up a gaming table.

homes were visible and several villages were isolated.

In Grant Parish, William E. Lafoon, 17, was drowned in the overflow from Sandy Bayou while trying to drive cattle out of the flooded area, according to a report by T. K. McKnight, chairman of the Grant Parish Red Cross disaster relief committee.

Farther to the east, Ouachita River is rising. The New Orleans Weather Bureau revised its forecast of its crest at Monroe to from 40.50 to 41 feet by June 5 to 8.

In Mississippi the Pearl River was spreading out of its banks with a stage at Jackson of 31.8 feet against a floor stage of 20 feet. Back water had reached the ball park at the Fair Grounds and was around residences in the lower sections. The crest was expected to be reached at 32 feet.

Miami Officials Freed Of Charges by Capone

Miami, Fla., May 27 (A.P.).—Charges of conspiracy to arrest Al Capone, lodged against Mayor C. H. Reeder, City Commissioner John C. Knight and Public Safety Director S. D McCreary by the Chicago gang leader's attorney, were dismissed by Justice of the Peace Warren L. Newcomb here today.

Hearing on a charge of false arrest preferred by Capone's attorney against McCreary was recessed until tomorrow. Justice Newcomb dismissed the conspiracy charge on the grounds that the warrants were not specific in describing the time or place of conspiracy.

DRYS CLAIM CREDIT IN HOOVER ELECTION

Pickett Tells Lobby Inquiry G. O. P. Organization Was Inefficient.

SPEAKS FOR DR. WILSON

(Associated Press.)

The opinion that the election of President Hoover in 1928 was attributable to activities of churches and temperance organizations and not to the Republican party was expressed before the Senate lobby committee yesterday by Deets Pickett, research secretary of the board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Appearing to deny charges of Representative Tinkham (Republican), Massachusetts, that the board had violated the principle of separation of church an state by political activities, Mr. Pickett asserted it had done nothing not guaranteed by the Bill of Rights of the Constitution.

Mr. Pickett appeared in place of Dr. Clarence True Wilson, general secretary of the board, who is in Detroit to debate Clarence Darrow on prohibition. He told the committee none of the organization's funds had been used in "lobbying."

1928 Campaign Recalled.

Most of the testimony revolved around the presidential candidacy of Alfred E. Smith. Mr. Pickett testified that the board had distributed copies of Mr. Smith's record on prohibition for information of the public. He insisted prohibition was a "moral" issue and not political.

His opinon on the 1928 election was expressed after Senator Blaine (Republican), Wisconsin, had read an article written by him which appeared in The Voice, one of the board's publications in November, 1928.

The article said in part:

"The bald truth is that the inefficiency of the Republican organization in this campaign was startling. Except for the counsel of Senator Curtis (now Vice President), the Republican management was lacking in advice of astute and experienced political leaders.

"The fight was won, not by the Republican party, but by the churches, the W. C. T. U., the Antisaloon League and other temperance organizations."

Organizations Given Credit.

After he had finished reading, Mr. Blaine asked:

"And you take credit, that is, your organization, among other organizations, for the election of Mr. Hoover instead of that credit going to the Republican organization?"

"What you have read," Mr. Pickett replied, "is my opinion."

Mr. Blaine asked the witness if he contended that activities of the board "were not intended for the purpose of influencing votes in behalf of Mr. Hoover."

"They were intended," Pickett said, "to make clear Mr. Smith's attitude on prohibition, let the effect be what it may. We hew to the line, let the chips fall where they will. If it did have a bad effect on Mr. Smith he was responsible for it himself by dragging in a nonpolitical issue into a campaign."

Hoover Also Quoted.

The article also quoted Mr. Hoover as saying in a conversation before his election that he did not expect to carry any Southern States.

The article added:

"It is not rash to say that if the Republican leaders had shown sufficient faith, if they had really interested themselves in supporting the fight being made against Mr. Smith in the Southern States instead of leaving it to struggle along, Mr. Hoover might have carried every State in that part of the Union."

Mr. Pickett presented the committee with a prepared statement denying Mr. Tinkham's charges, which was ordered placed in the record after permission first had been refused.

Radio Board Injunction Asked by Broadcaster

Don Lee, Incorporated, owner of Radio Station KHJ, Los Angeles, yesterday asked the District of Columbia Supreme Court perpetually to enjoin the Federal Radio Commission from changing the frequency assignment of his station without proper notice and hearing, from assigning any other radio station to the frequency used by KHJ, and for other relief.

Lee also wants the court to declare invalid a letter sent to Radio Station KGA, of Spokane, Wash., by the commission attempting to authorize the operation of the latter station simultaneously with Station KHJ on 900 kilocycles with 1,000 wats power. Lee charges that if the Spokane station is permitted to operate on the Los Angeles station's frequency and wave length such a condition of heterodyning and interference will be caused that the service now being rendered to a large listening public by his station will be destroyed. Attorneys Littlepage & Littlepage appear for the petitioner.

Hotel Man Seeks Bankruptcy.

William A. Berkeley, of 1858 Ingleside Terrace, who designated himself as a hotel clerk formerly trading as the New Winston Hotel, yesterday filed a petition, in voluntary bankruptcy in District Supreme Court. Liabilities of $125,845.93 are listed against $55 assets. Attorney J. Ridley Shields appears for the petitioner.

HOOVER SIGNS BILLS AS AID TO DRY LAWS

Federal Attorneys Are Told to Intensively Prosecute Rum Violators.

TO MAKE JAIL REFORMS

(Associated Press.)

President Hoover affixed his signature to measures designed to improve law enforcement yesterday and thereby signaled to the Justice Department for an intensive effort to enforce the prohibition laws.

One of the measures gave to that department the full responsibility, after July 1, for detecting and dealing with violators of the dry laws. The others provide for an expansion of the prison system.

Immediately after the Chief Executive signed the measures it became known from Attorney General Mitchell that district attorneys have been summoned to Washington to discuss improving the coordinated work of detection and prosecution. Mr Mitchell also said special agents had visited prosecutors throughout the country to urge intensive prosecution of prohibition violators.

Under the transfer only the industrial alcohol division will remain under the Treasury, and it must have the consent of the Attorney General in issuing permits.

Doran to Head Divisions.

The enforcement dvision will be headed by a director not yet selected and Prohibition Commissioner Doran is expected to remain at the Treasury to direct the industrial alcohol division.

The change will transfer about 2,000 employes of the Treasury Department and is expected to bring about a reduction in the number of prohibition administrative districts as well as a reorganization of administrative forces.

Mr. Mitchell said committees of both the Justice Department and the Treasury had been revising enforcement regulations, but that none of the plans had been finally decided upon.

The bills providing for prison reform include all of Mr. Mitchell's plans for reorganization of the Federal prison system. They call for $7,000,000 to be spent over a six-year-period. In building two new Federal prisons, two reformatories and an indefinite number of Federal jails for short-term prisoners.

The Attorney General said, however, the Federal prison for the Northeast, to be located in the vicinity of Erie, Pa., will be the only one to be started until next year.

Prison to Cost $1,700,000.

The presidential recommendation for $1,700,000 with which to acquire a site and commence construction on this penitentiary was sent to Congress late yesterday. With it went a request for $800,000 to acquire sites and begin work on two Federal jails and an additional $200,000 for repairs to other buildings to be used in housing prisoners.

The bills also provide for a system of schools within the prisons and for the Public Health Service to take over the care of the health of the inmates.

They provide for a hospital for defective delinquents and for the formation of a definite parole system under a new parole board.

To carry out these phases of the program the President recommended that Congress provide $175,000 for 54 salaried probation officers to be appointed in the judicial districts where judges have indicated a desire to begin probation work. The President also requested $500,000 for the establishment of industrial enterprises at all Federal penal and correctional institutions not now having them.

REFERENDUM ON RUM APPROVED BY JONES

the courage to uphold their conscientious convictions by advocating the course prescribed by the fundamental law to correct what they believe to be unwise and wrong."

Jones' statement declared that prohibition "is not a partisan question," and "should not be made one, until this absolutely appears necessary and there becomes a definite division between prohibitionists and antiprohibitionists, regardless of old political partisan lines."

Asserting that "those apparently in control of the convention did not seem to have the courage to follow the course laid out by the people," Jones said that his own State had provided a referendum system, and that "the proper and courageous thing to do," would be to submit prohibition in this manner.

"Give the people the chance to express themselves on a provision looking toward legalizing the sale of liquor," the statement asserted, "and I have no doubt of the results."

Fort Meade Plans Field Mass.

A solemn military field mass will be celebrated at Fort Meade, Md., on Memorial Day, May 30. Father Anthony Braun, O. F. M., of Quincy, Ill., will be the celebrant, assisted by Father Norbert Miller, O. M., Cap., of Washington, and Father Christopher Weldon, of New York City, assisting. The mass will be sung by the Dominican Choir of the Catholic University.

Court Rules "Ginger Jake" Comes Under Volstead Law

New York Jurist Upholds Seizure of Shipments of Extract Which Caused Wave of Paralysis and Death Throughout South.

New York, May 27 (N.Y.W.N.S.).—Fluid extract of ginger, called "ginger jake," believed to be responsible for hundreds of paralysis cases throughout the South in the last few weeks, was declared an intoxicating liquor within the meaning of the Volstead law in a decision today by Federal Judge Francis G. Caffey.

The decision, termed "A signal victory" by Assistant United States Attorney Arthur H. Schwartz, was rendered in the case of the Government against Nomel Products Co., of this city. On January 2, Federal agents seized samples of several shipments of ginger extract consigned by the company to points in the South, while in transit in the American Railway Express offices, and raids on the company's plant followed.

The case came before Judge Caffey on a motion of John M. Cashin, defense attorney, to quash the search warrant on the ground that the fluid extract of ginger was neither fit for use as a beverage nor designed for the manufacture of intoxicating liquor.

The court held that the ease with which the ginger could be made drinkable fell within a liberal interpretaiton of th use of the word "fit" as applied to the possibility of consumption in the law. The ginger extract was found to contain 81 percent alcohol.

Federal Commissioner Epstein, in Brooklyn, today reserved decision, which will be rendered June 16, in proceedings for the removal of Walter E. Anderson of Brooklyn; Forest E. James, of Queens and Philip Lahn to Covington, Ky., for trial. They are charged there with conspiracy to violate the Volstead Act through the distribution of "Ginger Jake."

Prohibition agents Delmore, Splane, O'Brien and Bafakos testified that they investigated the distribution of the mixture and ascertained that James was president of the Fulton Chemical Co. and that Anderson had an office in Brooklyn, operating under the trade name of the Fulton Co.

THOUSANDS IN GRAFT LAID TO DRY AGENTS

Administrator and Two Aids Suspended in Inquiry on West Coast.

FOUR HELD, ONE SOUGHT

Seattle, Wash., May 27 (A.P.).—Accused in grand jury indictments of having conspired with rumrunners, moonshiners and bootleggers to violate prohibition, revenue and tariff laws and of having accepted huge bribes, Prohibition Administrator Roy C. Lyle, his chief assistant, William M. Whitney, and three others became defendants instead of prosecutors here today.

Lyle, Whitney and Earl Corwin, the latter a dry agent, were ordered suspended from office pending their trial, which can not be held before the November term of Federal court. The two others named in the indictment are C. T. McKinney, former assistant United States attorney, and R. L. Fryant, a deputy sheriff and former dry agent.

All but McKinney have been arrested and released on personal recognizance or bond. McKinney left his hotel May 20 and his whereabouts are unknown to authorities.

Listing many overt acts, the indictments brought by a grand jury yesterday, after eleven days of investigation, alleged the dry officials "knowingly, willfully, unlawfully and feloniously, did combine, conspire, confederate and agree together and with each other to permit the importation and sale of liquor."

Asserting a conspiracy between the Federal officials and liquor violators existed from 1923 to February 1, 1929, the indictments charged that Lyle and his associates "asked and accepted and received moneys and gratuities with the intent to have their decisions and actions corruptly influenced * * *."

Alleged bribes listed by the indictments range from a few hundred to thousands of dollars. Alfred M. Hubbard, former prohibition agent and confessed go-between; Corwin, Lyle and Whitney were named as recipients of the bribes.

A separate indictment charges Whitney with perjury in connection with the trial of Sylvester A. Moore, former prohibition agent, and Dr. George W. McCrary on liquor charges. Both were acquitted.

Maurice Smith, an assistant administrator, was named to succeed Lyle pending his trials.

Beauty Parlor Faces $15,000 Damage Suit

Charging that her scalp was burned and her hair was singed while she was being given a permanent wave, Grace Murphy, 19 years old, through her mother, Mrs. Mary E. Wise, of 212 Fourth street northeast, filed suit yesterday in District Supreme Court against the Dorothy Shoppes, Inc., of the Earl Building, seeking to recover $15,000 damages.

The girl was receiving the beauty treatment on October 7, last, according to her petition. She alleges negligence on the part of the beauty parlor operative. Attorneys Goldie Paragol and Milton F. Barrett appear for the plaintiff.

Jury Trial Asked In Tong Rum Raid

Charges of Sale Dropped and Only Possesion Count Remains.

Charlie Lee, 54-year-old Chinese, who was arrested Monday night by police in a raid on the Hip Sing Tong headquarters, at 325 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, pleaded not guilty and demanded a trial by jury yesterday when arraigned in Police Court on a charge of possessing 207 quarts of colored liquor.

Charges of sale of liquor, booked against the Chinese by the police, were dropped by Assistant United States Attorney David A Hart. The raid, which was made at 10:30 o'clock Friday night by Sergt. O. J. Letterman and his roving vice squad, was made on a search warrant sworn to by Marilyn Benjamin, special employe, who said she had purchased four drinks of whisky from Lee at the address. The sale charges booked by the police were made on this information.

Letterman and his squad reported that fifteen Chinece in the establishment were unperturbed by their entrance. Lee finally admitted, Letterman's report set out, that he was in charge of the establishment.

APPROPRIATE FUNERAL DESIGNS

BIDS FOR $2,000,000 ROAD JOBS OPENED

Capital Will Award Eight Contracts as Soon as Bill Is Enacted.

WILL FIX 150 STREETS

Eight contracts for the improvement of approximately 150 streets throughout the city for distances varying from one to ten blocks long will be awarded by the District Highway Department immediately after the District appropriation bill now pending in Congress is finally enacted.

Bids for the work which will cost approximately $2,000,000 were asked for by Capt. Herbert C. Whitehurst, chief engineer of the highway department yesterday, so that all preliminaries could be done and contracts awarded and the work begun as soon as it will be legally proper to do so.

Will Give 400 Men Work.

This pushing of the work ahead is in line with previous actions by Capt. Whitehurst in making possible employment opportunities as quickly as feasible. Most of the men who will be engaged on the street paving work will be on the pay rolls of the contractors. The new contracts probably will give jobs to 400 men.

The contracts, which will be let on passage of the appropriation bill, will cover all of the work to be done during the summer season; the remainder which is provided for in the appropriation bill will be done next spring. The streets selected for immediate improvement are those which do not need underground improvements such as water, sewer, gas or other mains.

The highway department's estimates for 1932, now under study by the District Commissioners, call for $4,773,076, of which $1,800,000 is to be furnished by the gasoline tax and approximately $3,000,000 will come out of the general revenues of the District.

$3,175,000 Total for Repairs.

The proposed 1932 budget calls for $3,175,000 for street repairs. This is $1,475,000 more than the gasoline tax will yield and is an increase of $300,000 over the sum in the 1931 appropriation bill pending in Congress. This $300,000 increase is made necessary, it was explained, by the need for replacing with heavier bases roadways which have become worn, but which in the past have been merely resurfaced with asphalt. Heavier traffic of the present day, it was said, make the method of putting an asphalt covering over worn concrete or other roads unsatisfactory.

Provision is made for widening B street northwest from Fourteenth to Seventeenth streets to 80 feet. This is a part of the Arlington Bridge development and highway officials suggested that the Federal Government should pay 40 per cent of the estimated cost of $168,500.

An appropriation of $250,000 also is asked in the estimates to provide for beginning work on a new Calvert street bridge to cost approximately $1,000,000 when completed.

HOUSEWIVES WORK 62 HOURS WEEKLY

having enough work to do in the house."

Miss Kneeland sent out scientific time schedules to be kept most meticulously by the married graduates of six of the leading women's colleges She limited her study to women living in cities of more than 50,000, where bridge benefits flourish and matinees lure.

She asked them to make an accurate record of how they spent every minute of each day's time, from midnight to midnight, for a "typical week." She told them not to pick the week when they did the spring cleaning. She stressed the necessity for specific answers.

For instance, she instructed them not to lump off an afternoon's leisure as "went to movie," but to state the time spent "going to movie," "at movie," and "returning home."

She insisted on the housewife's accounting for the time she used for other people such as "fitted dress for neighbor," "made cakes for church benefit," and also for all the work others did for her, as when a husband washes the dishes.

Neat and comprehensive replies, such as young women learn to compose in college classes, accounting for the "domestic day" down to a split second, are now arriving at Miss Kneeland's office.

Returns Higher Than Expected.

Eight per cent of the alumni of the first college carried the experiment through to completion. This was a higher percentage than had been expected.

"It is so much harder for people to keep account of the time they spend," explained Miss Kneeland. "They spend their money in larger units, and not so constantly."

In her various studies Miss Kneeland has discovered the time pattern of the home worker "amazingly uniform."

"Home making is home making, so far as the average use of time in concerned, in East, South, Middle, or West, in country, village, or city," she said.

Extinction Eventually Seen.

Except, of course, for the "lady of leisure," who may be lurking somewhere in the time-schedules now coming to her desk.

Miss Kneeland predicted that with increasing use of ready-cooked food, ready-made clothing, ready-washed laundry, even "ready-trained children," the occupation of housewife may eventually be "as extinct as the dodo."

"But we appear to have overestimated the speed at which the transformation is taking place," she said. "At the present time some 26,000,000 hale and hearty fellowers of the trade might rise up and announce, in the words of Mark Twain, 'The reports of my death have been greatly exaggerated.'"

Mrs. Taft to Seek Solace Abroad, Sailing Tomorrow

Former President's Widow Follows in Footsteps of Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Roosevelt in Entering Upon Foreign Travel; Sutherlands on Same Liner.

New York, May 27 (A.P.). — Mrs. William Howard Taft will sail for Naples Thursday, the third President's widow in ten years to seek solace and diversion in foreign travel

Embarking for Italy to spend the summer, she will follow in the steps of Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, both almost constant world travelers since the passing of their husbands.

Mrs. Roosevelt has made several trips to Europe, particularly to the grave of her son, Quentin, in France. At the time of the Japanese earthquake in 1924 she was in Tokyo, where her calm in the midst of the disaster was commented upon.

After returning from the Orient she visited Cuba and Yucatan, studying the mythology of the ancient Mayas, and in 1927 she plunged into the interior of Brazil, scene of one of her husband's voyages of exploration. Thence she went into the Argentine and Uruguay. The next year she traveled through Panama and Central America. This year she visited her son Theodore, Governor of Porto Rico, and then made an airplane tour of Haiti.

Mrs. Wilson has made visits to Queen Marie at the Roumanian court, toured Scotland, England, Austria and France, and often has attended the League of Nations assembly at Geneva —a custom said to have been prompted by a promise to the war-time President that she would visit each annual meeting of the league.

On a recent visit to China and Japan she became so interested in the Chinese drama that she became one of the sponsors for the visit to New York last winter of Mei Lan Fang, Chinese actor, and his company.

Mrs. Taft will be accompanied to Italy by her sister, Miss Maria Herron, and in her party on the liner Saturnia will be Supreme Court Justice and Mrs. George Sutherland and Representative and Mrs. James M. Beck, of Pennsylvania. The Sutherlands and the Becks probably will not remain abroad for the three to four months Mrs. Taft plans to spend in Europe.

PRATT ALTERS 5-3 JAPANESE NAVAL RATIO; PACT RAPPED

he added. "If we do not get necessary materials, like rubber, nitrate, manganese and numerous other articles, the country must succumb."

Senator Hiram Johnson at this point surprised his colleagues by reading a statement warning the country against being maneuvered by foreign diplomats into giving up the 5-to-3 ratio with Japan, as follows:

"We must insist upon maintenance of the ratio established regardless of whatever pleas may be made by any country that its particular interests reqire special consideration.

Reversal of Position.

"This was one of the great points gained at the last conference. We sacrificed our projected battleship strength to get it. We gave up our position as a coming leading naval power to establish it, and, having made the sacrifice, we should insist that it be maintained by the powers party to the treaty which established it.

"Therefore, we can not and will not, I take it, yield the position we fought to gain. We have no right now to put the United States in a position of inferiority. The generations that come after us, if they be good Americans, will not thank us for having done it."

The author of this warning, Mr. Johnson announced, is Admiral William V. Pratt, the only ranking officer of the Navy who now indorses the surrender of the 5-3 ratio to Japan and the only admiral who has appeared before the committee to oppose the virtually unanimous verdict of the Navy against the 8-inch gun. The Pratt warning was in 1925.

Admiral Taylor Testifies.

The admiral, who was with the American delegation at London as naval adviser and is to be made chief of naval operations in reward of his service to Secretary Stimson and the delegates, says that he has changed his mind.

Admiral M. M. Taylor, director of naval war plans and former director of fleet training, told the committee that the 8-inch-gun cruiser is essential to national safety and defense. He regards the London treaty provisions respecting cruisers and the 5-3 surrender to Japan as "extremely disadvantageous to the United States." It would make America's ability to defend herself against Japan "very problematical" he added, in response to questions.

Capt. T. K. Taussig, commanding the battleship Maryland and former cheif of staff at the Naval War College, said the 8-inch-gun sruiser is far superior and declared that the surrender of the 5-3 ratio to Japan would make our chances of victory "very slim."

U. S. Ships Modernized.

Chief Constructor George H. Rock, of the Navy, testified that modernization of American battleships has been going on for years. It will cost $118,000,000, the price of three new Rodneys. At an early session of the committee, Secretary Stimson testified that one of the points gained by the American delegation at London was permission from Great Brtain to modernize battleships. This permission was accepted in place of the right to match the British Rodney. Senator Johnson and others are somewhat puzzled to understand why it was necessary to obtain this permission if the United States has been modernizing battleships for years.

Modernization of the battleships Florida, Utah and Wyoming has cost the American taxpayers $19,710,000, Chief Constructor Rock testified. These ships are to be scrapped by the London treaty.

Admiral H. A. Wiley, retired, who was Admiral Pratt's predecessor in command of the battleship fleet, testified that there is no comparison between the 8-inch-gun cruiser and the 6-inch-gun cruiser.

"Why, senator, it's about the same as a rifle compared to a revolver. That may be a little exaggeration but that's about it under conditions we would meet at sea."

Inferiority Is Alleged.

The 6-inch gun, suitable to the British because of her naval bases and large merchant tonnage which can mount 6-inch guns, has been forced upon the United States by the London treaty, the admiral said.

"It's inferior in every way and we don't want it," Admiral Wiley continued.

Asked about surrender of the 5-3 ratio to Japan, the admiral said:

"I think this last concession is wicked. We'd have to go out of business bye and bye. Too many conferences."

Admiral Ridley McLean, budget officer of the Navy and former commander of the fleet submarine force, testified before the naval affairs committee. He supported the general board and the other officers who have, almost without exception, condemned the controlling features of the treaty.

Three Killed as Plane Crashes in Oklahoma

Tulsa, Okla., May 27 (A.P.).—Crashing as the pilot was landing on the lighted Garland Airport, an airplane carrying Miss Ursa Ball, 28, of Tulsa, and Robert Hammond, 21, and George S. Busboom, both of Carthage, Mo., fell 50 feet here last night and burned, killing the trio.

Bodies of the victims were seared beyond recognition. A half hour was required to extricate them from the smouldering wreckage. Friends of the three persons who had accompanied them to the field for the night flight witnessed the accident.

WOMAN REINDICTED IN $100,000 SWINDLE

Spinster Faces Charges of Defrauding Persons in Several States.

JURY HOLDS 28 OTHERS

Elzina Howells, middle-aged spinster, who is alleged to have defrauded a dozen persons in several States and the District out of more than $100,000 on promises to invest their money at a profit, was reindicted yesterday by the District of Columbia grand jury on charges of embezzlement and larceny after trust of approximately $5,000 from Irene Biggs and Lillian Girard.

A previous indictment now pending against the woman involving the same two alleged victims will be dropped, it was understood. The Howells woman is now at liberty on her personal bond, Justice Peyton Gordon having granted her freedom on her own recognizance several months ago after she had been unable to make a $25,000 bond and had languished in jail for months.

The Howells woman is alleged to have told her reputed victims that she had influential friends on Wall Street and had inside information about the stock market. She also is said to have sent most of her alleged victims to Europe, where they were stranded.

Tessie Richards, who is now serving a 90-day sentence on a liquor charge, was indicted by the grand jury on a charge of third-offense possession as the result of alleged seizures of contraband at her home on Thirteenth street northwest near C street last January 22.

James Parker, of I street northwest near Twenty-fifth street, also was indicted on a liquor charge. A large quantity of liquor which he is alleged to have possessed was seized last January 22 at a house on H street northwest near Twenty-fourth street, according to the indictment.

A total of 29 indictments were returned by the grand jury, while charges against seven persons were ignored.

Those against whom charges were ignored are: Thomas A. Newman, housebreaking; Willie Jetton, assault with a dangerous weapon; Freddie Day, assault with a dangerous weapon; Francis Hazen, alias E. R. Richardson, Harrison narcotic act; Louise Lee, national prohibition act; Alice Thorn, national prohibition act, and Mae M. Spriggs, receiving stolen property.

Divorce Is Denied Federal Official

Wife Gets Custody of Her Seven Children as Court Refuses Decrees.

Mrs. Helen C. McHale, of Mount Pleasant street northwest near Irving street, and her husband, Vincent R. McHale, chief examiner of the Federal Farm Loan Board, who sued each other for limited divorce, were denied decrees yesterday by Justice Jennings Bailey in District Supreme Court. The mother was awarded custody of the children and alimony of $375 per month, but the husband was given permission to visit the children each Sunday.

Sensational charges were contained in the wife's bill and the husband's cross-bill. Mrs. McHale charged the husband with accusing her of being illiterate, uneducated and unrefined. McHale denied mistreating her. He declared that his wife's alleged nagging constituted cruelty and made their life together impossible. The McHales were married December 27, 1916, and have seven children.

Mrs. McHale also charged that her husband had had her placed in St. Elizabeths Hospital for mental observation, and her suit for $50,000 against Dr. D. Percy Hickling, District alienist, a result of that experience, is still pending in the court. Mrs. McHale was found sane by a jury several weeks after she had been sent to the institution.

Woman Cites Desertion In Asking for Divorce

Charging that her husband has deserted her and taken with him their daughter, one of two children, and is endeavoring to teach the girl to be disrespectful to her, Mrs. Margaret E Quinn, of Alabama avenue southeast, near Stanton road, filed suit yesterday in District Supreme Court against John R. Quinn, of Potomac avenue southeast, near Fourteenth street, seeking a limited divorce, custody of the children and alimony.

The couple was married September 2, 1919, at Baltimore, Md., according to the wife's petition, which is filed through Attorney D. Edward Clarke. The wife charges that although her husband makes $65 a week as a plasterer he has failed and refused to contribute anything to the support of her or their younger child for the past two weeks, the time during which the husband and the elder child allegedly have been absent from the family home.

Neuritis

There is no pain like Neuritis, nothing quite so torturing, so utterly unbearable. It robs life of all joy and makes people desperate. But Neuritis is not hopeless—it responds to proper treatment, just the same as other diseases. A well-known physician has written. "Have been drinking Mountain Valley Water for six weeks and am glad to say I am feeling better than I have for two years." Mountain Valley Mineral Water, for 75 years the prescribed water at Hot Springs, Arkansas, tends to neutralize the acids which are irritating the nerves and retards the further accumulation of these acids by aiding healthy, normal elimination through the kidneys. U. S. AGENTS RUSHED TO GUARD HORSEMAN

Illinois Banker Pleads to Senators After Getting Threat of Death.

$45,000 IS DEMANDED

Chicago, May 27 (A.P.).—Information was received here tonight that special agents of the Department of Justice have been detailed to guard W. J. Reichert, Belleville, Ill., banker and racé horse owner, from whom extortionists have demanded $45,000 under threat of death.

Private detectives are now guarding Reichert, who earlier today wired to United States Senators Otis F. Glenn and Charles S. Deneen, asking protection. This afternoon a reply came from Senator Glenn, saying he had visited the Department of Justice and that orders for the guards had been issued.

Reichert's request, he said, followed his learning from a friend that a former resident of Freeburg, Ill., the banker's home, had suggested taking Reichert "for a ride." The man who suggested the abduction now lives in St. Louis, Reichert said. Threats were also made, Reichert said, against his son, William G. Reichert, who, with his brother, Elmer, is now here managing the Reichert entries in the Washington Park racing season.

Police learned from southern Illinois authorities that the men who threatened Reichert are believed to be the same who, ten days previously, demanded an aggregate of $2,000,000 from gamblers and bookmakers in the district.

Your Life Insurance Dollars—

Where Will They Go?

The proceeds of life insurance paid in cash are often subjected to unnecessary shrinkage because of inexperience on the part of beneficiaries in handling large sums of money. In such instances the real purpose of the insured has been defeated.

The creation of a Life Insurance Trust is a simple yet satisfactory solution for the problem of keeping the proceeds intact for the greatest benefits.

It places the funds in the care of a trust company, as trustee, to be administered and distributed among the beneficiaries according to the wishes of the insured.

For more than forty years the American Security and Trust Company has satisfactorily administered estates. The officers of the Trust Department will be glad to explain to you in detail the advantages of the Life Insurance Trust.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB CONVENTION TO OPEN

Election of Officers Set for Federation's First Business Session.

CAPITAL GROUP IS HOST

Opening of the second annual convention of the Capital District Federation of Cosmopolitan Clubs takes place this morning at the Carlton Hotel, with Cosmopolitans and their wives from Richmond, Baltimore, Norfolk and Newport News in attendance. Registration will be at the Carlton Hotel, which is headquarters for the meeting. Fred J. Rice, of Washington, governor of the District, will preside at the business sessions.

Election of officers will be a feature of today's gathering, together with the selection of a meeting place for next year. The Washington Cosmopolitan Club is acting as host, and a complete program has been worked out by a special committee headed by Paul F. Brandstedt. Registration of visitors is in charge of a committee headed by Gordon Bonnette.

Visiting women will be guests of the wives of the local Cosmopolitans on a sightseeing trip over the city this afternoon and tonight the banquet and dance of the clubs will be held at the Congressional Country Club.

James McKee, in charge of entertainment for the evening, has devised "an hour in radio land," with Miss Hazel Arth, 1928 winner of the Atwater Kent contest, as the principal star. Other well-known radio artists will be present. George O'Connor and Matt Horne are on the program and McWilliams' Orchestra will feature "twin pianists."

Wilmot Lewis, Washington correspondent for the London Times, and Representative William P. Connery, of Massachusetts, will speak at the banquet.

William L. King, chairman of the golf committee, has arranged a tournament at the Indian Springs Club for tomorrow, starting at 8 o'clock in the morning, for which the Washington Cosmopolitan Club cup will be awarded. Presentation of the cup to the winner will take place at the regular weekly luncheon of the Washington Club at the Carlton tomorrow, at which the wives of the visiting and local Cosmopolitans will be guests of honor.

The visiting feminine guests will go on a trip to Mount Vernon tomorrow morning. Tomorrow's luncheon will conclude the convention.

Zepp Slew Self, Is Jury's Verdict

Milkman Tells of Seeing Salesman Hold Gun and Pull Trigger.

A verdict of suicide was rendered yesterday in the case of Isvin W. Zepp, 25 years old, of Biltmore street near Eighteenth street northwest, who died instantly from a bullet wound early Sunday morning. Because of conflicting stories of witnesses, it had been decided to have a coroner's jury sit in the case.

Albert Sawyer, a milk-wagon driver, was one of the chief witnesses. He said he saw Zepp hold a pistol against his right shoulder and pull the trigger. He said that Cyril B. Smith, a close friend of the dead man, was about 12 feet away.

Mr. Smith and Mrs. Zepp were other witnesses. The wife said earlier that Smith had wrestled with Zepp, trying to get the gun away from him, before the fatal shot was fired. Zepp shot himself in front of an apartment house at 1150 Connecticut avenue as he was returning with his wife and Smith from a dance at the Argyle Country Club.

4 CITIES IN BURMA AND INDIA TORN BY BLOODY OUTBREAKS

tained in hospitals, as well as probably many more outside them.

Bombay itself was quiet tonight, but still tense. Rioting was renewed in the Mohammedan quarter around Bhendi bazaar this morning, and the shock of yesterday's tragic events still broods over the city. Four persons were dead and 53 badly injured.

Reaction to Gandhi Drive.

The important feature of these disorders is the fact that they have no direct connection with Mahatma Gandhi's campaign.

In both Rangoon and Dacca, they have been purely racial in origin and conducted without any reference to salt, foreign cloth or any of the other objectives of the nonviolent civil resistance plans.

That an indirect connection, however, exists between the riots and the Nationalist campaign is considered undeniable by experienced British observers, if only from the fact that the difficulties caused the authorities by the activities of the volunteers give scope and pretext to all the forces of disorder.

Woman Notable Sentenced.

Reports of minor incidents throughout India flooded into Bombay insuch out India flooded into Bombay in such numbers that it was impossible to re-

Among those worthy of note was the arrest at Delhi of Miss Satya Vaty, granddaughter of the late Swami Shradhanand, an influential Satyagraha leader. Miss Vaty refused to give security for good behavior and was sentenced to six months of simple imprisonment.

Pandit Malaviya attempted to force an entrance into Peshawar, the turbulent city of the northwest frontier province, but was stopped by police. He was not arrested and went to Campbellpore, where he held a Nationalist consultation.

London, May 27 (A.P.).—The Daily Mail's correspondent at Rangoon, Burma, reported today that fifteen Indian coolie women had been massacred by fighting coolie mobs during the rioting that has taken such a heavy toll of life.

Some of the women were said to have been tortured before being killed.

Duncan Dips Salt Water In New York for Gandhi

New York, May 27 (A.P.).—Amid cheers and jeers of a huge noonday crowd, Raymond Duncan, brother of the late Isadora Duncan, the dancer, dipped up a bucket of sea water at the Battery today to make salt for Mahatma Gandhi.

Duncan, who will take the salt to Gandhi when he sail for Paris next week, said his act was a gesture of love to the Indian leader from his American sympathizers.

"We send him our love and sympathy and remind him that we once had a tea party at Boston," he said.

Attired in a long chlamys with its folds draped around his shoulders and a silken fillet around his flowing locks, Duncan, an exponent of Grecian attire and a believer in the simple life, led a parade of 20 followers in the ceremony.

A squad of police held back the crowd that gathered at the Battery.

REAL ESTATE INVOLVED

Claiming that because of alleged breach of contract on the part of Edward B. Dean, sr., of 1954 Columbia road northwest, it has suffered loss in the sum of $139,225, the Club Building Co., a Delaware corporation, with offices in the Southern Building, filed suit yesterday in District Supreme Court against Mr. Dean seeking to recover that amount.

Through Attorney Milton W. King, the plaintiff tells the court that on November 2, 1929, it was the owner of improved real estate at 2625 Fourteenth street northwest, subject to a deed of trust of $28,200 securing notes held by Mr. Dean. On that date, it is alleged, the plaintiff and defendent made an agreement whereby the latter was to receive secured notes totaling $58,800 in return for which he was to release the existing first trust of $28,200 and on May 15 was to pay to the plaintiff $30,000 in full payment of the $58,800 deed of trust, provision being made that on that date the building was to be completed in accordance with specifications.

Another provision for the increase in the trust from $28,200 to $58,800 was that the District Title Insurance Co. would issue its certificate that the deed of trust notes were properly secured by a first deed of trust, the suit sets out. Mr. Dean, however, it is charged, prevented the Title Insurance Co. from issuing its certificate by refusing to release the $28,200 trust, refused to pay the $30,000 promised on May 15 and prevented the building from being completed by foreclosing on the $28,200 trust.

The bill of particulars setting out the $139,225 claim is based on actual value of the property at the time of the foreclosure, the difference between that value and the estimated worth if the structure had been completed, the amount due collateral holders of existing second trust and bonds, balance due on work performed and destroyed by the sale, outstanding corporate certificates of indebtedness and preferred stock outstanding destroyed by the sale.

Girl Hurt in Fall From Horse.

Thrown from her horse while riding on the bridle path in Rock Creek Park near the P Street Bridge yesterday, Miss Peggy Schueppe, 17 years old, of 1820 Clydesdale place northwest, was treated for scratches on the neck and right knee at Emergency Hospital, where she was taken by a passing motorist.

Searchers Locate Third River Victim

Last of Trio Who Drowned When Motorboat Sank Taken From Water.

Searchers early yesterday afternoon retrieved from the lower Potomac River off Colonial Beach, Va., the body of Capt. Arthur Fenwick, Maryland State oyster inspector, who drowned with two other companions not far distant from Cobb Island, Md., when their small motorboat capsized in a strong gale Saturday afternoon.

The finding of this body accounted for the four persons on the small boat. The bodies of Richard Klimkiewicz, 17 years old, and Owen D. Whitcomb, 33 years old, of 132 Twelfth street northeast, were found yesterday near the same spot after a report of the tragedy made Sunday night by the only survivor, Francis D. Klimkiewicz, 52 years old, also of the Twelfth street address, father of the youth of the same name and father-in-law of Whitcomb.

Services for the Klimkiewicz youth will be held at 8:30 o'clock today in the Holy Comforter Church, where solemn high mass of requiem will be sung. Burial will be in St. Mary's Church Cemetery, Bryantown, Md.

Former Capital Lawyer Is Cleared of Charges

Leroy B. Delaney, a former Washington attorney, who has been practicing in France, has been cleared of a charge brought by Mrs. S. Barton French, of Paris and New York, of misappropriating part of a sum of $38,000, according to an Associated Press report from Ni

Mr. Delaney was first sentenced by default, but returned from the United States to face the charge. After being held in custody for three months and later being released on heavy bail, he was acquitted upon reexamination.

Gas Kills Woman; Mate Overcome

Dress, Hanging on Handle of Gas Fixture in Room Blamed for Tragedy.

The body of Mrs. Jennie Barber, 73 years old, of 237 Twelfth street northeast, was found early yesterday morning in a gas-filled room in her home. Her husband, William D. Barber, 72 years old, of the same address, is in a serious condition at Casualty Hospital suffering from gas poisoning.

They were found by a daughter, Mrs. Julia Collins, when she tried to awaken them. The fire rescue squad and doctors from Casualty Hospital tried for 30 minutes to revive Mrs. Barber.

It is thought that the weight of a dress, hanging from the handle of a stopcock on a gas jet, turned on the gas. Mrs. Barber apparently had awakened and attempted to escape, for her body was found near the door, with her hand outstretched toward it.

THE FLEXIBLE PROVISION.

The conference committee's proposal to confer upon the Tariff Commission the power to readjust specific rates, within a 50 per cent limit, in the event the President should not act upon the commission's recommendation within 60 days, was held yesterday by Vice President Curtis to be subject to the point of order raised by Senator Barkley. The conference committee seems to have exceeded its authority when it inserted that clause, which in effect would confer upon the Tariff Commission the power to fix tariff rates within certain limits.

Presumably the conference committee will strike out the clause in question and report the remainder of the flexible provision without change. This would relieve the President of the necessity of approving or rejecting a Tariff Commission report within a specified time, and in the event he should not approve its recommendation, rates would not be changed. Thus the probable effect of Senator Barkley's point of order will be to lodge the limited revisory power solely in the President.

The question that has been raised does not go to the heart of the flexible provision. It will remain a vital part of the tariff bill. Under this provision a practical method is set up for making minor adjustments to meet changing conditions, always in obedience to the will of Congress. At the instance of either branch of Congress or the President, or of any interest affected, or on its own initiative, the Tariff Commission may ascertain the facts upon which the President can make adjustments which will harmonize specific duties with the principle that seeks to protect American agriculture, labor and industry against cheaper foreign cost of production.

This is an objective long sought, particularly by the Progressives. For years they have laid stress upon the argument that the tariff is made by politics, through logrolling methods, without regard to facts. Their cry has been, "Take the tariff out of politics by enabling the Tariff Commission to ascertain the actual facts upon which just rates may be based." Although it is impossible to turn over tariff legislation to a commission, thus "taking the tariff out of politics," it is possible to take politics out of the tariff, to a great extent, and this is what the flexible provision will do.

Much depends upon the composition of the Tariff Commission. It is an open secret that the President will appoint a new commission, and that with the increased salary more capable men can be obtained. A bipartisan commission of expert fact-finders can do much to take politics out of tariff-making. Instead of opposing this plan, Congress is in favor of it.

The so-called Progressives will find themselves hard pressed to find a valid excuse for opposing the flexible provision. It is the realization of their own demands. It is equally acceptable to regular Republicans, and is in accordance with frequently expressed Democratic desires. It does not go as far as Gov. Alfred E. Smith proposed to go when he suggested that the Tariff Commission should be empowered to revise the tariff, but his suggestion is universally recognized as debarred by constitutional limitations.

Much has been made of foreign complaints against the tariff bill. Foreign governments that are really treated unjustly will have an opportunity to prove their case under the flexible provision, by initiating inquiries through the medium of importers, and if they can show that discriminations or other abuses exist they will doubtless obtain relief. This can be done in most cases by minor changes in specific duties, always, of course, within the 50 per cent limitation fixed by Congress.

Thus, properly administered, as President Hoover would seek to administer it, the flexible provision of the new tariff law ought to constitute a milestone in nonpolitical tariff adjustment, based upon the impartial application of facts that will render justice to American citizens and foreign countries.

LABOR'S RIGHTS UPHELD.

Labor unions are beginning to discover that the injunction works to their advantage quite as much as to the advantage of employers. Two weeks ago the Supreme Court of New York granted an injunction, compelling a corporation to abide by its contract to employ only union men. This week the United States Supreme Court has handed down a decision sustaining an injunction against a railway company which sought to substitute a "company union" for a free organization of employes.

The Texas and New Orleans Railroad Co. organized a union of its own and sought to coerce employes to withdraw from the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, and similar organizations. In spite of an injunction against interference with the brotherhood, the railway executives recognized the delegates of the "company union" and ignored those of the brotherhood. The court held this to be a violation of the injunction and ordered abolition of the union organized by the company. In vigorous language Chief Justice Hughes upheld, with the concurrence of the court, the right of labor to organize without interference and to choose its own delegates for negotiation with employers.

This decision is an effective refutation of the charge that the rights of labor are not upheld in the Federal courts. In this case, as in all others, the injunction was used to protect human rights. When organized labor comes to recognize the value of this protection to its own members and its own interests the agitation for a law limiting the authority of the courts in this respect may be expected to subside.

"BUY IN WASHINGTON."

With the adoption of a constitution and by-laws and the definition of objectives, the "Buy in Washington" Council got down to actual business on Monday. Composed of representative businesses and organizations and with membership open to any individual, firm, organization or "well-defined group" having as its object Washington's business development, the council promises to play an important part in stemming the flow of local funds to other communities.

Washington, perhaps more than any other city, has become accustomed to shopping outside its doors. The example set by the Government in letting contracts to outside bidders is not calculated to encourage individuals to make their purchases at home. The competitive bidding principle, however, can not be disturbed without opening the doors to impositions upon the Government. The council, therefore, has a dual role to perform; it must persuade Washingtonians that it is to their economic advantage to buy at home, and it must discover ways for local merchants and contractors to counteract cheap labor and other factors that enable out-of-town merchants and contractors to underbid them on Government contracts.

Washington business men are as competent and as aggressive as any others. They do not have to ask favors of the Government or to bid for the trade of Washingtonians on any basis other than values offered. It is only because of the cosmopolitan basis of Washington population that they have labored under certain disadvantages. With a wide-awake organization working to stimulate pride in Washington and to educate the public in the advantages of buying at home, these handicaps will disappear.

LAW ENFORCEMENT BILLS.

Several of the most objectionable features of the Law Enforcement Commission's program for relief of court congestion have been eliminated from the bills reported favorably to the House by its judiciary committee. The committee reached an impasse on these bills several months ago, and it was only after the commission indorsed important modifications that an agreement was reached. Some of the measures still face formidable opposition.

Among the most important changes is that which extends the simplified plan of procedure to all petty cases. Originally the Christopherson bill applied a special procedure to prohibition cases. Now it is proposed to define misdemeanors and have them tried before United States commissioners without juries. This eliminates one of the most glaring deficiencies of the previous plan. To have singled out one law for special treatment in the courts would have established a dangerous precedent.

A fine of $500 or six months in jail, or both, is made the dividing line between misdemeanor and felony. Offenses for which lesser punishments are prescribed would not be considered crimes within the meaning of the Constitution. Trial by jury is not essential in petty cases, but the Supreme Court has persistently refused to draw the line between petty and serious offenses, and whether this arbitrary dividing line squares with the Constitution is a question that can only be settled by the highest court.

Under the original plan United States commissioners would have passed judgment on those accused of petty offenses. As reported out of committee the bill provides that the commissioner shall report the plea, detail the hearing, and make recommendations to the judge. The court would be required to examine the records and pass its own judgment. In so far as judgment would be left to the court instead of being delegated to the commissioner this amendment is an improvement. But it is questionable whether the judge can save time by passing on a report rather than by examining the defendant in person. Pleas of guilty, which are offered in a great majority of petty cases, require little time, and if the defendant demands a jury trial, the judge must conduct that under any circumstance.

Another important amendment makes it certain that no accused person will be taken before a commissioner to plead to a petty charge under threat that unless he pleads guilty he will be charged with a felony. The sinister clause that gave district attorneys authority to prosecute defendants who demanded trial by jury on more serious charges has been eliminated.

The committee has made marked improvement in the original bills. The move to release minor liquor-law violators from the rigors of the Jones law is constructive. Elimination of grand jury action in petty cases is commendable, but the practical value of trials before commissioners is doubtful. Opinion is divided on the constitutionality of juryless trials for all misdemeanors defined in the Christopherson bill. The program as a whole requires full and free discussion before any final action is taken.

A young street car operator in Chicago called the police when a fair passenger made love to him. You can't trust anybody in that town.

Those lads who stole a bicycle and tried to sell it back to its owner were doubtless trying to imitate the Senate's maneuvers on the immigration bill.

Just as the Senate gets a new cooling system along comes science with a scheme for heated "thought chambers" wherein the brain cells can be stimulated for intensive thinking.

ITALY AND FRANCE

From the New York Herald Tribune.

Two political problems of special moment, in addition to a number of natural causes, lie at the bottom of the current bad feeling between France and Italy, which was brought so strikingly to the attention of the world when a crowd of Milanese workers shouted "Down with France," in response to one of Signor Mussolini's recent speeches.

These two problems center around African colonies. Like Germany a generation ago, Italy holds that her dense population and lack of good colonies entitle her to some more, in spite of the fact that she got into the game a little late. France apparently thinks that Italy can never be satisfied, regardless of what may be surrendered, and has thus far refused to give Italy any substantial amount of territory. In 1915, when Italian help against the Central Powers was keenly appreciated by the allies, a treaty was signed at London in which Britain and France decided to "agree in principle that Italy may claim some equitable compensation" as regards African colonies. When the war was over, Italy asked for the cession of the French port of Djibouti, on the Red Sea, and the French railway connecting this port with the interior of Abyssinia and the "rectification" of the western frontier of Libya, the country which lies between Tunis and Egypt on the north coast of Africa. Concessions were also asked of Britain, some of which were granted—enough to enable patriotic Italians to say that Britain had conceded "not magnificently, indeed, but sufficiently."

France declined flatly to give up Djibouti or her Abyssinian railroad and declined to give the Italians access to Lake Tchad and the other points in southwestern Libya which they want. Since the war, therefore, the Italians have taken the matter into their own hands. In 1924 they occupied Ghadames, on January 25 of this year the Italian flag was hoisted over Murzuk, the capital of Fezzan, and on February 24 they occupied the oasis of Ghat. When and if they reach Tibesti and Borcu, France may be expected to have something interesting to say in reply.

Besides these two problems, there is that of Tunis, the smaller dependency to the west of Libya, which belongs to France, but where in 1926 the Italians numbered 89,216 to 71,020 for the French. France has tried a sort of forced assimilation of Italians and has made trouble over the children going to Italian schools. Superficial indications are that the French are acting toward the Italians in Tunis very much as the Italians are acting toward the Austrians in the Tyrol. The French naturalization policy has once brought protests from the British, and the possibilities of such a situation for making trouble and arousing international hatred are as endless as they are obvious.

If the comparison between Italy's colonial policy today and that of Germany a generation ago is obvious, so is that between the words of the former kaiser and those of Signor Mussolini. Both enjoy saber-rattling. But one likes to assume that Signor Mussolini desires war no more than any one else, but "talks big," partly to puff up the chests of his subjects and partly to give himself a bargaining point when colonial demands are under discussion.

Whatever the bearing of his speeches upon internal politics, it must be admitted that they make very questionable diplomacy. Such speeches put ideas in people's heads. It does not do to say that the kaiser was much more dangerous because he had Germans behind him whereas Mussolini has a people whose showing in the war was not very brilliant. That may be true, and so may be the guess so frequently made that in a Franco-Italian war France could easily gain the victory. The chances are, however, that a restricted war of that type could not be staged.

CENSUS CARELESSNESS.

The Census Bureau has already begun to hand out interesting figures gathered by the 1930 enumerators, says the Pathfinder, and statisticians will soon be weaving the numbers into various fantastic combinations to show in their own convincing way how we are growing, expanding, shrinking, dying, getting richer, poorer, more learned or more ignorant and whatnot. But those who watched the progress of the census taking will have a limited confidence in the showing of these figures. To the newspapers in the large cities came many letters during and immediately after the enumeration complaining of whole apartment houses being overlooked; of blanks being left only to be thrown out by janitors, and of the forms being filled for families by questioning servants that happened to be at home—who could not possibly have the correct data. In Washington a newspaper ran blank forms to be filled by those who had been overlooked, and there were hundreds of replies. In Philadelphia a newspaper selected at random 25 households from the telephone directory, and, calling them, learned that seven had not been visited by an enumerator in the whole month of April. Of course the information obtained was valuable, but it is apparent that the census figures will not be as reliable as they should be.

What becomes of the lies you tell
That nobody else finds out?
And where do the petty failures dwell
Your friends haven't heard about?
Do you fancy they vanish in empty air
Or come and go with you everywhere?

What becomes of the sneaky trait
Which nobody else has seen?
Who writes down on the record slate
The good or the bad that's been.
Do you fancy that out of the world it goes
And is lost forever, since "nobody knows?"

Well, boy, the lie that you tell remains
Deep in the breast of you,
Though nobody else in this wide world gains
A sight of the wrong you do.
You'll carry it round with you where you go
And the shame and the hurt of it you will know.

People Never Resist When Urged to Boss or Take Life Easy

By ROBERT QUILLEN

IN a recent newspaper article a feminine writer describes the sad plight of wives who have imperfect husbands.

One complains that she is merely a cook and household drudge, accused of ingratitude if she intimates that life should offer her more than the latest labor-saving devices.

Another is expected to find her one and sufficient pleasure in helping to keep expenses down and make the bank balance grow.

Yet another is miserable because her man is a motherly creature who tells her what she must eat, buys her clothes, tenderly directs her smallest activities and does it all with the condescending air of an instructor guiding a simpleton.

That there are such wives every observant person is aware; that their complaint is justified no reasonable person will deny; but there is another side to the story and the sufferers on both sides have only themselves to blame.

One man has a mate who lies in bed until noon, makes no effort to keep the home either comfortable or clean, refuses to cook, spends her days window shopping or at the movies, wastes the greater part of her husband's income and nags at him because he doesn't make more.

Another takes from her husband all liberty of action, watches him as a mother watches her infant's first steps, takes full charge of the partnership, spends his income without consulting him, speaks to him in a patient-mother tone of voice, corrects him in public, and goes serenely on her self-centered way, wholly unaware that her way is maddening, conscious only that she loves her man and tries to be good to him.

There are other varieties, as numerous as unbearable husbands, and all alike are products of faulty training.

They are like the camel that desired only to get his head in the tent and promptly pushed his master out.

Given an inch, they take a mile.

It is human nature to impose on those who will stand for it.

The crawling infant becomes an autocrat if parents are too attentive; the maiden forgets to be considerate if her swain humbles himself too much; one partner assumes control if the other is too considerate; the servants become impudent if their mistress is too courteous.

Always and everywhere mortals impose on those whose good nature or weakness invites imposition.

The best of husbands or wives becomes incurably unbearable if encouraged to make decisions for two.

It's too late to keep a yearlin' under control after you give it twenty yards of rope.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

MR. COOLIDGE AVERTS A TRYING ORDEAL.

Former President Calvin Coolidge wanted no news reel photographers around the premises when he and Mrs. Coolidge moved from Massasoit street to their new home, The Beeches.

* * * *

A Boston film man who thought it a bright idea to snap pictures showing how a former President of the United States looks with a rubber plant under one arm and a floor lamp under the other wrote Calvin asking permission to drop around moving day, but Cal turned thumbs down. He had no desire to be shown to American audiences arguing with a moving van man who has just put his foot through the oil-painting of an honored ancestor.

* * * *

Mr. Coolidge again proves he is a smart man. Had he given the moving picture men an inch they would have taken the estate.

* * * *

They would have been up the day before to snap Calvin taking down family portraits and to ask Mrs. Coolidge to pose wrapping a set of 144 dishes in old newspapers. They would have wanted the former President to unscrew the mirror from the chiffonier for an eager public and would have demanded that Mrs. Coolidge give an illustrated talk to movie audiences on whether the Harvard classics can best be packed in one barrel or three soap boxes.

* * * *

Calvin would have been pictured shaking hands with a piano-mover who had just knocked over a $200 vase, and of course Mrs. Coolidge would have had to stand for a talkie on the front porch declaring two clumsy truckmen the backbone of the nation while they dropped a French mirror down two flights of stairs.

* * * *

Cal would then have been requested to walk from the old home to the new balancing a jar of goldfish on his head, carrying a mattress on his left shoulder and toting a load of family albums, law books, umbrellas and neckties under each arm without spilling any thing or calling for assistance.

* * * *

Once at "The Beeches" he would have been expected to tote a 30-foot rug up a winding staircase without sideswiping any bric-a-brac, reassemble a couple of beds, rebuke a truckman for breaking six soup dishes, get a five-foot sofa through a four-foot door, locate the missing bureau casters and help Mrs. Coolidge remember into which washing-powder box she had placed the tin dipper.

* * * *

There is no limit to what a moving picture man can ask. He might even have demanded that the ex-President pose for the talkies sitting in a nice soft armchair directing Mrs. Coolidge on how to unroll the rugs!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

United States Should Be Stronger at Sea Than Any Other Two Nations—Then It Can Make War Unlikely and Can Promote World-Wide Disarmament.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: It seems to me that the view of those statesmen who favor the 8-inch-gun British cruiser pact is too limited. They fail to bear in mind the destiny of the United States as their forerunners saw it. It was the hope of those who established our Government that it would stand as the exemplar and guardian of free institutions in the Western Hemisphere. That hope has thus far been fully realized.

In the course of the next hundred years, the danger of European interference may be as great as in the past—possibly greater. Refusal of Old World governments to reduce their armies and navies justifies this conclusion. The demands of increasing population and the desire for additional territory and trade expansion will cause Mussolinis of the future to view the flourishing Americas with envious eyes. The danger of aggression, unless we are prepared, is in one shape or another obvious.

Let those who disagree with this assertion tell me just how or when or by whom a great war might be started. In war as in other great catastrophes it is generally the unexpected that happens. We can foresee danger, but not the incident that starts a war.

If I could have my way, in order to make war unlikely, it would be the policy of the United States to build a navy twice as strong as the strongest foreign navies combined. Such a navy would not only render any mercenary European encroachment improbable, but in the course of time, it seems to me, might make it possible for the United States to bring about a worthwhile, all-inclusive reduction of the world's navies and armies.

Diplomatic tinkering with the world's armaments at short intervals is dangerous, and my contention is that so far as world affairs are concerned, the great mission of the United States is still to foster and safeguard the blessings of representative government in the Western Hemisphere.

BOLIVAR.

Henry Ward Bleacher Crows Over Verification of His Prediction That This Would Be a Home-Run Year.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: My prediction that this was to be a home-run season in baseball is being vigorously substantiated. This means that a profusion of two-baggers and three-baggers will likewise be slammed, with singles cracked out aplenty.

I still think this slugging development will be good for the game. How the great mass of cash customers react to masterful pitching and hard hitting was shown at last Thursday's double-header with Boston, both games bagged by the Griffs. In the 3-to-2 opening victory the interest was tense, and the fans sat tight. But there was not much more spontaneous enthusiasm than might develop at a scrub tennis match down on the Monument Lot. In the second game the fans didn't have to sit tight, since the score was 13 to 1 in our favor. But the batting of our pennant contenders kept them in an uproar from inning to inning until finally they voiced fandom's wildest approval by roasting Umpire Ormsby at the plate.

During the first encounter, in which Pitchers Hadley and Gaston fought it out, I heard some fellow-fans comment to the effect that it was the kind of baseball they liked—the real thing. I like a pitcher's battle myself, now and then, by way of variety. But what I enjoy much more is the close game in which "murderer's row" slaps the ball for keeps. I prefer such a game because the pitcher's battle is, after all, too much like throwing at a mark. In addition to which, one bad break may, from the sporting point of view, spoil a duel between hurlers, while the breaks involved in a swatfest being more frequent are more likely to even up as the game progresses, which insures an afternoon of first-class sport whether the home team wins or loses.

HENRY WARD BLEACHER.

Senate Should Give Telephone Company a Chance to Prove Efficiency of Dial System — Hint of Lower Rates.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: While reading the protest of using the dial system by some of our good senators, it makes me wonder why large corporations bring into practical use the great sciences which are conceived in the minds of the individual. If all of us have the same idea as our good senators, it would stifle the very progress of science.

Is it not a selfish stand for the few individuals to condemn the dial system when nearly 500,000 people in the City of Washington are willing to try this system, thereby giving the telephone company an opportunity to prove to its subscribers that the dial system is more efficient than the manual system? Is it just, after a corporation has spent thousands of dollars to install this system, to make a protest after the installation?

Why not give the telephone company an opportunity to prove to the public the efficiency of its system, which, if successful, will ultimately mean a reduction in telephone rates?

Why Worry, When Uncle Sam Gets It From Somebody Else.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Representative Garner, of Texas, should look at both sides of Uncle Sam's ledger before he becomes so unduly excited. United States Steel gets a rebate of $33,000,000, to be sure; but, after three years' examination of my tax return, I was notified that I owed $5.27. So the Government is only out $32,999,994.73.

Why worry about such trifles?

HOOVER SIGNS BILLS ON PRISON REFORMS

$7,000,000 Federal Building Program Throughout Country Assured.

SEVEN MEASURES PASS

(Associated Press.)

President Hoover announced yesterday that he had signed seven prison reform bills designed to enlarge the Federal prison system and establish a comprehensive system of prison reform.

The acts assure building of two Federal prisons, two reformatories and a number of jails at a cost of approximately $7,000,000.

One of the new prisons is to be in the northeast section of the United States in the vicinity of Erie, Pa., while the other will be west of the Mississippi River.

A reformatory is to be constructed in the Southwest and the jails in large centers of population. The other reformatory is to be in the East.

One of the bills provides for a new parole system to be governed by three members appointed by the Attorney General.

Others direct establishment of training schools in the prisons, hospitals for defective delinquents, and allow the public health service to take over jurisdiction of the health of inmates in the Federal prisons.

Another bill providing for the appointment of Federal probation officers attached to each Federal court district was found to be defective and will be returned to Congress.

The President feels that the bills will solve a problem of needed reform in the crowded Federal prisons.

Bethlehem and Youngstown Combine Is Held Within Clayton Act.

(Associated Press.)

Attorney General Mitchell announced yesterday afternoon that investigation by the Department of Justice into the proposed merger between the Bethlehem Steel Co. and the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co., had failed to sclose violations of the Clayton act.

Mr. Mitchell said there had been reports that Bethlehem money had been used to purchase Youngstown Sheet & Tube stock to enable the latter to vote for a merger with the Bethlehem Co.

He said the department had found nothing to indicate the reports were true, but added the department was continuing to look into the proposed merger.

BASEBALL is the big issue and burning question on Capitol Hill nowadays.

The tariff has an importance all its own, the naval pact demands a certain interest, but Walter Johnson's team is the thing to which the lawmakers devote an absorbed, incessant and pop-eyed study.

When the Nationals are in town and game time comes, members of Congress with one accord reach for their hats in such staggering numbers that search warrants and sergeants at arms can't round up a quorum.

The explanation of this profound legislative interest in the national pastime lies in the fact that the brainy representatives and dignified senators fell for the training-season prophecies of the baseball experts, analysts and wiseacres.

* * * *

WHETHER these prognosticators reached their conclusions by triangulation, television or the higher calculus, they displayed a beautiful, detailed and impressive unanimity in telling all and sundry that the Washington Club was sure to trail along in the second division of the American League and probably land in the cellar place.

The congressmen, being accustomed to putting their trust in straw votes and similar political forecasts, believed the boys who, after a hasty circuit of the training camps, handed out their dope with such superb assurance.

Then came the clash of conflict, and Washington knocked the props from under the prophets, upset the dope and discounted the experters by batting the ball all over the lot and winning game after game in the most dazzling and bewildering fashion.

* * * *

SEEING the club on top of the league, the legislators, recovering from the somnolence into which the expert predictions had thrown them, aprang to life as rabid fans and vociferous defenders of the Nats, individually and collectively.

Less than a week ago, when some reckless soul profaned the Democratic cloakroom of the House with the brash assertion that the Washington club was playing over its head, a long, lanky member from the Southern mountains, with a basso profundo voice, made thunderous reply: "It is playing over the heads of all the other clubs in the league! That's what it's doing!"

All of which is enough to indicate the high temperature the congressional boys are running while suffering an epidemic of baseball fever.

Not that there is any fault to be found with their ailment. They are sent here to represent the American people, and where are the American people who won't act like raving, stark, staring dolts, morons and maniacs when the home team is beating the whey out of every ball club in sight?

DAY IN CONGRESS

SENATE.

Met at noon and adjourned at 4:20 p. m. to noon today.

Returned the tariff bill to conference after a Democratic point of order on the compromise flexible provision was sustained by Vice President Curtis.

Naval officers continued their objections to the London naval treaty before the foreign relations and the naval committees.

Passed and sent to the President the House bill to extend from January 2, 1930, to January 2, 1935, the time within which veterans of the World War may file applications with the Government for adjusted compensation benefits.

Senator Jones (Republican), Washington, announced that if his State should ask for modification of the prohibition law in a referendum vote, he would vote for it in Congress.

Deets Picket, research secretary of the board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal Church, declared before the lobby committee that the election of President Hoover in 1928 was attributed to the activities of churches and temperance organizations and not to the efforts of the Republicans.

Agriculture committee approved a bill to authorize a revolving fund for a loan to take up bonded indebtedness of drainage and flood-control districts.

HOUSE.

Met at noon and adjourned at 5:20 p. m. to 11 a. m. today.

Began consideration of the Reece plan for private operation of Muscle Shoals.

Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, Chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics, appeared before the naval committee and declared that an arplane base at Camp Kearny, Calif., was an immediate naval need.

Adopted and sent to the Senate the Wood resolution to authorize $7,500 for expenses of the Marine Band to participate in the fortieth Confederate veteran reunion at Biloxi, Miss.

Representative Buchanan (Democrat), Texas, assailed the critics of the Federal Farm Board and the agriculture marketing act, asserting the criticism was "too premature."

Representative Chindblom (Republican), Illinois, introduced a bill authorizing the President to appoint representatives of the State, Arriculture and Commerce Departments to a committee to investigate and make recommendations as to suitable Government participation in the Chicago World Fair centennial celebration.

Passed and sent to the President the Wood resolution to appropriate $2,500 to aid the G. A. R. in its Memorial Day decoration of graves of Union soldiers, sailors and marines in Arlington National Cemetery and in national cemeteries in the District of Columbia.

H. C. Hausman, of Chicago, representing the Illinois Bankers Association, appeared before the postal committee and urged approval of the Irwin bill to prohibit the Postmaster General from "discriminating between individuals and communities" in the handling of registered mail matter.

G. O. P. Women Indorse President and Policies

The Federation of Republican Women of Prince Georges County, Md., adopted a resolution Monday "indorsing and supporting in every way President Hoover and his policies" at their meeting in Riverdale, it was announced yesterday.

Plans for a garden party to be held June 12 were discussed. A Maryland flag, made by members, was on display.

CHINA REBELS GAIN IN BLOODY FIGHTING

Army of 200,000 Defeats Nationalists Severely in Honan Province.

NANKING SCOUTS NEWS

Shanghai, May 27.—The northern alliance rebel army, numbering 200,000 men, independent dispatches said tonight, badly defeated the Nationalist government forces in heavy fighting in Honan Province during the last three days.

Forced to give way before furious onslaughts, the nationalists dug in, awaiting reinforcements before renewing the sanguinary conflict.

With their main forces strung along the railroad south of the Yellow River in Honan, the rebels, directed by Genls. Yen Hsi-Shan and Feng Yu-Hsian, have engaged the government armies since May 8. The tide of victory which at first bore the Nationalists westward toward Chengchow, the rebel base on two railroads, seemingly is turning against the government troops, led in person by President Chiang Kai-Shek.

Suppressing news of the recent fighting, the Nationalist government issued this statement from Nanking, its capital:

"The northerners claims of victories are groundless. In order to bolster the spirits of loosely confederated adherents in a forlorn cause, it is necessary for the rebels to claim victories in battles that never were fought."

The Nationalist silence concerning the eastern Honan battle front apparently extended also to the center of the province, where yesterday Nationalists and rebels were reported engaged. There the Nationalists, advancing along the Peiping-Hankow railroad, met the rebels marching toward Hankow and attempted to drive them back into Chengchow.

COURT DISBARS MAN IN GOVERNOR'S RACE

Another Oregon Attorney Is Ousted Along With G. O. P. Nominee.

CRITICISM CAUSES ACT

Salem, Oreg., May 27 (A.P.). — The Oregon Supreme Court today ordered the permanent disbarment of George W. Joseph, Republican nominee for governor, and Thomas Mannix, Portland attorney.

A board of referees appointed by the supreme court to hear the cases of the two attorneys had previously recommended that Joseph be disbarred permanently and that Mannix be disbarred for three years.

The court held, however, that Mannix, who brought disbarment proceedings against Joseph, should not be permitted to practice law in this State again.

Justice Bean dissented, holding that disbarment of Senator Joseph for three years would be sufficient and that one year would be adequate for Mannix.

The disbarment of Joseph was based on his criticism of members of the supreme court. Joseph said political and financial interests influenced decisions in certain cases, which he named. As a result of these criticisms, which also involved Mannix, the latter filed disbarment proceedings against the senator. Joseph retaliated with similar action against Mannix, including him in his criticism of the court.

In the recent primary in Oregon Joseph defeated his nearest opponent for the Republican nomination for governor by approximately 5,000 votes. A. W. Norblad, the present governor, was second in a field of six. Joseph's race was known as a "revenge contest" as he was primarily seeking vindication as a result of his disbarment controversy.

Joseph was born in a log cabin in northern California and used to be a sheep herder.

"Inferior screen-grid tubes are decidedly false economy"

WALTER E. HOLLAND
Chief Engineer of
PHILCO

"BECAUSE the vacuum tube is vital to the performance of a fine radio set, we recommend RCA Radiotrons for Philco Balanced Unit Radio. Inferior tubes can cause numerous difficulties which may nullify the result of most careful set engineering and construction. Inferior screen-grid tubes are decidedly false economy. The importance of quality and precision of manufacture as in RCA Radiotrons cannot be over-emphasized. With RCA Radiotrons in your Philco Screen-Grid Radio you will get the utmost benefit from Philco Balanced Unit construction."

Look for the red and black carton and the famous RCA trade-mark

RCA RADIOTRON CO., INC., HARRISON, N. J.

RADIO ENGINEERS ADVISE:

Replace all the vacuum tubes in your radio set with RCA Radiotrons at least once a year. This is the only sure way to maintain good performance and minimize disagreeable noises and other troubles caused by inferior tubes. RCA Radiotrons will give you the maximum in selectivity, sensitivity and tone quality.

Old tubes may impair the performance of the new

Stimson Fete Draws Many To Woodley

Historic Spot Furnishes Brilliant Scene at Reception.

By JEAN ELIOT.

PROGRESS was slow toward Woodley yesterday afternoon, for the Secretary of State and Mrs. Stimson had invited "all official Washington" and many guests who were not official to a fete in the gardens of their beautiful suburban home and traffic was jammed all the way from the Connecticut Avenue Bridge to the gates of Woodley. Conspicuous among hundreds of smart motor cars was Washington's one lone hansom cab. This belongs to Mrs. James Parmelee, who drove over from The Crossways, her home near Woodley, her coachman, her cob and her quaint equipage attracting much attention as a survival of bygone days.

In spite of the large number of guests, there was no crowding at the reception, for spacious lawns, shaded by forest trees, sweep away at the back of Woodley to a little brook at the foot of the slope. Climbing roses riot over arbors and such charming old-fashioned bushes as snowballs and bridal wreath bloom in a garden which was planted when Washington was a village. Woodley is one of the historic places of the Capital and no less than four Presidents have lived there at one time or another, the last Grover Cleveland, who also spent several summers at nearby Red Top—and who gave Cleveland Park its name. The present owners have kept all the mellow charm of the old mansion, which is filled with rare and beautiful things arranged with discriminating taste.

Secretary and Mrs. Stimson received at the top of the slope, the guests being presented by Capt. Eugene Regnier, aid to the Secretary, and some of the younger State Department officials. Stationed before a clump of shrubbery in one corner of the garden, the Army Band played through the afternoon, its music just far enough away to be a pleasant obbligato to the conversation. Refreshments were served from two gaily striped marquees and, since there was a bit of chill in the air, hot bouillon—very much in demand—supplemented the usual tea, sandwiches and ices.

Garden party gowns of flowered chiffons, pastel tinted laces and printed silks, were sponsored by most of the feminine guests, but many, feeling discretion was the better part of valor, had kept on their coats. The hostess, too, had compromised between the warm sunshine and the chill breeze, wearing a wrap of thin black transparent velvet over her gown of sapphire blue lace. Her hat was also black, a model of transparent straw.

Two of Mr. Stimson's predecessors as Secretary of State were among the guests, Chief Justice Hughes and Mr. Frank B. Kellogg, who chanced to be a visitor in town. Mrs. Hughes, on the eve of leaving for New York, accompanied her husband. They held court through the afternoon, as did Mr. Kellogg. Of the Cabinet group, the Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Charles Francis Adams were glimpsed, as was Mrs. Robert Patterson Lamont, but presumably most of the others were present. This was the first party Mrs. Adams has attended since her return from London, as she has been ill.

Detained "up on the Hill," Vice President Curtis was a bit late in arriving, but he came in with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Everett Gann just as the setting sun was painting long shadows on the grass.

Mrs. Gann wore an ensemble of beige lace, with a large hat matching her gown in tone.

Most of the chiefs of diplomatic missions were present, with many of the younger diplomats. The Mexican Ambassador, dean of the corps, and Senora de Tellez were in the company, Senora de Tellez wearing a navy blue crepe suit, with scarlet embroidery outlining the short jacket, a blouse of white and a smart black hat. Others glimpsed in the ever shifting throng were the Spanish Ambassador and Senora de Padilla, with their daughters, Senorita Rosa Padilla and Senorita Maria Padilla; the Turkish Ambassador, Mr. Ahmet Muhtar; the British Ambassador and Lady Lindsay, the Minister of Panama and Senora de Alfaro, the Minister of Greece and Mme. Simopoulos, the Minister of Hungary and Countess Szechenyi, the Minister of Albania, Mr. Konitza, Sir John Joyce Broderick and Lady Broderick, Mr. and Mrs. Merchant Mahoney and M. and Mme. Bedy.

Towering above the rest of the assemblage, the British Ambassador made the round of the garden with Lady Lindsay. She wore a beige crepe ensemble, with a brown hat. Representative Ruth Bryan Owen was conspicuously handsome in a black gown and wrap, worn with a big black hat. And quite the most colorful frock at the party was Mrs. Robert Low Bacon's chiffon ensemble. This seemed to have a chartreuse background and to be splashed all over with black, blue and bright colors in futurist design. The sleeveless coat was of black or dark blue and she wore a dark hat.

But recently home from a year of travel in South America, Mrs. Henry Wilder Keyes was given warm greetings by many old friends. Other guests present were Mrs. Henry Allen Cooper, Representative and Mrs. Henry Winfield Watson, Mrs. Morris Sheppard, Representative and Mrs. J. Charles Linthicum, Mrs. Henry F. Dimock, Justice and Mrs. Peyton Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Tuckerman, Miss Laura Tuckerman, the Misses Patten, Mrs. Alvin Dodd, Maj. Julia Stimson, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Taliaferro, Mr. and Mrs. Proctor Dougherty, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Caspar Miller, Capt. and Mrs. John H. Gibbons, Dr. and Mrs. James Brown Scott, Miss Elsie Ekengren, Miss Mildred Hall, Dr. L. S. Rowe, Col. Campbell Hodges and Mr. Ralph Hill.

Ambassador of Mexico Is Host at Luncheon.

The Ambassador of Mexico, Senor Don Manuel Tellez, who is dean of the Diplomatic Corps, and Senora de Tellez were guests of honor yesterday at the luncheon given at the Willard by the Women's National Press Club. The ambassador made a brief address. Flags of Mexico and the United States flew above the entrance of the Willard and were displayed in the dining room, the colors being repeated in the flowers of the decorations.

Next Tuesday the club will have Dr. Enrique Olaya, Minister of Colombia and President-elect of his country, as guest of honor and speaker at its weekly luncheon.

The Ambassador of Poland, Mr. Tytus Filipowicz, will spend ten days or a fortnight in Newport next month before sailing the middle of June to join Mme. Filipowicz in Poland.

Mrs. Robert Lansing expects to leave Washington early in June for her summer home at Henderson Harbor, N. Y. She will be accompanied by her cousin, Mrs. Sheppard, of Mexico, who has been her guest for several weeks.

The Minister of Czechoslovakia and Mme. Veverka entertained at dinner last night in honor of Mr. Jaroslav Koudelka, who has come from Czechoslovakia and is touring the United States as a guest of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. The Minister and Mme. Veverka asked to meet their guest the Secretary of Labor and Mrs. James J. Davis, Senator and Mrs. Charles L. McNary, Representative and Mrs. Fred Britten, Representaitve Franklin F. Korell, the Financial Counselor of the Roumanian Legation and Mme. Miss Ada Comstock, president of Radcliffe College, will come to Washington on June 12 and will be at the Wardman Park Hotel while attending the June meeting of the National Commission on Law Observance and Enforcement.

Mrs. Hoes to Attend Lafayette Ball.

Mrs. Rose Gouverneur Hoes has been invited by the Jefferson Memorial Foundation to make a speech to the High School children of New York City Thursday afternoon on the subject of "Lafayette." Mrs. Hoes is accepting this invitation on behalf of the Jefferson and Monroe families. While in New York Mrs. Hoes will be at the Hotel Commodore. On Thursday evening she will attend the ball given in honor of the Marquis de Lafayette on the liner Lafayette. She will be accompanied by her son and daughter-in-law, Capt. and Mrs. Gouverneur Hoes, of New York, and Mrs. Laurence Hoes, of Washington. Mrs. Hoes is chairman of the Jefferson Memorial Foundation.

Weds Famous Pilot of Sea Planes

Harris & Ewing.

MRS. APOLLO SOUCEK, who was Miss Agnes O'Connor until her marriage yesterday.

Lieut. Soucek And New York Girl Are Wed

Miss Agnes E. O'Connor Becomes Wife of Noted Ace.

Lieut. Apollo Soucek, U. S. N., holder of the world's altitude record for sea planes, and Miss Agnes E. O'Connor, of Washington and Wellsville, N. Y., daughter of Judge Patrick L. O'Connor, of Wellsville, were married at 7 o'clock last evening in St. Paul's Catholic Church, the Rev. Arthur Slade, assistant rector, officiating. It was originally planned to have a formal wedding at the bride's home in Wellsville on June 19, but a few days ago the bride decided to be married in Washington with a simple ceremony.

Mrs. Richard F. Pierce, of Wellsville, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and Mr. Zeus Soucek, of East Orange, N. J., was best man for his brother.

The bride wore a frock of printed chiffon, in shades of green and yellow, with a hat of black taffeta, and carried an old-fashioned bouquet of spring flowers.

Mrs. Soucek has made her home in Washington since her graduation from New Rochelle College in 1923.

They will spend their honeymoon at the bride's home in Wellsville, and will leave for the Pacific Coast the middle of June in time for Lieut. Soucek to report for duty on July 1 at San Diego.

Among out-of-town guests at the wedding and reception at the Mayflower Hotel which followed the ceremony were Judge O'Connor, Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Pierce, who have just returned from Europe; Mr. and Mrs. Zeus Soucek, of East Orange, N. J.; Mr. Bernard O'Connor, brother of the bride, who came from Villanova College, Villanova, Pa., for the wedding, and Miss Myrrha Soucek, of New York, sister of the bridegroom.

Lieut. Soucek was graduated from the Naval Academy in 1921.

Senator George H. Moses, of New Hampshire, and Mrs. Moses arrived last night in New York aboard the Olympic returning from a cruise of two months in the Mediterranean. Senator Moses will return to Washington today, but Mrs. Moses probably will go on to their home in Concord to arrange for the summer season there.

During their journey abroad Senator and Mrs. Moses passed five days in Athens renewing old friendships formed during Mr. Moses' tenure of the post of United States Minister to Greece under the administration of President Taft.

Mr. and Mrs. Augustine L. Humes will spend the summer at Newport, taking possession of Mrs. Richard T. Wilson's villa on June 10. They returned to New York from Newport yesterday after spending a few days at Pine Lodge. Mrs. Humes is a former Washingtonian and is a sister of Mrs. Henry D. Flood.

Representative Ruth Pratt passed the week-end in New York where on Monday she laid the cornerstone of the clubhouse of the Fifteenth Assembly District Republican Club at 122 East Eighty-third street.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stephen Lincoln will arrive in Washington today for a short visit en route to their home in Jacksonville, Fla. Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln were married on May 21 at the home of the bride's parents, Col. and Mrs. George Skinner, in Omaha, Nebr. Miss Emma Perley Lincoln will entertain a small party at dinner this evening in honor of her brother and sister-in-law.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Seligman, of New York, entertained a party of ten at luncheon yesterday at the Carlton, where they are staying while in Washington.

Mrs. Hoggatt Clopton and her son-in-law and daughter, Lieut. and Mrs. Leland Dotson Webb, will leave today by motor for New York to attend the costume ball which will take place on board the new French liner, Lafayette, tomorrow evening.

Mrs. Clopton, with Lieut. and Mrs. Webb, will be the guests of honor at a dinner and theater party this evening in New York to be given by Mr. and Mrs. D. Vaughn. On their return trip they will motor through Paterson, N. J., where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn at their home for a short time.

Mrs. H. W. Fuller, of Chicago, wife of the former manager of the Washington Railway & Electric Co., during the regime of Gen. Harries, is a guest at the Wardman Park Hotel. With her is her sister, Mrs. Alfred D. Smith, of White Plains, N. Y. They came to attend the graduation of Miss Smith from National Park Seminary.

Debutante Next Year

Underwood & Underwood.

MISS DOROTHY DODGE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Dodge, of New York and Colorado Springs, who will make her debut at a ball to be given on November 28 at the Mayflower.

Dr. Velarde Assigned to Hague Court

Former Peruvian Envoy Was Dean of Corps for Brief Time.

Dr. Hernan Velarde, former Peruvian Ambassador to the United States, has been appointed Peruvian member of the Permanent Court of Arbitration, at the Hague. After long service in Washington, Dr. Velarde was detached from his post and granted a prolonged leave of absence, which he is spending in Europe with his family.

The first Latin American envoy to become dean of the Diplomatic Corps in Washington, Dr. Velarde will go down in history as the "dean for a day," having served but a few days before sailing for Europe. He was succeeded by Ambassador of Mexico, Senor Tellez.

Miss Nancy Hopkins, daughter of Dr. Alfred Hopkins, who took her air pilot's license before she was out of her teens, will come to Washington from Florida to take part in the flying circus to be held here Saturday, in connection with the postponed Curtiss Marine Trophy Air Race, postphoned from last Saturday. Miss Hopkins will fly a Kittyhawk plane. Miss Hopkins is one of the youngest licensed pilots in the country.

For Graduations, Weddings, and Bon Voyage MAKE IT A WATERMAN'S

Waterman's offers a delightful way of giving suitable, rather unusual gifts to knowing people. For the graduate—a colorful new Patrician pen. For the bride—a desk set, a necessary detail to her new establishment. For a bon-voyage gift—a useful pen, small enough to tuck away in light luggage — smart and colorful enough to hold its own with Paris fashions.

The Patrician pen—a bright writing jewel in five beautiful colors, Onyx, Emerald, Turquoise, Nacre and Jet. Balanced and crafted like a fine watch; boxed $10. With mechanical pencil, $15.

Waterman's No. 7 and No. 5, both in ripple-brown, are two superb writing instruments. No. 7 offers a choice of seven different pen points—one of which will exactly suit your hand. It costs $7. No. 5, slightly smaller, is priced at $5.

This most attractive fountain pen desk set, complete with gyro-sheath and pen, is only $7.50. It is a wonderful convenience for everyone who writes—a gift appreciated by anyone. Other Waterman's desk sets are available in wide selection at varying prices. Ask your dealer to show them to you.

Every Waterman's is guaranteed forever against defects. Service Stations are maintained at the addresses below for the purpose of making good our guarantee and for servicing our pens as required.

SOCIETY EVENTS

Bauer, will motor to Massanutten Academy in Virginia on Friday to attend the commencement exercises there. They will return to their apartment at the Wardman Park Hotel on Monday accompanied by their son, Cadet Carl C. Mueller, jr.

Mme. M. Bedouin, of Paris, is at the Dodge Hotel, accompanied by her granddaughter, Mlle. Simone Fabre.

Mrs. and Miss Bradley To Entertain at Dance.

Mrs. Joseph H. Bradley and Miss Mary Bradley will give a small dance on Saturday evening, June 14, at Rosemont Farms, the country house of Mrs. Bradley, on the Rockville pike. Mrs. Bradley and her daughter moved to Rosemont at the close of the season, having occupied the Leland Harrison house on Nineteenth street, where Miss Bradley was presented this winter at a tea.

Rev. M. B. MacBryde Is Host at Dinner.

The Rev. Meade Bolton MacBryde entertained at a stag dinner last evening in the parish hall of Grace Church in honor of the members of the Bishop Claggett Club, the vestry of the church and a group of friends. The table was decorated in yellow flowers. Between the courses a group of songs was sung by Mr. George Anderson, tenor, and Mr. Francis W. Hart, barytone. Among the guests were the Rev. Dr. C. Ernest Smith, the Rev. Dr. George Fiske Dudley, the Rev. Dr. George W. Atkinson, the Rev. Dr. William S. Bishop, Canon Joseph Fletcher, the Rev. V. O. Anderson, the Rev. H. Allan Griffith, the Rev. Baroness Kalckreuth Is Capital Visitor.

Baroness Bertha Kalckreuth, German sculptress, who has come to Washington to make a bronze bust of Speaker Nicholas Longworth, is making her headquarters at the Mayflower. The young baroness, though scarcely out of her teens, has already established an unusual record for her work in making miniature busts, and already includes among her subjects members of the imperial German family, Count and Countess Felix von Luckner and many other prominent Europeans. During her stay in New York the baroness made a bust of Cornelius Vanderbilt.

Comdr. Thos. C. Kinkaid Ordered to Washington.

Commander and Mrs. Thomas C. Kinkaid will arrive by motor on Sunday from Newport, R. I., and will be at the Wardman Park Hotel, where they have taken an apartment. Commander Kinkaid, who has been stationed at the Naval War College at Newport, has been ordered to Washington for duty.

Mrs. Frank Braisted and Miss Gertrude Bradshaw, of Newport, R. I., are spending some time at the Powhatan.

Mr. and Mrs. William Payne Meredith have taken a house at 2446 Kalorama road and are located there and will be joined by their daughter, Miss Sylvia Meredith, after her graduation from the National Cathedral in June.

Miss Louhtia Lea, of Santa Rosa, Calif., is visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Representative and Mrs. Clarence F. Lea, at the Carlton.

Mrs. Richard Webber, of New Rochelle, N. Y., is at the Carlton for several days, accompanied by Mrs. Melville J. Wheeler, also of New Rochelle.

Four to Be Presented For Episcopal Orders

The Right Rev. James E. Freeman, Bishop of Washington, will ordain three candidates for the diaconate and one for the presthood at 11 o'clock Thursday morning, which is Ascension Day, in Bethlehem Chapel, of Washington Cathedral.

The new deacons will be Gordon L. Graser, who will be presented by the Rev. V. O. Anderson, rector of St. Agnes' Church; George E. Shilling, presented by the Rev. Charles E. Buck, superintendent of the Episcopal Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital, and John A. Bryant, presented by the Rev. Zebarney Phillips, rector of the Church of the Epiphany.

The Rev. Lewis H. Webster, a deacon, who is to be ordained to the priesthood, will also be presented by Dr. Phillips. The preacher at the ordinaton service will be the Rev. Hulbert A. Woolfall, rector of St. Mark's Church.

Fifth Ave. Fashions NEW YORK

A printed crepe silk that shows smart simplicity for street and general all-day occasions.

The front panel style gives the figure lovely lengthened line. A circular inset at the left side provides interesting fullness without detracting from its slenderness. A unique idea is the accented natural waistline at the back.

Style No. 512 comes in sizes 16, 18, 20 years, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust. The medium size is made with 3¼ yards of 39-inch material, with ¼ yard of 39-inch contrasting.

Plain crepe silk in Lucerne blue with touch of eggshell crepe at neckline is chic.

PACKARD STANDARD EIGHT PRICES REDUCED $400

THE Packard Motor Car Company has just advised us by telegram that effective May 28th prices of all current models of the Standard Eight have been reduced $400. The new prices are as follows:

Closed Models

Five-Passenger Sedan	$2085
Two-Passenger Coupe	$2125
Two-Passenger Convertible Coupe	$2150
Five-Passenger Coupe	$2275
Five-Passenger Club Sedan	$2275
Seven-Passenger Sedan	$2385
Seven-Passenger Sedan Limousine	$2485

Open Models

Two-Passenger Runabout	$2025
Four-Passenger Phaeton	$2025
Seven-Passenger Touring	$2125
Four-Passenger Sport Phaeton	$2325

(Prices F. O. B. Detroit)

These reductions are made because the factory expects to announce in the Fall new cars which, though the same in size and of practically unchanged appearance, will have enough changes to classify them as new models. The new cars, like those we are now offering, will, of course, have straight eight motors exclusively.

The new prices give today's purchasers a very great price advantage, and also immediate use of the largest selling and most popular car in the fine car field.

Now, it is even more true—by $400—that you are paying for a Packard. Why not own one? You will never have a better opportunity.

Two-thirds of those who buy the Packard Standard Eight give up other makes of cars. Thousands prefer to buy out of income. Your used car will be accepted as cash and if of average value will more than make the down payment on a new car.

Eyes and Minds are wide open during the Vita-minutes

JUST notice, for example, how you read The Post this morning . . . quickly, yet thoroughly. And you'll observe, too, that you get more out of what you read.

And that, of course, is because you are naturally more alert, and more responsive after a good night's rest than at any other time of the day. Later on you'll get caught in the hustle and bustle of this modern, busy life. So perhaps without realizing just why, most folks have got into the habit of planning their whole day during those undisturbed, clear-minded Vita-Minutes.

And it is because The Post fits in so perfectly with this way of doing things, that its thousands of interested families turn to it every morning.

You see, The Post re-establishes your contact with the world of affairs that you put out of your mind each night. You read it, primarily of course, for the news it gives you And The Post has never lost sight of the fact that it is, first of all, the news you want.

To the advertiser, it simply sums down to this . . . suggestions made during the Vita-Minutes not only get attention . . . they get action, too.

That's why you find in it all the interesting news of the world, as well as sports, financial and woman's features of national reputation.

But because your eyes and mind are so wide open . . . and because the advertisements do play such an important part in your life . . . they get a big share of your attention, too. And they help you make buying decisions that demand a definite place on your day's program.

Again, we suggest, just notice how it works out . . . an advertisement suggests a breakfast food, and when you 'phone your order to your grocer, a sale is completed. Or, again, it may be that an announcement of the new shoe or hat styles catches your alert eye . . . and before the day is over you will make it a point to stop in and see them.

And that's just the point that appeals to the advertiser . . . his message, delivered to you during the Vita-Minutes, does get results the same day!

THE CAPITAL'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER

Indoor and Outdoor Gardens

By JANE LESLIE KIFT

A TRAIL OF IRRESISTIBLE LURE.

WHEN in motoring through the country we pass a low, rambling white house with a flagstone path, bordered on either side with flowers, leading perhaps from a whitewashed pole gate to a rose-clad doorway, how we long to stop a bit, walk up the path, lift the knocker and finally pass through the lovely doorway.

Such a house, we feel, must really be a home in every sense of that word. It may be unpretentious, its architecture may be poor, but it nevertheless has charm. And if we analyze this charm we will find that it is the irresistible lure of its garden path and posied doorway that has beckoned to us.

Even the most humble cottage can be glorified if it is surrounded with a wealth of blossoms. And is there any good reason why our homes should be drab and drear when it requires so little effort radically to change conditions? Only a few months is required for the transition.

Suppose you have a path that is somewhat shaded by tall trees. Would not this path be more beautiful if it were banked on either side to the depth of two feet with the elf-fashioned garden lily that flowers so profusely from mid-July until September?

Or should you be the happy possessor of a path near the water, do bedeck it with iris. Such a path, when the iris is in bloom, will linger long in the memory.

Should your home be white, let me urge you to build a trellis somewhere close to your front door, and then on either side of the entrance plant some pink rambler roses and white clematis (paniculata), thereby insuring flowers from June until September.

On either side of the pathway leading up to the door you have a wonderful opportunity for almost any color scheme. Blue larkspur makes an unusual and really lovely border. This variety of garden plant is easily raised, is rarely attacked by insects and will be in bloom for weeks. When its bloom has been spent its foliage will continue to be a real delight.

Pink sweet Williams are always pleasing when they outline a path. Should you like more variety in your color scheme, you can intermingle white and red varieties with the pink. Sweet Williams are a harmonious family; there is never any clashing in their family circle.

Artists must have suddenly awakened to the beauty of garden paths, for the canvases of the annual exhibitions this year were a reflection of just such garden effects.

(Copyright, 1930.)

All readers' questions on growing and care of indoor and outdoor flowers and floral decorations for social functions will be answered by Miss Kift, directly in this column if addressed in care of The Washington Post, or directly to readers if a self-addressed, stamped envelope is supplied.

Purple Iris Tea House Is Padlocked for Year

In accordance with a recent order of the District Supreme Court, Deputy United States marshals yesterday padlocked the Purple Iris Tea House at Rittenhouse and Thirty-second streets northwest for violations of the National prohibition act. The padlock will remain on for one year.

Deputy United States Marshals John J. Clarkson and Elmer Graves attached the locks, while the United States attorney's office was represented by Clarence W. Keefer.

Dare Interprets the Mode

The newest and cutest jackets have short sleeves and what we call "elbow business." Examples in this light green silk ensemble. (Courtesy of Jane Regny, Paris.)

Paris, May 27.

DO you think you can wear purple? There are purples and purples, of course, and, although a very strong color which might be inclined to snuff out some personalities, purple gives a life and richness to any one who can wear it.

Purple is a color with which we are sufficiently unfamiliar to be afraid. But maybe that's just the reason why I like it, and why some of the smart couturiers, among them Madame Tollman, are sponsoring it. All the world will not wear it because all the world would be afraid to wear it, therefore when it is worn it will be distinctive and elegant.

* * * *

Of course, purple has its accessories problems. What color shoes, stockings and gloves to wear with it is something that requires considerable thought. The hat should be purple. Well, it's a matter of choice, but I for one would wear a rich chocolate-y brown suede in gloves and shoes, and carry an antelope bag in the same color. Then of course a light beige hose, and a blue fox fur if any. You may answer that these accessories would be hard to find all in the same shade, and indeed they would—what that is elegant and really lovely is not hard to find? You can have everything made to order, you know—with a color sample. By the time a new dress or costume was finished the accessories would be ready, too.

* * * *

Ever hear of a "peignoir"—or haven't you been a faithful Dan-rayette? Well, a peignoir is one of those things you just don't try to live without! But I can't decide whether to wait till you've sent your stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Dare Department of The Washington Post for the illustrated leaflet that explains what it is and how you make it—or to tell you now that it's a bathrobe made out of bathtowelling. You put it on when you get out of the tub, or maybe your sunken bath, and it makes a big bathtowel look like a lady's handkerchief when it comes to drying you all over in a jiffy and keeping you warm besides.

* * * *

If you are fortunate enough to be little, there is one couturier whose models have your name on them. And this is Jane Regny, who favors models for little women and young girls. Not that you can't find many a model that will become you if you are not this type, will even give you that youthful appearance if you just must have it! Take today's summer ensemble, for instance, in light green alpaca, with its one-piece dress and short matching jacket. Wouldn't you just shed ten years in this?

* * * *

And then take off another five for the perky cuffs perched at the elbows.

* * * *

It's all a matter of taste, of course. For some of us just adore the so-off-the-face-and-head hats that are smart now, while others don't like to have the full glare of daylight on their features. Especially is this true when one has any eye trouble, because then the sun does fatigue the eyes. So one must select the type of hat that is liked and known to be becoming, and at the same time the type of hat that is comfortable to wear.

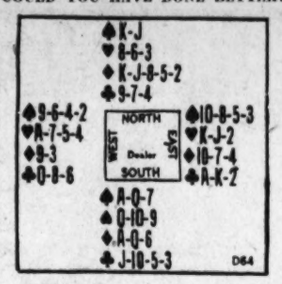
* * * *

And here's the reminder again. The weekly Dare fashion letter is in the Sunday Washington Post every Sunday.

Au Revoir!

WORK ON BRIDGE

COULD YOU HAVE DONE BETTER?



With the above hand in Auction Bridge South would be the Declarer with a contract of one No Trump.

In Contract South, with a count of 16, would bid one No Trump and North either two No Trumps or two Diamonds, depending upon the system he was using. In either event South would bid three No Trumps. South would have been right in starting with a bid of one, although so near the 17-count that would justify bidding two; it does not pay to take liberties with the count.

The hand was played in a game of Auction Bridge, both sides having a zero score, so the Declarer was anxious to make nine tricks. West led his Four of Hearts; East won with the King and returned the Jack. South with a Queen-Ten fourchette covered with the Queen. West won with the Ace and led a third Heart, which South took with his Ten. The Declarer then added to his one Heart trick already won, three Spades and five diamonds, making a total of nine tricks and game.

Could you have done better?

THE CORRECT PLAY.

The Declarer could not have done better, but the adversaries could have saved game. When East won the first trick with the King of Hearts he should have appreciated that West had led his lowest and therefore had opened a four-card suit (he led the Four, dummy had the Trey and East the Deuce). There was a good chance that South held at least one Heart trick; therefore it was advisable for East, before returning his partner's suit, to show West that he had two Club tricks. To trick 2 East should have led the King of Clubs, and to trick 3 the Jack of Hearts. When South covered the Jack with the Queen, West could see that game could be saved by winning with the Ace and then leading the Queen and another Club. In that way the adversaries would have made five tricks.

What Today Means to You

By MARY BLAKE

"GEMINI."

IF May 28 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a. m. to 11:30 a. m. and from 3 p. m. to 6 p. m. The danger periods are from 8 a. m. to 9 a. m. and from 7 p. m. to 8:30 p. m.

If you have squared yourself for use, you will walk into the openings for advancement which will be presented to you on this date. "A stone that may fit in the wall is not left by the way." Meetings with influential people, probably new acquaintances.

The children born on this May 28 will have a perseverance and determination, which will carry them through most of the things they attempt with success. They will be straightforward and sincere; naturally quiet, and a little too retiring, inclined to sit in a corner when they belong out in the light.

Procrastination is probably your one weak characteristic, and you are very much a victim of its evil influence. Your "tomorrows" are always crammed full of "yesterday's" leftovers, and you seldom start out the day with a clean slate. You always have a blind hope that things will be easier later on than now. The slogan, "Do it now," is as wise as it is effectual. You also have a habit of evading unpleasant things. You are a coward in anticipation only, in your actual battles you are splendid.

You can stand a great deal of praise, but very little criticism. You thrive on the former and wilt under the latter. This does not mean that you ask for flattery, but you do like and need encouragement, for you lack self-confidence. Ingratitude is not one of your faults; you are truly thankful and appreciative of the little courtesies, kindnesses and favors which smooth life's pathway. You can not help being a clinging vine, but you are loyal and grateful to your props and supporters. As a man, you will prosper best when in association with some one who will supply the initiative and enterprise. You crave constant companionship, and are bored without it. You are not a great reader.

Successful people born May 28:

1. Louis McLane—Secretary of the Treasury under Jackson.
2. Nathaniel Chapman — founded the Medical Institute of Philadelphia.
3. Amelia J. Bloomer — reformer; introduced the bloomer costume.
4. Morris Sheppard—U. S. Senator.
5. Daniel L. Braine—Rear Admiral; fought first naval engagement of Civil War.

The Goofus Aardvark
The Goofus Aardvark parked in this park
Ate fish au gratin and plain,
For though it's absurd
He somewhere had heard
Such diet would grow him a brain;
But he found, to his sorrow,
One's thoughts of the morrow
Can't be built on such diet alone,
So he switched to red ants
And various plants,
But nary a brain has he grown!

Do you know
Kotex is inconspicuous
even under the closest-fitting gowns?

The lasting softness of Kotex; the fact that it deodorizes, and absorbs so quickly, are other reasons you will prefer this sanitary protection

YOU can't imagine what a relief it is to know that your sanitary protection is inconspicuous, that it is fashioned to fit correctly, leaving no revealing outlines. That is just one of the many reasons why smart women prefer Kotex. Then, too, it deodorizes, and gives a feeling of perfect daintiness. It is soft—a lasting kind of softness that means comfort through hours of wear.

Made of remarkable material

Kotex is so wonderfully comfortable because it is made of Cellucotton (not cotton) absorbent wadding . . . the same material that is used today by 85% of America's leading hospitals. Remember, Cellucotton is not cotton, but a cellulose substance that performs the same function as the softest cotton but with five times the absorbency.

You may wonder why Kotex can be so absorbent. It's because of this Cellucotton which is laid in many thin, air-cooled layers, each one a quick, complete absorbent in itself. These layers take the moisture quickly away from the surface. That's why it stays comfortable so long a time in contrast to ordinary pads. Kotex Company, Chicago, Illinois.

KOTEX IS SOFT...

1—Not a deceptive softness, that soon packs into chafing hardness. But a delicate, lasting softness.

2—Safe, secure . . . keeps your mind at ease.

3—Disposable instantly, completely.

4—Deodorizes, safely, thoroughly by a special process.

Regular Kotex—45c for 12
Kotex Super-Size—65c for 12

IN THE PLAYHOUSE

By JOHN J. DALY

IT seems to be the consensus of opinion that the National Theater Players have reached top form in "The Misleading Lady"—a play, by the bye, that Mr. Clifford Brooke considers the best motion picture material extant. In fact, it wouldn't surprise Cliff if the powers-that-be in the movie world hop on the idea immediately; for he has sent pictures of the playing company, with the script, along to the coast. The action of the play is appealing. Another thing, Mr. Brooke turns in a amazing performance as "Boney," the old lunatic, who lends the laughs to the play.

* * * *

OFF with one play and on with another is the old story of stock production. So, while the National Theater Players are busily engaged with "The Misleading Lady" they are rehearsing "Dracula," the dramatization of Bram Stoker's weird story. The title role this time falls to Romaine Callender—and Mr. Callender is a busy man rehearsing and playing, doing the two jobs simultaneously, almost, as the stock player usually does. The wonder is how the boys and girls bear up under the strain.

* * * *

JOHN BALDERSTON, the young American newspaperman who won fame as London correspondent for his journal, stepped out last year as author of the play, "Berkeley Square." It had its premiere here in the Belasco Theater, ran the entire season on Broadway, and just closed during the past week. When the play got such sterling notices it was mentioned that Mr. Balderston was a newcomer to the theater; that he had never written anything in the dramatic field before. Well, the truth is, he had never written a play of his own until "Berkeley Square"—but he dramatized "Dracula," Bram Stoker's novel, and that certainly gave him an insight into stage technique.

Postponed Air Races To Be Held Saturday

The Curtiss Marine Trophy air races, postponed last Saturday on account of poor weather, will be held Saturday afternoon unless the weather again prevents. The entire schedule of events, save the battle fleet review, will be followed. As a substitute for the review, fighting planes from the Saratoga will give an exhibition in diving and bombing tactics.

Tickets and passes issued for last Saturday will be good this week. Stickers for automobiles may be obtained at the Bureau of Aeronautics.

Purcell Asks Dismissal Of Bondholder's Plea

James A. Purcell, of the Southern Building, who recently purchased the City Club Building at 1312-1320 G street northwest, at a foreclosure sale, yesterday asked the District Supreme Court to dismiss the petition to set aside the sale filed last Saturday by William Cogger, Samuel F. Cole and M. R. S. Embrey, a committee of the holders of second mortgage bonds secured on the property.

Through Attorney Alvin L. Newmyer, Mr. Purcell tells the court that the petition to set aside the sale does not make a sufficient showing to entitle the petitioners to the relief sought. He also denies their right to maintain the action. Hearing on the motion to dismiss has been calendared for Thursday by Attorney Newmyer.

1,000 Children to Give Health Exercises Today

Approximately 1,000 elementary school children of the District will take part in a health day demonstration this morning in front of the Seaton School on I street, between Second and Third streets northwest.

Children from the Gale, Seaton and Blake Schools will take part. Miss Katherine Carroll will be in charge. Physical training exercises and class room health work will be shown. Miss Mary A. Diger is principal of all three schools.

"All right, mister, . . . don't believe a word I say- but try AMOCO-GAS"

It happened in a garage in a small Virginia town, but it could have happened anywhere in the eleven states in which AMOCO-GAS is sold.

A motorist stopped at a pump that happened to be dry. There were three other gases available, but the garage-man suggested AMOCO-GAS.

"No, it costs too much," said the motorist.

"It will save you money in the end and make your car run better than it knows how," said the garage-man.

"Save me money how?"

"More miles to the gallon and by keeping your car out of the shop. I know half-a-dozen cars around here that have gone over 25,000 miles on AMOCO and never had the head off. And when you get on a hill -- why, she'll go over the top so fast you'll think you've stolen the car."

"Go on," said the motorist, "I've heard that story before. I've never found a gas yet that could live up to half the claims made for it."

"All right, mister," said the garage-man, "don't believe a word I say, but try AMOCO-GAS."

He's been using AMOCO-GAS ever since. Right now this same motorist is the best advertisement for AMOCO-GAS in the entire county.

CHURCH UNION HIT BY PRESBYTERIANS

Southern Assembly Does Not Favor Joining Other Branches.

BALTIMOREAN IS HEARD

Charlottesville, Va., May 27 (A.P.).—The general assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church late today definitely declined to go on record as favoring organic union with other churches, but ordered continuance of negotiations with other bodies which favor union.

Ending a two-day battle over one of the oldest questions in the church, the Presbyterians adopted a resolution offered by B. R. Lacy, jr., of Richmond, Va., directing the moderator, Dr. Thomas W. Currie, of Austin, Tex., to appoint a committee of one from each of the seventeen synods to confer with other churches in regard to union. The moderator was named chairman.

Negotiations are to be continued, "without in any sense committing our assembly to organic union with a view to placing before the 1931 assembly any further information of the subject which the committee may secure. Previously the assembly, by a vote of 159 to 148, had discarded a majority committee report and adopted for consideration a minority report favoring union. Before the minority report could be finally adopted, opponents of the union pushed through the Lacy resolution which ontinues negotiations with other churches without approving union with them.

Dr. Dobyns Favors Union.

The closing argument of the long debate was made by Dr. William R. Dobyns, of Birmingham, Ala., retiring moderator, who spoke in support of the minority report favoring union. He answered the objection that the Southern church would lose its identity in the Northern church by asking "If we are so afraid of being swallowed up by a larger church, why not show a little heart in talking of unity with the little associated reformed church?"

Other speakers in favor of union were Dr. I. F. Swallow, of Kansas City, Mo., and the Rev. M. M. MacFerrin, of Augusta, Ga.

A white-haired Texan, Dr. George Summey, of Austin, told the delegates this afternoon that joining other Presbyterian churches in this country would mean lining up with "materialism, animalism, mechanicalism, and even humanism."

"You can hardly favor," he said, "joining a church which besought the Congress of the United States to hang Jeff Davis and others associated with him and have not repented for their sin. We are not quite ready for that."

"Yankee Arrogance" Mentioned.

He pictured an invasion of "Yankee arrogance and shrewdness" should the Northern and Southern churches be united, "that will get your places and take charge of our church."

Dr. Harris Kirk, of Baltimore, who was given the privilege of the floor to address the assembly, said he believed a united single church could best solve the problem of teaching religion to modern youth, whose most popular topic of discussion, he asserted, is religion.

He asked the Southern Presbyterians if they wished to remain "a hermit church in a part of the country where the only sectionalism remaining is religious domination."

Northern Baptists Meet in Cleveland

Controversies Loom on Two Points on Eve of Convention.

Cleveland, May 27 (A.P.).—Thousands of delegates registered here today for the opening tomorrow of the Northern Baptist Convention. The sessions will last six days.

Two possible controversies were in prospect. One of them involved relations with the Federal Council of Churches and the other centered on the proposed union with the Disciples of Christ.

Reports on the merger were expected from majority and minority groups. Opposition was anticipated from one group of Baptists, who believe that baptism by immersion is a "rite without saving function."

A resolution demanding strict enforcement of the prohibition laws was forecast to be presented by the committee on resolutions.

VITALITY!

"SURE! I can finish that today"

A strong, healthy body and mind always respond to the occasion. Employers appreciate and recognize unfailing freshness—always ready—cheerfully ready to carry on—minus that "tired feeling."

DON'T let a weakened body hold you back. Prolonged, it may result in so-called premature old age. Today's happiness and friends may be gone tomorrow. Has it ever been made clear to you that a strong, healthy body depends upon the right number of rich, red-blood-cells?

Thousands of people have a low blood count—to this may be attributed skin troubles, "run-down" systems and even more serious ailments.

Healthy blood should contain about 5,000,000 red corpuscles to every cubic millimeter—those tiny workers which give blood its color and are carriers of nourishment to every part of the body. Rich, red blood is the body's protector against infection and disease. It is dangerous to let the blood count remain below normal.

If you tire easily—lack pep—if your skin is not clear—if your appetite is "gone"—you owe it to yourself and friends to try S.S.S.

When you get your red-blood-cells back up to normal, that sluggish, let-down feeling, lack of appetite, skin troubles disappear. You should get hungry again and sleep soundly; firm flesh should take the place of that which was once flabby. You should feel strong. Your nerves become steady.

S.S.S. helps Nature build rich, red blood. It improves the processes by which the body is nourished.

For more than 100 years S.S.S. has been helping people regain and retain their strength and charm. Thousand of users have testified to its benefits in unsolicited letters of gratitude. Many have found it beneficial to take a few bottles at least once a year to keep their blood in good condition.

S.S.S. is made from strictly fresh vegetable drugs and is easily assimilated. All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

MANGAN AND TRIGG PLAY TODAY

All Seeded Men Win as City Net Play Advances.

TOM MANGAN, defending champion, will meet his second test in the City of Washington tennis championships this afternoon at Rock Creek courts, when he plays the veteran Hugh Trigg in a fourth-round singles match, starting at 4 o'clock.

That Mangan is due for a real battle was indicated yesterday when Trigg easily disposed of Barney Welsh, crack Western High netman, in straight sets, 6—2, 6—2. Mangan's third-round victim yesterday was Richard Willis, whom he defeated by 6—3, 6—1. On Sunday, opening day, he was pressed to defeat Bill Seidell.

Thus far every one of the eight seeded contestants has survived. Dooly Mitchell, No. 1, advanced yesterday to the fourth round by downing Owen Howenstein, 6—0, 6—4, and Frank Shore did likewise by overcoming Joe Rutley, 6—1, 6—1. Bob Considine and Deane Judd, the others of the select eight, advanced to the fourth round on Monday.

Women Complete First Round.

The first round of women's singles was completed yesterday when Mrs. Ruth Martinez, cofavorite with Josephine Dunham, defeated Clara E. Alderton, 6—4, 6—4. Men's doubles also passed the first round stage yesterday with no upsets. Mitchell and Buchanan, Considine and Mangan, and Love and O'Neill, among the stronger pairs, advanced as far as the third round.

Yesterday's results and today's schedule follow:

Capital Women Win Baltimore Golf Match

Special to The Washington Post.

Baltimore, Md., May 27.—Twelve women golfers from Washington, invading the Suburban Club links today, scored a decision over Baltimore club swingers, 19½ to 16½.

Visitors who made a clean sweep of their matches to score 3 points were Mrs. B. Mechley, Miss Winifred Faunce, Mrs. Stephen Colladay and Mrs. Hume Wrong. The course record for women was equaled by Miss Faunce when she made an 83, four over men's par, with only 37 strokes on the first nine. Miss Faunce used a mid-iron to reach the eighth green, while all the other players used drivers. The hole was particularly hard to negotiate because of its exposure to the wind.

ALEXANDRIA SPORTS

Special to The Washington Post.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., May 27.—Thirty-one monograms were presented today for three sports at the annual Alexandria High School letter day exercises.

Those receiving letters in the various sports were as follows: Baseball—Bray, Nicholson, Mudd, Fletcher, Schreiner, Stone, Bruin, Snyder, Stumpp, Williams, Martin, Clift, Nugent and Manager Jackson. Basket ball—Pete Williams, Jeff Williams, Hugh Travers, Wilson Sinclair, Louis Stone, William Stone, Henry Sperling, Curtis Backus and Manager J. C. Lindsey. Track—Capt. Pete Williams, Jeff Williams, Jennier, Snyder, Smoot, Backus, Jacobs and Manager Moriarty.

Alexandria golfers are all enthused over their victory last Sunday when they played off a tie match with the Winchester Club, on the Purcellville course, when the local golfers nosed out the victory, 28 to 26. Illich and Souder led the local golfers when they took the entire 9 points from their opponents.

185 COACHES FAVOR USE OF BLOCKS

Only 5 of 190 College Track Mentors Polled Oppose Them.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 27 (A.P.).—Starting blocks, although disapproved by the International Amateur Athletic Federation in passing on world track records, were given an overwhelmingly favorable majority by responses of 190 college coaches to a questionnaire sent out by officials of Ohio State University, it was announced today.

Larry Snyder, assistant track coach, said he polled the leading college coaches of the country, and that 185 favored the use of the blocks which dispense with the necessity of digging holes in the track at the start of sprint races. Two coaches voted against blocks, and their declared their value was debatable.

Blocks Preserve Track.

Other results of the questionnaire were:

"Do starting blocks give the runner an unfair start?" Yes, 14; no, 167.

"Do you feel there is a greater advantage in starting on the 'flat' with feet braced on the blocks than by digging holes provided the holes are firm enough?" Yes, 44; No, 122.

"Do starting blocks preserve the track?"—Yes, 188; no, none.

"Do starting blocks assure a more even start?" Yes, 173; no, 1.

Mrs. Rodell Leader In Tidewater Tourney

Norfolk, Va., May 27 (A.P.).—Mrs. Kennon Rodwell, of Savannah, Ga., today had the honor of being medalist of the opening rounds of the Women's Tidewater Golf Association tournament being played here. She turned in a score of 90 yesterday. Mrs. Rodwell was a semifinalist in the Southern women's championship tournament earlier in the month. Finals of the Tidewater tournament will be played Friday.

Bloomer Girls to Play Silver Spring Giants

The New York Bloomer Girls, one of the few women's baseball teams touring the counttry, will be the attraction at Silver Spring Sunday, meeting the Silver Spring Giants at 3 o'clock. The Bloomer Girls have signed several newcomers since last seen here. Ethel Condon and "Babe" McCullun, two of the stars, are considered the most capable feminine baseball players in the country.

V. P. I. Nine to Have Two Captains in 1931

Special to The Washington Post.

Blacksburg, Va., May 27.—The V. P. I. Baseball Team could not choose between Reggie Mapp, undefeated pitcher, and Nelson Bibb, crack little second sacker, so the Techmen will have two captains to lead them in defense of their tri-State title next spring. Confirmation of Mapp and Bibb as cocaptains was made by the college athletic council today. Mapp is from Nassawadox, Eastern Shore, and Bibb is from Weyers Cave.

Leaders announced for other sports were: Edgar H. Zirkle, Broadway, captain of track, and Newton Oliverwood, jr., Roanoke, captain of tennis. W. H. Ranson, Bremo Bluff, was chosen manager of baseball and B. R. Lee Staunton, freshman manager.

For track, the appointments are: W. R. Wheele, Hopewell, manager, and M. A. Bristow, Locust Hill, freshman manager.

Upon recommendation of Monogram Club, council made varsity boxing and wrestling major sports of equal ranking with football, basket ball, baseball and track, and likewise approved a recommendation that the senior cheer leader be awarded a monogram to be approved by the athletic association.

Mastro and Taylor To Battle June 19

Chicago, May 27 (A.P.).—Earl Mastro, Chicago featherweight title contender, and Bud Taylor, veteran Terre Haute, Ind., boxer, today were signed by Floyd Fitzsimmons for a 10-round bout at the State Fair Grounds Arena at Detroit, June 19.

Fitzsimmons said he hoped to match the winner with Kid Chocolate, sensational Cuban, for a Detroit bout in August.

Mastro and Taylor met twice in Chicago during the winter season. The first encounter resulted in a 10-round draw, and the second went to Mastro by a technical knockout when Taylor fell through the ropes and was injured in the ninth round.

Fort Myer Defeats Baltimore Polo Team

Special to The Washington Post.

Baltimore, Md., May 27.—When the final whistle blew this afternoon after seven strenuous chukkers the Third Cavalry Polo Team, from Fort Myer, Va., stood winner, 8 to 0, over the Maryland Polo Club Team at Stevenson Field, in the Worthington Valley.

Lieut. Frederick Makinney, of the Army Team, was the highest single scorer, with four goals to his credit. He was goal man, playing the No. 2 position.

Lieut. Charles H. Noble, playing a substitute's job on the Army Four, put over two of the goals, while Capt. Mark Devine and Lieut. Thomas Robinson each accounted for one.

Bill Agee to Race In Marathon Here

High-grade running was assured the national amateur 15-mile run to be held here on June 7 when the entry of Bill Agee, of Baltimore, the defending champion, was received yesterday. Agee will head a team representing the Emorywood A. C. of Baltimore in the race which will be conducted under auspices of the District of Columbia Association, A. A. U., in cooperation with the Welfare and Recreational Association.

GASOLINE ALLEY — A New Acquaintance — By Ed Wheelan

AFTER DAYS AND DAYS BY STEAMER AND BY AIR WALT LANDS AT THE BRAZILIAN PORT OF BAHIA WHERE HE STARTS THE PRACTICAL PART OF HIS MISSION. HIS FIRST CONCERN IS TO PRESENT A LETTER OF INTRODUCTION GIVEN HIM BY MR. WICKER.
I'D LIKE TO LOOK AROUND TOWN — BUT BUSINESS FIRST. I MUST FIND JUAN GOMEZ
I WILL STATE MY ERRAND, SENOR GOMEZ. I CAME TO INVESTIGATE LARGE HOLDINGS OF HARDWOOD TIMBERLAND BELONGING TO THE ESTATE OF COL. HENRI CODA. WHILE HERE I WOULD LIKE TO DRIVE THROUGH THEM
WE KNOW CODA'S INTERESTS WELL HERE, SENOR WALLET, BUT THEY ARE OF SO VAST EXTENT IT WILL TAKE MANY WEEKS.

I KNEW THEY WERE LARGE TRACTS BUT I HAD NO REAL IDEA OF THE SIZE OF THEM. AND THEY ARE VALUABLE?
SOME OF THEM IT WOULD TAKE MONTHS TO REACH BECAUSE THE JUNGLE TRAILS ARE GROWN OVER. THEY ARE WORTH MILLIONS.

THE UNHAPPY PRINCE HAMLET COULD NOT RECONCILE HIMSELF TO HIS MOTHER'S HASTY MARRIAGE TO HIS DEAD FATHER'S BROTHER
IT IS NOT, NOR IT CANNOT COME TO GOOD: BUT BREAK, MY HEART, FOR I MUST HOLD MY TONGUE!
JUST THEN HORATIO, FOLLOWED BY THE OTHER SOLDIERS ENTERED AND TOLD HAMLET ABOUT THE GHOST OF HIS FATHER WHICH THEY HAD SEEN THE NIGHT BEFORE A FIGURE LIKE YOUR FATHER, ARMED AT POINT EXACTLY, CAP-A-PE, APPEARS BEFORE THEM, AND WITH SOLEMN MARCH GOES SLOW AND STATELY BY THEM!
DID YOU NOT SPEAK TO IT?
MY LORD, I DID, BUT ANSWER MADE IT NONE!!
I WILL WATCH TO-NIGHT; PERCHANCE 'TWILL WALK AGAIN!
I WARRANT IT WILL!
IF IT ASSUME MY NOBLE FATHER'S PERSON, I'LL SPEAK TO IT, THOUGH HELL ITSELF SHOULD GAPE AND BID ME HOLD MY PEACE!!
SWEARING THEM ALL TO SECRECY AND PROMISING TO MEET THEM UPON THE PLATFORM THAT VERY NIGHT, HAMLET BID THEM FAREWELL

JONES HOLDS YANKEES TO 4 HITS AS NATS WIN, 7-2

BRITONS ELIMINATE MOE AND WILLING IN UPSETS IN TOURNEY

Voigt, Von Elm and Ouimet Advance in Easy Fashion.

Mackenzie Scores by Default; Jones to Play Today.

By FRANK H. KING.

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, May 27 (A.P.).—Dr. O. F. Willing and Don Moe, representing the American Northwest and also a contrast between the experience of middle age and the brilliance of youth among the invading golfers from the United States, were blown out of the British amateur championship play today.

The defeat of the two Oregonians surprised their Walker Cup team compatriots and British galleries which saw Willing fall before William Spark, a Scotch bank clerk, 2 and 1, and Moe vanquished by Rex Hartley, British Walker Cup player, 4 and 2.

George Voigt, George Von Elm and Francis Ouimet won their matches, as did a number of other Americans of lesser golfing reputations.

Bobby Jones to Play Two Matches Today

With the big field halved, the giants of the game may begin to clash tomorrow. Bobby Jones, Jimmy Johnston, Von Elm and Ouimet will play morning and afternoon tomorrow if they win the morning. Voigt and Roland Mackenzie will play only once.

If Jones and Cyril Tolley, the defending champion, are successful in their morning efforts, they will meet in the fourth round in the afternoon, bringing a contest between the open champion of the United States and the amateur champion of Great Britain.

A 30-mile wind sweeping across St. Andrews fairways today altered all the famous golfing problems of the course and created new ones at every hole. Not only did shots not properly hit do weird things in the air, but the wind made duffers of some of the world's best putters.

Willing Weak On Green.

Willing was one of the putting victims, for weakness in the greens was one of the main causes of his downfall. It was Scotsmen's day at St. Andrews, and the player who could run up his approach shots instead of pitching them high was the one who won his match.

The whole nature of the course was changed. Critics who complained yesterday that the layout was for drives and niblicks only, found today they needed drives and brassie clouts for the same holes. Around the treacherous "loop" district of six holes, no player seemed able to tell what would happen to a ball shot on the exposed greens where a bare touch would send it skidding, perhaps into a bunker.

American Cup Team Reduced to Six.

The American Walker Cup players have been reduced to six but the British also suffered losses in J. A. Stout.

Three Americans, Roland Mackenzie, Walter G. Fovargue, Aberdeen, Wash., and Rowland Saunders, Miami, Fla., advanced today without playing, their opponents scratching their entries.

Well-known British players winning the right to continue in the Indians Win Twin Bill From Chisox, 3-2, 9-8

Cleveland, May 27 (A.P.).—The Cleveland Indians won both ends of their double-header from the Chicago White Sox by scores of 3 to 2 and 9 to 8. A ninth-inning rally by the Sox, in which they scored four runs, gave them a momentary lead, but Cleveland staged a rally of their own, scoring two runs in their half of the ninth and winning 9 to 8. Jolley hit a home run in each game.

NET LAURELS TO COCHET, TILDEN

Both Are Brilliant in Play for French Doubles Titles.

AUTEUIL, France, May 27 (A.P.).—Two men—William T. Tilden, of the United States, and Henri Cochet, of France—Stood head and shoulders above all the other players engaged in the French tennis championships in doubles today.

Cochet's uncanny tennis brought the championship to France—the men's doubles—and Tilden's brilliant work placed the United States in the finals of the mixed doubles with a splendid chance to carry off the title tomorrow.

Paired with Jacques Brougnon, who seconded him solidly, Cochet undertook a varied and receptive plan of campaign. The French Davis Cup pair rang the changes from soft drop shots and lobs to fast drives and deadly smashes. Baffled, their Australian opponents, Harry Hopman and Jim Willard, were roundly beaten in the final at 6—3, 9—7, 6—3.

Tilden Overwhelms Borotra.

Tilden, playing as if he held a personal grudge against Jean Borotra, completely swamped the Basque in the semifinals of the mixed doubles. The straight set victory of Tilden and his young German partner, Cecilie Aussem, at 6—1, 6—2, might have been more crushing had not Elizabeth Ryan, Borotra's partner, scored many points for the Franco-American combination. Fraulein Aussem was little more than a spectator during most of the match.

The great playing of Tilden and Cochet had the fans discussing with relish the prospect of a duel between them in the singles final. Experts declared that never before had either player reached such a peak of play-

REDS TRADE 2 MORE TO GIANTS

Obtain Crawford for Allen, Outfielder, and Donohue.

By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor).

NEW YORK, May 27 (A.P.).—The biggest major league baseball swap of the season was completed today by the New York Giants and Cincinnati Reds, each with the hope that the results will improve their chances in the sensational National League pennant race.

Although made public as two separate transactions, the trade involves altogether the shipment of Larry Benton, right-handed pitching veteran, and Pat Crawford, slugging young infielder, to Cincinnati in exchange for Second Baseman Hughey Critz, Outfielder Ethan Allen and Pitcher Pete Donohue.

Both clubs, as is the quaint major league custom, scrupulously avoided any mention of cash but the understanding is that the Giants balanced the deal with a sum estimated at from $25,000 to $50,000. That portion of the transaction involving Crawford, Allen and Donohue was announced today, several days after the preliminary Benton-for-Critz trade.

Both clubs appear strengthened by the shift. The Giants plugged an infield with Critz, best defensive sec-

Big Ten Delays Army Ban In Football for Five Years

CHICAGO, May 27 (A.P.).—The recent Big Ten move to sever athletic relations with the Army because of the three-year rule, will not be effective until 1935, at the earliest, it became known today when it was revealed the Army and the University of Illinois had entered into a contract for home and home games in 1933 and 1934.

The order, issued by the Big Ten faculty committee, was understood to be effective after next fall's game between the Army and the Illini. The new schedule, however, had been arranged before the order, but held secret until today.

Under the new schedule, the Army will play at Illinois in 1933 with the Illini at New York in 1934. The 1933 game probably will be played at Soldier Field, Chicago, as a feature of the World Fair sports carnival.

Several conference leaders today said that because of the new schedule between Illinois and the Army, the faculty committee's action may be rescinded altogether in so far as the Army is concerned.

JOE JUDGE IS COSTAR IN TEAM'S 7TH TRIUMPH IN ROW, LEADING IN GENERAL ATTACK ON HOYT

Johnson Will Vary Hurling Cycle With Braxton Today.

His Pitching Staff Is a Standout, Says Nats' Manager.

Special to The Washington Post.

NEW YORK, May 27.—Manager Walter Johnson is not simply selecting a pitcher for each game as it comes along these days, but is doing considerable planning for the future, the result being that he is figuring on breaking his regular rotation system of assignments tomorrow and turning the slab-work over to one E. Garland Braxton.

This slim southpaw, sent away from the Yankee camp, along with Nick Cullop, for the veteran "Dutch" Ruether a few seasons back, always has been hard for the New Yorkers to beat. According to the Nats' pilot, Braxton is in as good form now as he ever has been since a member of the Washington club and stands an excellent chance of turning in victory. Tomorrow's game will mark Braxton's 1930 debut as a starter, although he has taken part in a number of games as a relief flinger and has managed to emerge with one victory, while also being charged with a defeat. It probably will be Herb Pennock on the Yankee hill opposing the southpaw.

Marberry Slated to Twirl Tomorrow.

Fred Marberry, who pitched such a bang-up game against the Red Sox in Washington last Sunday, allowing but three scattered singles, is due to draw the assignment in the final game of this set Thursday, Johnson believing that he has a better chance of beating the Yankees than he has the Athletics. This will make Irving Hadley and Adolph Liska available for the Decoration Day games against the Mackmen in the Quaker City on Friday.

The great showing of the Washington Club seems to be upsetting the New York Scribes as well as the Yankee Team, and Manager Johnson held a regular reception at Nat headquarters this morning when several writers were on hand to find out "how come."

Johnson's explanation was quite simple. "We're simply getting good hitting, good pitching, good fielding, and playing heads-up ball, especially on the bases," he said. "We probably are playing over our heads in some particulars," he continued, "but it stands to reason that, after having met every team in the league in at least one series and after having come from behind to win any number of games, we must be pretty fair. The season is so young that I'm not claiming that we will win the pennant, although there is no harm in trying, but I do claim that we have won our games on merit and, after having seen all of the other teams in the league, I think we are just as good, right now at least, as any of them."

Rice and Judge Always Dependable.

Johnson then elaborated to some extent on specific items. "Take Sam Rice, for instance," he said, "We don't expect him to finish up above .400 in batting, but Sam always has been a good hitter and you can count on him to be right up there near the top. Perhaps Joe Judge is hitting better than he knows how, but he, too, can be depended to always end up better than .300. While we have benefitted greatly from these spurts and that of Joe Cronin, we have gotten little help until yesterday from Goose Goslin, which sort of offsets the unusual hitting of the other three.

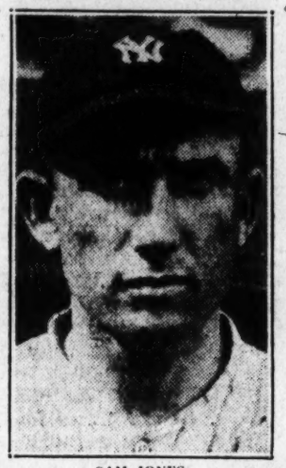
As to pitching, I am satisfied that right now we have the best rounded staff in the league. I have seven or eight men ready, any one of whom has a good chance of winning his game every time he starts. This means that coupled with our snappy fielding combination, we figure to be strong defensively at all times. One or two other clubs may have a better man than our best, but for day in and day out work, I think the Washington staff in its present form is a standout.

Nats' Base Running Is Praised.

Before the confab was over, Johnson then brought out one other phase of the Nats' play this season which has to a certain extent, been overlooked. "Have you noticed us on the bases?" he asked. "We've stretched more singles into doubles and have had more men go from first to third on singles already this season that we did all of last. This doesn't mean that all of our men are particularly fast. It's just that they are on their toes, have been told that loafing on the paths will not be tolerated, and they have been getting away with it about nine times out of every ten."

In his summing up the Nat skipper said: "Granting that we've surprised ourselves as well as others so far, we've got a good defensive team and a good hitting team. We can count on our fielding standing up and, even if we slump a little in hitting, there is enough power there to get us a fair share of runs. As to pitching, some of my men already have had bad days along with good ones, and I think that, barring injuries and sickness to several at the same time, we can count on our staff to go along just about as it has been. As regards gameness, the boys simply will not admit defeat as long as the battle lasts and I'll guarantee that we've got the 'fightingest' club in the league. All in all, I've got a team that I'm proud of. We aren't worrying about where we will finish. We're out there trying to win every game as it comes along and we'll let the question of finish take care of itself."

Outfielder Goose Goslin rehurt his injured leg while dodging a shot close to him late in yesterday's game and was limping perceptibly today. He insisted upon playing, however, telling his manager that it looked as if he had at last started coming out of his batting slump and that he really could not afford to lay off and possibly drop back in it again. The New York Club's physician examined Goslin's injury before today's game and found nothing seriously wrong.



SAM JONES.

IN THE WAKE OF THE GAME

Special to The Washington Post.

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, May 27.—A rookie third baseman, recommended to President Clark Griffith by a friend, was given a perfunctory trial before today's game. He answers to the name of Pete Evers and has been playing with the St. John's College Team, of Brooklyn, being due to graduate next month. He is a chunky fellow, 21 years of age, who hits right-handed. He played well in the field and has been told to show up again tomorrow.

Judge's double, which drove over a run in the first, was a shot down the third base line, just the place where the Yankees did not expect him to hit.

Waite Hoyt started whining almost from the time he stepped on the mound, differing with many of Umpire Ormsby's ball and strike decisions. Once he sat down in the box and sadly shook his head, bringing forth jeers from the stands.

Ruth, who was playing well over toward center when Cronin came up in Washington's first with two on the paths, had to make a hard run to drag down the Nat shortstop's looper close to the foul line.

Spencer made a fine catch of Larry's foul in the home opener, grabbing the ball by reaching out while standing on the top step of the Nats' dugout.

Dusty Cooke, playing left for the Yankees when right-handers are working, made a fine catch of Sam West's liner in the second, taking the ball at arm's length as it was sailing away from him near the left-field line.

Babe Ruth surprised the Nats in general and Bluege in particular when he laid down a bunt starting round four. This was the first hit made off Jones.

One of the most unusual of baseball plays came in the fourth canto when, with two Yankees out, Gehrig on third and Dickey on first, Jones uncorked a wild pitch. Cooke hit at it, making his third strike, and then tore for first. As a result, Gehrig scored, Dickey took second, the batter was safe at first and Jones was charged with an error instead of being credited with a strike out.

Judge's second double of the game, opening the sixth, missed going into the right-field stands by less than a foot. The blow did the Nats no good, however, and Judge was caught at third a moment later when, with the hit-and-run on, Cronin missed the ball.

Ruth opened the home sixth with a drive which also hit the screen guarding the right-field stands in flight, but he was held to a single when West took the ball on a carom and hustled it back to the infield. A snappy double-play, Bluege to Myer to Judge, kept this blow from doing the Nats any harm.

Catcher Roy Spencer is improving as a hitter in leaps and bounds. Today he cracked out a double, which scored the first run in the seventh inning.

Nats Take Early Lead as Veteran Holds Yanks in Check.

Judge Slams Triple, Two Doubles and a Single.

By FRANK H. YOUNG
(Staff Correspondent of The Post).

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, May 27. — Walter Johnson's scrappy Nationals made it two in a row here this afternoon and extended their winning streak to seven games when they downed the New York Yankees, 7 to 2, thus retaining a lead of four games over the second-place Athletics.

"Sad Sam" Jones, who formerly drew his salary for wearing Yankee livery, pitched for Washington and the veteran kept his slate clean, turning in his sixth victory of the season.

With the Nationals showing flashes of batting punch which has carried them to the top of the league against the combined slants of Waite Hoyt, Lou McEvoy and Ed Wells and Jones allowing but four hits, three being credited to Babe Ruth, it was not a hard game for Johnson's team to win.

Led by Joe Judge, who had a triple, two doubles and a single to show for his batting efforts, the Nationals cracked out fourteen hits and at least two were bunched in four different frames. Washington's attack was quite general, with every member having a hand in it except Sam West and Ossie Bluege;

MATES' FREAK STYLES HELPFUL, SAYS SCHMELING

Max Is Facing All Types of Punches

Meets 4 Styles of Fighting Each Day in Training.

Orthodox Left-Hand Blows of De Mave Easily Blocked.

By MAX SCHMELING
(As told to Jimmy Powers).

ENDICOTT, N. Y., May 27.—I have been reading stories from some experts who have been hundreds of miles away from my camp discussing my training methods. Only good fighters like Benny Leonard or reporters who are actually witnessing the workouts really know just what is going on.

Some may say it is funny that unknown heavyweights can score punches and clowns can last two rounds with me but there is an explanation for this.

I am in the ring with these men and I know what they are doing. I am the closest to them and I have to solve them myself. Each one has a freak style and sometimes I get four freak styles in one afternoon, each one fresh and each one different. It is as if you started to read the plot of a novel and the first chapter was in Greek and the second in Swedish and the third in Chinese.

De Mave Is More Orthodox.

I am boxing with, say George Neroh. George is big and strong. Yet I watch his gloves closely and his eyes. When he lets a punch go he closes his eyes, shifts his hips one way, his shoulders another and his looping punches travel in weird lines. Sometimes he himself does not know where they are going and yet I am supposed to know.

Then there is Don Petrin. He is strictly a jabber-and-run type. Don is fast on his feet. He moves in and he moves away and he is light. Stanley Poreda is another man who throws his punches from unorthodox angles. When I crouch and see these punches coming from a dozen different directions I get eye practice and that is what I need.

Then I get in the ring with Jack De Mave. Jack is a regulation boxer He does everything in the modern formula. He holds his left just like a boxer. He shoots it just like a thousand other boxers do. I can block that in my sleep. His right is held the way most rights are and when he lets it go its old stuff.

Rocky Adams Is Another Freak.

So, I get through with the clowns and the freaks and then I work more effectively against De Mave. What good would it do me to murder all my men every afternoon. I would get little good out of that.

This Rocky Adams is another freak. He throws his right hand high in the air as if he were going to tip his hat and then he slaps it down at my face. My eyes must be quick to see it coming. My bobbing and weaving must be quick to dodge. I do and I get my back, shoulder and neck muscles strengthened and loosened up. So there is a reason, my friends, for everything in our camp, ja?

—Churchill Downs Selections—

By J. B. SNODGRASS.

THE fifth race seems to be the best on a rather featureless card at Churchill Downs today. TANTIVY seems to have been dropped in a favorable spot with horses of cheaper grade than he has been running with, and he should only have to run back to his last effort to get the purse. THE SOUTHERNER is the strongest rival the Whitney-bred horse is meeting, and at the weights looks much the best. THE SOUTHERNER will have STOCK MARKET to beat for the place. HERRICK, if he were as good as he was a year ago, could make it interesting for any in this field.

FIRST RACE—The first race, at 6½ furlongs, has the largest field of the program and embraces horses which have beaten one another. ZOOM appears the class of the lot. ONE LONG HOP has been improving in recent racing, second the other day, and may be the contender. MY HOBBY also has a chance to be in the money.

SECOND RACE—This race is for 2-year-olds and the form is obscured. TWILL is handed out as the one and is picked to win. It is a maiden race for colts and geldings. TWILL may be a good price. The contender will be ELYSIUM. MR. MOON has been trying hard to get out of the maiden class and should make a good stagger at some part of this purse.

THIRD RACE—TOMMY TICKLE has the edge on the field of the third event, with BLACK DANCER most to fear. FIRE UNDER has a chance, but prefers a heavy track. RAY RUDDY, a recent long shot winner, might flash the speed that landed him at $73 for 2.

FOURTH RACE—SCOTLAND is fit and should repeat in the fourth race He recently beat a field as good as this one. CLEORA has speed, and the route of six furlongs suits. NETTIE PEBBLES ran the best race of her career last Saturday, but she wants a longer distance. She is dangerous at this route, and will be favorite.

SIXTH RACE—GOODMAN maybe best of the cheap field of the sixth race, but will have JAMES M to beat. BUSTLING has a chance for show money. DONALD has a chance in this race. He was once a stake horse.

SEVENTH RACE—ORATOR just missed the last time out and should not fail in the seventh race. He is well placed in this field. CHATTER BLACK would do better in the mud, but should be the contender. MISS SCOTIA may last to get third money.

IRONSIDES has been shipped to Thistledown from Belmont Park and is coupled with BEWITHUS in the fourth race there. He stands out in this field.

The Rancocas Stable's entry of LEUCITE and ZIDA should not fail in the sixth race at Washington Park.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—SIS AGNES, $33.08, $22.24, $8.70; LADY FINGERS, $8.36, $4.86; FAIR ROSALIND, $2.96.

SIS AGNES, never far back and under slight restraint, moved up stoutly on extreme outside entering stretch and, getting on even terms with LADY FINGERS a sixteenth out, was going strongly at the wind-up. LADY FINGERS assumed the lead right after the start, saved ground wherever possible, drew out midway of stretch when threatened by FAIR ROSALIND, but weakened near end. FAIR ROSALIND, racing slightly wide while forcing pace, faltered when final test came.

SECOND RACE—Five furlongs. Purse, $1,200. For maiden 2-year-olds. Start good. Won easily; place, driving. Went to post at 2:32. Off at 2:41. Winner, E. Byfield's ch. f. (2), by Omar Khayyam—Atala. Two-dollar mutuels paid—NORMAHAL, $20.88, $10.10, $6.22; GRADISET, $31.06, $15.76; IN BETWEEN, $4.52.

NORMAHAL was sent into contention on far turn, slipped through on inside when GRADISET ran out on turn, continuing gamely, had speed in reserve at finish. GRADISET, in command soon after start, was racing stoutly when bearing out on stretch turn and, racing gamely when straightened out, held IN BETWEEN safe. Latter followed the pace closely on inside, held on well in the drive and only weakened final sixteenth. SPRING CLEANING, away slowly and outpaced to the stretch, closed strongly while saving ground. JOURNEY'S END was never a serious contender.

THIRD RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Purse, $1,200; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 3:06½. Off at 3:07. Winner, Brown Hotel Stable's b. c. Two-dollar mutuels paid—OLD CALLY, $12.90, $5.00, $4.44; BOB KERNAN, $5.76, $4.34; MYTH, $4.32.

OLD CALLY raced on inside under stout restraint until reaching far turn and, taken to outside when ready, gradually wore leaders down to get up in final strides. BOB KERNAN raced on outside of DUELIST entire trip, raced into defeat in the stretch run, but could not withstand winner's bid in final drive. MYTH, forward from start, but racing slightly wide through stretch, closed resolutely to outfinish CUDDLE. The latter might have been more formidable had Pinnerty made move sooner, as he was going strong at end. DUELIST, usually back in the early stages, set the pace for entire trip on inside, but weakened badly in last sixteenth. NELLIE LYONS saved much ground.

FOURTH RACE—One mile. Purse, $1,200. The Lexington Road. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won easily; place, driving. Went to post at 3:33. Off at 3:34. Winner, J. Kedris' ch. c. Two-dollar mutuels paid—PROSE AND POETRY, $4.28, $3.08, $2.36; PORTMANTEAU, $4.18, $3.04; LADRONE, $3.36.

PROSE AND POETRY, much the best, raced forwardly under steadying restraint and, disposing of PORTMANTEAU with ease at head of stretch, was never in danger thereafter. PORTMANTEAU followed PROSE closely first half mile, took the lead when the latter broke down, continued gamely through stretch, but was no match for the winner. LADRONE had to be taken up sharply to avoid striking NURCOLA and could not reach leaders thereafter. RUSHING made a game bid midway stretch while racing wide, then weakened.

FIFTH RACE—Six and one-half furlongs. Purse, $1,500; allowances. The Wholesale Sadlery Association. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 3:57½. Off at 4:06. Winner, H. P. Whitney's b. m. (5), by Chicle—Tanya. Trained by M. Goldblatt. Value to winner, $1,150; second, $225; third, $125. Time, 0:23, 0:46 2-5, 1:11 2-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—TANTIVY, $12.50, $4.66, $2.36; FIDDLER, $7.90, $3.34; JOCK, $2.18.

TANTIVY, outpaced first half mile, moved up strongly on inside entering stretch, was kept in close quarters last sixteenth by FIDDLER, but came on through to win in a drive. FIDDLER was rushed into the lead soon after the start, bore in badly to inside when nearing last sixteenth, but held on courageously when straightened again. JOCK raced behind the pace but was allowed to race wide at first half mile and, weakening in last furlong, finished on own courage.

SIXTH RACE—Five furlongs. Purse, $1,200; claiming. For 2-year-olds. Start good. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 4:30. Off at 4:31. Winner, E. B. McLean's ch. f. (2), by Messenger—By Play. Two-dollar mutuels paid—RUNNING GIRL, $10.40, $3.92, $2.94; UPRIGHT, $3.22, $2.36; KLAIR, $3.74.

RUNNING GIRL, hustled into the lead, saved ground on both turns, shook off repeated challenges from UPRIGHT through stretch and, responding gamely in the drive, was drawing out at end. UPRIGHT, forced wide while improving position on the turn, raced to almost even terms with the winner midway of the stretch, continued gamely when hard urged, but was not good enough. KLAIR, outpaced to stretch, closed stoutly on outside and was going strongly at the end.

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,200; claiming. For 3-year old fillies. Start good. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 4:58. Off at 5:00. Winner, Gallagher and Combs' b. f. Two-dollar mutuels paid—POMPON, $11.14, $5.06, $5.00; MADCAP MARVIN, $8.96, $7.24; BUNCH OF LILLIES, $11.44.

POMPON, well up on outside and, responding gamely through stretch, gradually wore leaders down in hard drive. MADCAP MARVIN, away tardily, worked way up fast after reaching far turn and, closing unusually strong, would have gotten up in few more strides. BUNCH OF LILLIES came with a rush on inside in last eighth and might have improved position, but for being held in close quarters. GO TO IT gradually disposed of MISS ELIZABETH, drew out to a good advantage on the turn, but weakened badly in the drive.

By WILLIAM F. DISMER, JR.

BECAUSE two Central High Shool baseball pitchers of only mediocre ability were given chances to win their letters yesterday, while the ace of the staff was kept on the bench, that school is resting on the bottom of the 1930 Interhigh League this morning, and Tech, the winner by 10 to 7, is tied with Business for second place.

Knowing that Jack Cooke, who turned in one of the best pitching performances of the series had already earned his letter, Jack Pollock and Bill Childress were sent to the mound for Central against its ancient rival, and when the latter was finally removed in the eighth inning for Cooke, the game was already lost.

Central, however, would not have come ven close to their old foes had it not been for a seven-run uprising in the fourth which gave it a momentary lead. With two mates on the bases, Bob Hall poled out the longest home run of the series, a drive to the race track in left field, and with this start, Central scored four more runs on as many hits, a walk, and an error.

Russell Checks Slugging.

At this stage, Everett Russell, Tech's winning pitcher, entered the box and after disposing of the rest of the side, held Central to five hits for the rest of the game.

Capt. Benny Spigel, of Tech, however, ruffled at the way his mates were being treated, avenged his team in the fifth with a circuit smash over the center-field wall to score two men ahead of him, and Thomas scored with the tying run in the same inning when, on first as the result of a fielder's choice, he stole second and third and continued home on Catcher Dick Cooke's throw into left field.

Although beaten, a Central batter came through with the best hitting performance of any one game, Dick Cooke lining out five clean singles. Previously, no player had been able to make over four. Two of Cooke's blows came during the fourth-inning melee, each counting in the scoring.

Eastern-Western Close Scholastic Sports Year

The 1930-1931 scholastic sports year will be officially terminated this afternoon, when Eastern and Western clash in the last game of the current baseball series at 3:45 o'clock. The standing of the Eastern Nine will be unaffected by the result, but Western can gain a three-cornered tie with Business and Tech by a victory. A defeat would send it into the cellar with Central. Eastern, however, will be seeking its twelfth straight interhigh victory as well as its twelfth triumph of the season, having been defeated but twice—both times by Emerson.

REDS AND GIANTS MAKE SECOND DEAL

ond baseman in the league. The Reds, in Benton, obtained a right-hander who may return to form in new uniform and a long-distance clouter in Crawford, who probably will be assigned to first base in place of the aging George Kelly.

Donohue has not had an effective pitching year since 1926, but he is younger than Benton and may stage a comeback. Allen is a light sticker, but fast and a good defensive outfielder, so that the Giants may be able to use him under the McGraw alternating system.

Dan Howley, the Reds' pilot, expects Crawford to fit into the reconstruction scheme of things at Cincinnati. As a result of the latest deal, the Reds have undergone the biggest shakeup of any major league club this year. Outside of pitching, the only 1929 regulars holding jobs are Catcher Sukeforth, Shortstop Ford, Third Baseman Stripp and Outfielders Swanson and Callaghan, the latter two alternating in the post between Heilmann and Meusel.

The Boy Who Made Good —By H. T. Webster

SAY, ELMER, HAVE YA GOT A COPY OF THAT QUESTIONNAIRE YA FILLED OUT FOR TH' U.S. CENSUS BUREAU? I WANTA SHOW IT TO SOME FRIENDS TO-NIGHT
YEAH, I'VE GOT A FEW EXTRA COPIES
THAT WAS TH' FUNNIEST THING I EVER READ IN MY LIFE! WHEN I READ "SO'S YOUR OLD MAN" THAT YOU PUT DOWN AS AN ANSWER TO TH' QUESTION—"ARE YOU A NATIVE BORN AMERICAN?" I NEARLY DIED LAUGHIN'!
AN' YA PUT DOWN AFTER TH' QUESTION—"HAVE YA A RADIO?"—"YES AN' NO." THAT WAS A WOW!
I HEAR YA DONE A GOOD JOB WITH TH' PROHIBITION STRAW VOTE
I'LL SAY I DID!
I PUT A CROSS AFTER ENFORCEMENT AN' AFTER MODIFICATION AN' AFTER REPEAL
YOU'RE MIGHTY LUCKY TO HAVE SUCH A KEEN SENSE OF HUMOR. I WISH I HAD IT
YEAH, I'VE ALWAYS BEEN ABLE T' SEE TH' FUNNY SIDE OF THINGS. IT HELPS A LOT IN THIS GLOOMY OLD WORLD

BRITISH ELIMINATE 2 AMERICAN HOPES

competition included T. A. Torrance, John Nelson Smith, Roger Wethered, Maj. C. O. Hezlet, Robert Harris and the Hon. Michael Scott and others. T. A. Bourn, English native champion, was eliminated.

The defeat of Willing and Moe today raised the question of whether the American Walker Cup players are in danger of becoming stale. Johnston and Voigt yesterday had tough fights against strong opponents, and, although Voigt won today from J. R. A. Stroyan, 6 up and 4 to play, his golf was not up to the pitch at Sandwich last week.

Von Elm, in defeating Dr. Gardiner Hill, 4 and 2, seemed on his game, however.

British Hopes Rising.

St. Andrews presents such new problems from day to day under the changing conditions that British hopes are rising that other unknowns such as William Spark will crop up to reduce the American field.

Cochet could do nothing wrong. He brought off hazardous shots with ease Big Bill looked like the Tilden of 1921.

The old rivals meet in mixed doubles tomorrow with the title at stake as Cochet, paired with Mrs. Eileen Bennett Whittingstall, of England, also reached the final round, defeating Mrs. Phoebe Watson and J. Colin Gregory, of England, 6—2, 4—6, 6—4. Cochet and Mrs. Whittingstall are the defending champions.

Miss Ryan, a British resident but a daughter of California, gained the third round of the women's singles at the expense of Mme. Bordes, France, winning without pressure at 6—1, 6—3. Mrs. Heleh Wills Moody, Helen Jacobs and Wilbur Coen, the other American entrants, were idle today.

JONES HOLDS YANKS TO 4 HITS

Hoyt Chased; Judge Hits Triple; Two Doubles, Single.

in the third, this being made from singles by Rice and Judge and Myer's tap which was turned into a double play while Rice was crossing the plate.

Myer's Error Paves Way for Run.

An error by Myer put the Yankees in the way of their marker in the fourth. It came on Dickey's roller after Ruth had opened with a safe bunt and fallen a double-play victim and Gehrig had walked. The miscue on what should have been the third out let Gehrig take third and he registered when a third strike to Cooke was clear over Spencer's head, being charged as an error for Jones when Cooke advanced to second.

This ended the scoring until the seventh, when Lary's error on Bluege's roller, Spencer's double and Jones' single netted two more, while the Nats used their eighth to bring their total to 7 while driving Hoyt off the hill. Judge opened this round with his fourth successive hit, a triple down the right-field line. Myer immediately scoring him with a one baser to center. This brought McEvoy into action and Cronin immediately singled Myer to third. Bluege's sacrifice fly, Spencer's single and an air sacrifice by Jones did the rest.

Pinch Hitter Reese Gets Double.

In the home half of round 8 the natives got one of these runs back, the ingredients in its making being Pinch Hitter Jimmy Reese's opening double to left, Lary's useful out and Ruth's single. When Cronin let Lazzeri's hot roller skid through his legs, Ruth took third and the batter went all the way to second. Jones prevented further damage, however, by holding Gehrig to a hoist to Goslin.

It looked as though the Nats might add to their total in the ninth when Goslin opened against Wells with a single and Myer followed suit after Judge had fanned. Loepp, who ran for Goslin, was caught at home on an attempted double steal, however. With two out in the home half, Chapman coaxed a walk, but he died at first watching Pinch Hitter Hargrave go down swinging at a third strike.

THE SECRET IS IN THE BLEND

You'll find no fancy trimmings to El Producto—just quality tobaccos blended to give a mild, distinctive and unchanging character—and made into generous sizes that most smokers appreciate.

That blend is the secret of El Producto's popularity—it's a blend that cannot be duplicated and, what's more, never varies.

And that is one reason why El Producto is a big favorite in every size—be it 10c, 2 for 25c, or 3 for 50c.

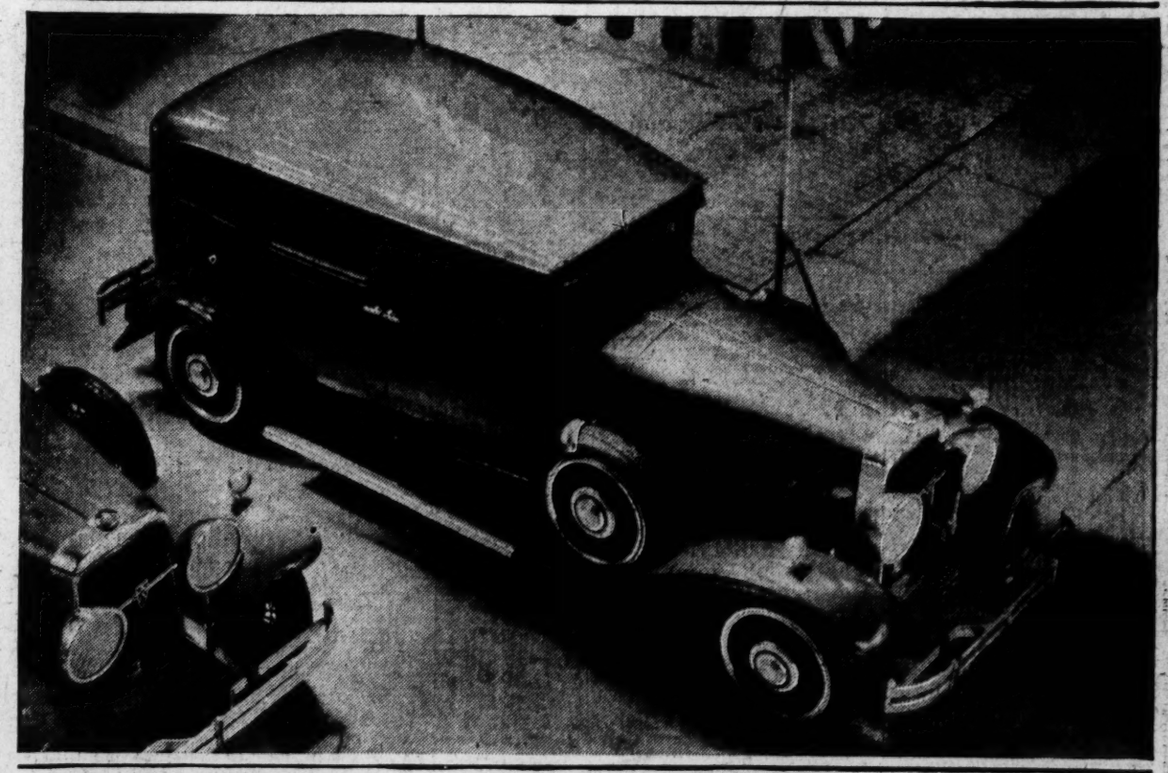
THE NEW PEERLESS
PRODUCT OF AMERICA'S OLDEST FINE CAR BUILDER



30 YEARS... the proof of Peerless permanence

1930 MARKS the thirtieth Peerless year. Peerless is the only existing car to be exhibited at the New York automobile show of 1900. Peerless is America's oldest fine car builder.

DURING THIS thirty-year period more than 900 manufacturers have entered the automobile business! Now only 32 remain. This is indicative of what it has taken and still takes to live and grow in America's fastest moving industry.

THIS THIRTY years of pioneering, development and growth is proof of Peerless permanence—a record of accomplishment and stability over a longer length of time than can be cited by any other fine car builder.

TODAY PEERLESS is more active—growing faster than at any time in its long history. In its new and completely modernized plants three entirely new cars are being built. New efficiencies to create even greater values—new methods to make a Peerless even more long-lived and trustworthy.

THE NEW PEERLESS cars in the hands of owners and after thousands of miles on the road have proved themselves in every way capable of carrying forward the great Peerless pledge and tradition—"All that the Name Implies."

WILL YOU see and ask to drive the new Peerless? Three cars... three prices... all eights. The Custom under $3000; The Master under $2000; The Standard under $1500. (Prices at factory.)

IRREGULAR TREND HITS STOCK SALES

Farm Implement Shares Suffer Losses While Utilities Advance.

CARRIERS PROVE HEAVY

New York, May 27 (A.P.).—The market behaved erratically today in a relatively dull session. Professionals, who were virtually the only participants, seemed uncertain whether to take the short or the long side in this abbreviated trading week, and tried their hands at both, with the result that the market, viewed from the close, was highly irregular.

Bears searching for weak spots singled out the farm implement shares in view of the diminishing sales reported by manufacturers of agricultural machinery for April and the first half of May. Bulls singled out their old friends, the utilities, finding enough encouragement in the current rumor crop to send up prominent issues one to five points.

Rails, as was to have been expected, were heavy, for another batch of April earnings statements showed a preponderance of declines. The first 44 carriers reporting showed decreases averaging 33 per cent in the net railway operating income item for last month.

U. S. Steel Up 1 Point.

Most of the so-called pivotal industrials acted well. U. S. Steel got up to 174½, its high for the movement, although it reacted from that level and closed just a point higher. National Biscuit was strong, while American Can, Westinghouse and General Electric displayed marked firmness. General Motors was an exception, dipping as low as 50 and closing at 51⅛ for a net loss of 1⅛.

International Harvester was forced to absorb heavy liquidation, breaking more than 4 points to 98⅛. At the closing price of 94¾ it was exactly 3 points below Monday's final quotation. J. I. Case, which had touched 317 yesterday, yielded 16½ points net and closed only a point above the bottom. Oliver Farm Equipment declined 3 points net and Caterpillar Tractor reacted 1½.

The utilities came into prominence early in the session and by noon were 2 to 4 points higher. During the afternoon, however, considerable selling appeared which reduced or eliminated the gains, but the final trading saw a vigorous rally in the group. Peoples Gas finished at the new high of 324¾, up 5¼. Electric Power & Light, much more active, advanced 5 and there were gains of nearly 1 to 3 points in American Telephone, American & Foreign Power, Consolidated Gas of New York, Standard Gas & Electric and Public Service of New Jersey.

Oils Remain Firm.

Oils held firm on the strength of favorable reports regarding the curtailment program in California and the reduced output in that field during the past week. Tidewater Associated, whose president denied that merger negotiations with Continental were in progress or being contemplated, advanced more than a point to within a fraction of its 1930 high.

St. Paul railroad issues were again under pressure, and nearly reached their year's minimums. Southern Railway, Erie, Canadian Pacific, Southern Pacific, Lackawanna and New York Central dropped 1 to 3. Boston & Maine, moving against the trend, rose 1½.

The specialties were irregular. United Aircraft was bid up more than 2 points and Worthington Pump nearly 3. Hosiery stocks weakened, Julius Kayser slipping to a new low for the year on a 2-point decline. Phoenix lost 1½. Foster Wheeler, which manufacturers equipment for natural gas properties, soared 3 points.

Tariff Delay Troubles.

Aside from the railroad earnings figures and the better news from the California oil districts, the day's developments of interest to Wall street were few. The return of the tariff bill to conference led to some apprehensions, for financial circles generally would like to see that measure disposed of.

James A. Farrell, president of U. S. Steel, announced in San Francisco that his company was planning an expansion program on the Coast which would include a development of the Columbia Steel properties acquired several months ago. Fred W. Sargent, president of Chicago & Northwestern Railway, said he expected a gradual increase in the company's business, although the volume would not equal last year's. Monday's car loadings by the road were the largest for any day this year.

Grain prices sagged. Wheat dropped about a cent on bearish Canadian and Kansas reports, while corn lost from ½ to ¾ cent on good weather and a bearish Missouri State report.

The foreign exchanges were featureless, with sterling cables unchang tureless, with Sterling Cables unchanged.

NEW YORK COTTON.

New York, May 27 (A.P.).—After moderate declines at the opening day, cotton prices on the New York Cotton Exchange rallied to close firm and generally higher. New crop months showed gains of from 6 to 13 points, with July the exception to the trend, being 1 point under.

The opening was steady at a decline of 3 points to an advance of 2 points. Prices eased during the early trading under realizing on liquidation and some local or commission house selling of the new crop positions. This was encouraged by reports of generally good weather in the South, while there was selling of July on bearish statistical features and unfavorable trade advices from Liverpool and Manchester. July led the decline and there was some selling of that position against purchases of new crop months, which eased off to 14.90 for old October and 14.69 for the new December contract, making net losses of about 2 to 4 points on the fall and winter months. Offerings tapered off at the decline and there was increased covering in the late trading which sent prices into new high ground for the day, with the old October selling up to 15.03 and the new December to 14.82. Closing quotations were within a point or two of the best.

The weekly trade report of the New York Cotton Exchange Service estimated world's consumption of American cotton for April at 1,065,000 bales, and said that on the basis of consumption to date and present prospects it seemed likely that the season's total would be in the neighborhood of 13,400,000 to 13,700,000 bales, with an indicated carry over of from 5,500,000 to 5,800,000 bales. Private acreage reports placing the indicated decrease at figures ranging from 2 to 3 per cent seemed without much effect on the immediate market. Liverpool cables reported liquidation on the favorable weather and Bombay hedging absorbed by trade calling at the decline. They said business in cotton cloths in Manchester was limited, with producers losing ground.

Port receipts today, 7,571. U. S. Port stocks, 1,720,942. Exports, 3,869, making 8,446,651 so far this season. It was reported that the interests credited with representing the cooperatives stopped notices on 876,100 bales of cotton on May contracts in New York and New Orleans combined.

INDUSTRIAL BONDS RISE AS RAILS DIP

American Telephone 4½s 3-Point Gain Proves Day's Feature.

FOREIGN GROUP STEADY

New York, May 27 (A.P.).—Bond prices pursued an erratic course within narrow confines today. Promising activity was mixed with some sharp reactions as the trading continued sluggish throughout the trading session of the New York Stock Exchange.

The tone of prime industrial bonds brightened considerably. Foreign bonds held steady in a good market, and increased demand for United States Governments developed with prices tending upward generally. The other side of the picture was the dullness of the market in railroad bonds, and sharp fluctuations that occurred in some individual issues, notably St. Paul adjustment 5s, which dropped 3 points, and Pathe Exchange warrants 7s, which yielded 7 points.

Sales volume increased appreciably from yesterday when the turnover established a new low mark for 1930.

The quiet market in railroad bonds resulted in the highest grade liens of the group losing some ground. A conspicuous exception to the narrow price range of most rail issues was the Soo Line 5s, which gained more than a point. Missouri Pacific convertible 5½s were strong to reach a new 1930 high, but reacted at the close. The decrease in earnings of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad influenced a further depreciation in the price of its bonds. The adjustment 5s lost 2¼ to set a new low or the second day in succession, and the general 4½s "E" series dropped 1¾ points, while the general 4½s "C" series moved upward a point.

Stock privilege issues showed the depressing effects of a dull share market, but rallied toward the close, with the American Telephone 4½s closing 3 points higher, and Philadelphia Reading Coal & Iron 6s up 1 point. Changes in other convertibles was small and irregular.

Buying of foreign bonds turned largely to foreign government bonds, particularly European, but gains were small. Canadian Dominion 4½ neared its 1930 high on a moderate turnover. There was a good demand for French 7½s, which gained ½ point. Electric Power German 6½s suffered the widest drop, yielding 6⅞ points, to a new low for the year.

The demand for United States Governments was the best in many days, but the general price range advance was small.

New financing includes $2,200,000 City of Santiago, Chile, issue of 7 per cent gold bonds, priced at 96½, to yield 7.30 per cent, and $3,000,000 Interconintents Power Co. issue of 6 per cent convertible debentures priced at 97.

Telephone Report Filed.

The report of operations of the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. of Baltimore City, just filed with the Public Utilities Commission, shows telephone-operating revenues for April to be $1,197,128. Expenses during the month were $921,910, making net revenues $275,218. Telephone operating revenues for the four months ending April 30 amounted to $4,633,464. Expenses during this period were $3,652,630, making net revenues $980,834.

Telephone operating revenues for the twelve months ended April 30 amounted to $13,864,184, with expenses of $10,930,197, making net revenues $2,933,987. This is equivalent to 6.65 per cent on the average value of the company's property as fixed by the Public Service Commission as of December 31, 1924, plus additions. This value on April 30, 1930, was $45,393,724.

Capital expenditures for plant and equipment in Maryland for the first four months of 1930 amounted to $1,933,222. Retirements during this period were $879,881, making net additions $1,053,341. Net additions to plant and equipment for the twelve months ended April 30 amounted to $2,825,673.

1,182 New Telephones.

A net gain of 1,182 telephones were added to the system in Maryland during April, making 211,867 now in service. During the month of April telephone users made 27,436,000 calls, which was an increase of 4.4 per cent over the number made during the same month last year.

The April statement of operations of the Washington Rapid Transit Co., filed yesterday with the Public Utilities Commission, shows a balance of $4,318.91 for the month, as compared with one of $4,293.18 for the month last year. The cumulative total for the first four months revealed a deficit of $4,738.07, against a balance of $7,214.67 for the period in 1929.

Wall Street Briefs

New York, May 27 (A.P.).—The A. O. Smith Corporation, of Milwaukee, has received an order for 115 miles of gas pipe from the Southwestern Natural Gas Corporation. The line will extend from Quinton, Okla., to surrounding towns.

Addition of Savannah, Ga., and Mobile, Ala., as delivery points on New York contract, was cited by President Gardiner H. Miller as among the constructive developments in the past year's activities of the New York Cotton Exchange, in his annual report. Mr. Miller's report referred to the Federal Farm Board as "a new and most important element . . . injected into the process for marketing the cotton crop."

C. Lester Horn, of C. Lester Horn & Co., said today that his firm was "temporarily embarrassed by its inability to meet its large commitment in Shaffer Stores but that negotiations now are in progress for sale of securities to relieve the situation."

Directors of the Standard Oil Co. of Kentucky today declared the regular dividend of 40 cents and an extra of 20 cents a share, payable June 30 to stock of record June 16. The company paid a 40-cent extra dividend for the last quarter of 1929 but voted no extra dividend for the first quarter of this year.

Ralph Budd, president of the Great Northern Railway, said today that traffic on his road is running about 10 per cent behind last year so far this May and that the principal decline has been in loadings of ore.

No decision on whether the proposed merger of the Great Northern Railway and the Northern Pacific would be abandoned was made by the deposit committee, which met today at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co. Reports were heard from members of the committee, but no action was taken, it was learned authoritatively.

Contracts for new building and engineering projects in the 37 States east of the Rocky Mountains totaled $83,376,300 during the week of May 17, F. W. Dodge Corporation reported today. This compared with $104,585,800 in the corresponding week last year. New construction work is mounting at the rate of $17,675,700 per business day in contrast to $23,510,600 in May last year.

Changes in the Goldman Sachs organization are announced coincident with the retirement of Waddill Catchings as a member of the firm. Walter E. Sachs succeeds Mr. Catchings as president of the Goldman Sachs Trading Corporation. Sidney J. Weinberg has been elected a vice president of Goldman, Sachs & Co.

Robert J. Stokes, president of Thermoid Co., in an analysis of trade prospects, says that current developments indicate that automobile production in 1930 will exceed the 1928 total, although it will be under the 1929 mark. Production of new cars in the first four months totaled 1,466,942, Mr. Stokes said, compared with 1,378,942 in the same period in 1928 and 2,074,820 in the corresponding period of 1929.

A seat on the New York Stock Exchange will be sold for $486,000, up $13,000 from the previous sale.

Crosley Radio Corporation reports net loss of $696,615 for the first quarter contrasted with net profit of $820,000, or $1.58 a share in the same period of last year.

The American & Foreign Power Corporation today reported that the balance of earnings of the company and subsidiaries applicable to the common stock in 1929 was $6,510,105 as compared with $1,528,009 for 1928. Last year's earnings were equal to about $4.07 a share on the common against $1.22 in the previous period.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, May 27 (A.P.).—Despite announcement of a big reduction of world stocks of wheat, prices underwent decided downturns today. The action of the wheat market was attributed largely to trade unsettlement resulting from reported plans of the Federal Farm Board to make 1930 crop loans on a varying basis to be fixed from time to time. Reports were also current that the National Grain Stabilization Corporation would withdraw from participating in the wheat market as soon as the existing wheat surplus is eliminated.

Closing quotations were at a net decline at the day's bottom level, but ⅞ to 1¼ cents a bushel lower than yesterday's finish. Corn closed ⅜ to ¾ cent lower, oats, unchanged to ¼ of a cent up, and provisions varying from 10 cent decline to 5 cent advance.

Somewhat helping the late rally today in wheat prices was the fact that world's stocks of wheat showed a decrease of 12,018,000 bushels for the week, against a reduction of but 5,153,000 bushels a year ago. Seen as one of the recovery in values toward the last, however, was ascribed to buying for previous sellers who were in a position to collect a profit. On the other hand, bearish influences were apparently ruling to follow price advances on this side of the Atlantic, and the Liverpool market today closed weak at quotations lower than had been current.

Assertions that the weather in Europe has turned fine and warm after a prolonged period of unseasonable cold and excessive dampness counted as a handicap to friends of higher prices for wheat. Throughout the day, however, the attention of traders tended to pay much more or less uncertainties aroused by current reports that the Federal Farm Board program as to loans on 1930 crops made no mention of any provision for loans at established minimum prices such as were granted for a time in 1929. Under such circumstances, the market showed a dearth of advances during spurting and declines dropped in some cases 2 cents a bushel.

Corn prices went lower as a result of sympathy with wheat weakness and on account of favorable weather for field work. Corn planting was reported to be making rapid progress toward completion. Oats were steadied as a result of buying orders from sources East.

Provisions reflected downturns in the value of hogs.

Many Vegetables Decline in Prices

Tomatoes, Potatoes and Cantaloupes Slump; Peaches Arriving.

Prices of many of the more important lines of fruits and vegetables declined materially toward the close of May, according to a report yesterday by the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Included in the downward slant were tomatoes, cabbage, potatoes, cantaloupes and cucumbers. Some firmness was shown in prices of onions, berries, celery and lettuce. The bulk of the supply of green peas was coming from North Carolina and heaviest shipments of string beans were reported from South Carolina.

First shipments of peaches were reported from Georgia during the third week of May. Local estimates are that there will be approximately 3,700 cars of peaches from Georgia this season compared with 2,900 last year.

This week witnessed the beginning of the Florida watermelon season. Cabbage prices lost practically all of the recent gain, though movement was held around a daily average of 125 cars. Shipments were particularly active in Mississippi, Louisiana, Tennessee and Virginia. South Carolina was shipping nearly 200 cars of potatoes daily during the third week of May and total output of new stock was nearly double that for the same period a year ago.

Curb Review

New York, May 27 (A.P.).—Bullish operations in the utility shares made moderate progress in today's curb market, although prices generally milled around without direction as unsettlement on the big board, and the fact that the exchange will be closed for three days over the Memorial Day week-end, hampered operators in their efforts to attract a following.

American Gas & Electric was a strong feature, rising 10 points to 152 in heavy trading for this issue, usually not very active. It closed at 150⅜. Electric Bond & Share was also heavily bought, rising 3 points and closing near the top. American Superpower sold up about a point, then lost most of its gain. Nevada California jumped 15 points in a few sales.

In the natural gas stocks, recent strength of Missouri Kansas Pipe Line was explained by announcement, of a $40,000,000 project to pipe gas from Texas to Indiana. The stock appeared to have discounted this development, however, and moved narrowly.

A conspicuous weak spot was Deere, which tumbled 10 points to 114, within one point of the minimum level for this stock, compared with a high a few weeks ago of 162⅝. This issue was heavily sold in sympathy with J. I. Case and International Harvester on the big board, and in response to reports of a decided lull in farm implement demand.

Among the few strong features in the industrials was Driver Harris, up 4 points; A. C. Gilbert, National Screen and National Theaters Supply, up 2 or more. Douglas Aircraft sold within 1 point of the year's high.

Oils were in fair demand for a time, but sagged during the latter part of the session. Root Refining, a comparatively inactive issue, jumped 8 points to 20½, a new high for the year.

WOMEN WILL HEAR CANDIDATES' TALKS

Five Seeking Congressional Honor to Appear at Rally in Church.

HIGH SCHOOL MEET DUE

ARLINGTON COUNTY,
BUREAU OF THE POST.
Tel. Clar. 509. Clarendon, Va.

Arlington County's first political rally in the present congressional campaign will feature the meeting of the Organized Women Voters of Arlington County to be held tonight in the Parish Hall of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Glebe Road, Livingston Heights.

The five aspirants for the congressional seat—State Senator Frank L. Ball, and Capt. Crandal Mackey, of Arlington County, former Judge Howard W. Smith of Alexandria, and E. H. DeJarnette, of Orange, Democratic candidates, and Dr. F. M. Brooks, of Fairfax Republican nominee, are the scheduled speakers.

County Engineer C. L. Kinnier is also announced as one of the speakers. He will discuss the proposed bond issue for a country-wide trunk line sewerage system.

Mrs. Julian Simpson, president, announces that this meeting is open to the public.

The Washington Lee High School Athletic Association holds its first annual field day on the school athletic field this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The program for junior high students, as announced by W. A. Richardson, athletic director at the school, includes the following:

Mass drill for boys and girls, dances, (newsboy clog) by girls; stunts by girls; relay races and games by boys; tumbling by girls; and fencing by girls.

After the program, the annual track and field meet by the senior students will be held.

Music will be furnished by the school orchestra.

There will be a special program including the Maypole dance given by five-point health children of the Ballston School on the school grounds tomorrow afternoon beginning at 3:30 o'clock.

The annual senior class banquet at the Washington Lee High School will be held at the school tonight at 6:30 o'clock, with Mrs. Frances Bell acting as toastmistress.

A special program is announced which includes a number of toasts as follows:

By Paul Heins, president of the class, to County School Superintendent Fletcher Kemp; to the county school board, by Miss Nancy DeLashmutt, vice president of the class; response by the chairman of the school board, Thomas J. DeLashmutt; to the school faculty, by Miss Dorothy Potterton, secretary of the class; response by the principal, S. P. Vanderslice; to the class, by Miss Sadie Williams, member of the school faculty; response from the class by David Young.

Recognizing the many favors extended to the class during the last three years a special toast is to be given to Miss Sally Loving, member of the school faculty, by Annie Davies, treasurer of the class.

The banquet is being prepared by the domestic science class under direction of Miss Sally Loving and Miss Mary Ames.

Following the usual custom, the waitresses will be girls of the junior class.

The executive committee of the Parent-Teacher Associations and other organizations of the county will have a dinner meeting tomorrow evening at 6 o'clock to plan activities for the remaining ten days of the campaign for the school bond issue election. The committee will also make its plans for getting out the vote on election day.

County School Superintendent Fletcher Kemp will attend the meeting and report the progress of the campaign from a county-wide standpoint.

The Arlington Rotary Club holds its weekly luncheon meeting tomorrow at 12:30 o'clock at the Washington Golf and Country Club. Election of officers will be the principal business. All members are requested to be present.

Dr. George B. Fadeley was elected president of the Arlington County Bankers Association at its luncheon meeting held yesterday. A. B. Honts was elected secretary.

The association went on record as favoring both of the proposed bond issues, one for a county-wide trunk line sewerage system and the other for enlargement of a number of the county public schools.

The Arlington County Monarch Club will meet tomorrow at 12 o'clock at the Ashton Heights Women's Clubhouse.

Saturday will be the last day on which taxpayers may file their personal property and State income returns to avoid a penalty by the State examiner of records. County Commissioner of Revenue Harry K. Green announces that his office at the county courthouse will be open tonight, tomorrow night and Saturday night from 7 to 9 o'clock. All persons who are 21 years of age or over are required to make out a return.

The county board of supervisors will meet tomorrow morning at the courthouse at 10 o'clock.

Among the many matters to be considered, the principal one will be plans for making a number of extensions to the present county water mains.

The senior class at Arlington Hall will hold its annual class night in the auditorium tonight.

Friday afternoon, beginning at 4 o'clock, there will be special exhibits by the several departments of the college, after which there will be a gymnastic exhibition in the gymnasium.

The annual concert by the students will be held in the evening at 8 o'clock in the college chapel.

The American Legion Auxiliary, Arlington Post, No. 139, will meet tonight in the rooms of the Arlington County Chamber of Commerce at 8 o'clock.

Plans will be completed for placing flowers on the graves of soldiers of the World War on Memorial Day.

Clarendon Circle of St. George's Episcopal Church, will hold a luncheon meeting today at 1 o'clock at the home of Mrs. C. D. Crist, 120 Clarendon avenue.

Tomorrow being Ascension Day, there will be special services with Holy Communion at St. George's Episcopal Church in the morning at 10 o'clock. The services will be conducted by the rector, the Rev. Henry J. Miller.

Addressing a series of mass meetings held in Arlington, Lyon Park and Ballston last night, County Engineer C. L. Kinnier and County School Superintendent Fletcher Kemp outlined plans for the proposed bond issues for sewers and schools on which the voters of the county will vote on Monday, June 9.

Engineer Kinnier, in discusisng plans for the $2,173,089 county-wide trunk line sewerage system, stressed the point that the County yBoard of Supervisors proposes to secure services of an expert sanitary engineer who will have charge of designing the system and perfecting plans, and who will act as a consulting engineer to the county engineer's office.

Superintendent Kemp gave an extensive outline for the proposed school bond issue for $640,000, and stated that thirteen years ago the school enrolment was 2,000, against more than 5,000 at this time.

He appealed to the citizens to go to the polls on election day and support the school bond issue, thereby giving to the youth of Arlington County the school facilities to which they are justly entitled.

The Christian Endeavor Society of Mount Olivet Methodist Protestant Church at Ballston announces that it will present a play entitled "The Dutch Detective" at the church tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

The Arlington Citizens Association at its meeting held last night in the Patrick Henry Schoolhouse went on record as approving petitions circulated by residents along Shelly road, Cloth and Virginia avenues for extension to the county water system.

The resolution calls upon the County Board of Supervisors to approve the petition in view of the fact that out of a total of 39 residents, 36 have signed the petition agreeing to use the mains when laid.

Recognizing increased traffic which will result upon completion of the new Memorial Bridge along Columbia pike and extending into Annandale, Fairfax County, a special committee from Annandale, headed by W. C. Carrico, appeared before the association and asked support in a movement to have a direct route provided to the bridge. It was proposed that Arlington County officers be called upon to extend a road from a point on Johnson's Hill, extending to the Military road near the Arlington Cemetery, and thence to the bridge. The matter was referred to the road committee of the association.

JUDGE SNOW NAMED ROTARY CLUB'S HEAD

Alexandria Organization to Attend Ball Game in Body June 24.

LEGION PLANS PROGRAM

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU.
312 S. Washington St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria 823.

Judge William S. Snow yesterday was elected president of the Alexandria Rotary Club, succeeding Dr. S. Nelson Gray. Other officers chosen were Fred C. Goodnow, vice president; Dr. Herbert Cross, secretary; Everett Swan, treasurer, and Francis H. Fannon and George F. Downham, directors. Alfred Thomson declined renomination as treasurer, having served the club for 2½ years, or since its organization. The new officers will assume their duties at the next meeting, June 3.

Judge Snow has been one of the most active members of the Rotary since its organization here. He is a member of the board of directors and has taken particular interest in the day nursery sponsored by the club.

The Rev. Percy L. Vernon, former pastor of the First Baptist Church, who is now pastor of a church in Maine, was a visitor yesterday and delivered a short talk.

The club adopted a resolution to attend in a body a baseball game between Cleveland and Washington June 24. The anunal game between the Rotary and the local Kiwanis Club probably will be played at Baggett's Stadium on June 17, according to a report made by Judge Snow.

J. W. Howard, new manager of the Virginia Public Service Co., was introduced as the newest member of the club and was welcomed by Rotarian Francis H. Fannon.

The Rotary, it was announced, will issue a challenge to the Kiwanis for a putting match at the miniature golf course just opened on King street, John T. Worthington being named as chairman of the committee on arrangements for the contest.

Memorial Day exercises will be held at noon Friday in Gadsby's Tavern by Alexandria Post No. 24, American Legion, with Commander Howard L. Arnold presiding. The ritual of the legion will be followed, and Capt. Thurlow White will be the speaker. Edwin W. West, of the local post, will give several vocal selections, with Mrs. Anna Meeks, a member of the post, at the piano. The program is under the direction of the Americanism committee of the post, of which George F. Downham is chairman. The general public, as well as members of the post and auxiliary, is invited to attend the services.

Tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 o'clock the members of the legion auxiliary will decorate the graves of the Alexandria soldier dead in the various cemeteries of Alexandria, and Friday morning will go to Arlington to place flags on the graves of the Alexandrians buried there. Mrs. John H. Trimyer will be in charge of decorating the graves.

Miss Nannie Burton Marye, 84 years old, died Monday at her home, 601 Queen street, death being due to the infirmities incident to advanced age. She is survived by a sister, Miss Mary A. M. Marye.

Funeral services will be conducted at 11 o'clock today from St. Paul's Episcopal Church, by the Rev. Percy Foster Hall, rector, and the body will be taken to Fredericksburg for interment.

Two frame buildings in New Alexandria, belonging to Mrs. Annie A. Turner, were destroyed by fire, believed to have been of incendiary origin, Monday night. Engine Company No. 4 responded to the first alarm, but owing to the lack of water was unable to do more than prevent the spread of the flames. The second blaze was discovered several hours after the first, and No. 4 Company also responded to the alarm. The firemen were unable to say whether this fire was incendiary or was caused by live embers from the first. Neither house was occupied, and the loss is estimated at $2,500, partly covered by insurance.

Bids for the erection of a new Federal building, to be occupied by the city postoffice and other Government activities, will be opened in Washington June 30 by the Supervising Architect of the Treasury. The bids will include the demolition of the buildings now on the site, consisting of two three-story brick structures. It is not believed the work of constructing the new building will be started before the latter part of July.

No selection of a temporary postoffice building has yet been made, although several locations are under consideration. The present building will be razed upon completion of the new one.

Mrs. Harry D. Kirk and Mrs. D. Mauchlin Niven are joint chairmen of the annual outing of New York tenement children for this city and vicinity, and are now soliciting homes for them for a two-week vacation in July. Many Alexandrians opened their homes to these children last year and are going to entertain the same ones this year, but more volunteers for this work of charity are needed by the committee in charge.

The local warehouse of Swift & Co., meat packers, which has been located at Prince and Union streets for about 27 years, will close on Saturday, and all of this territory, as far south as Fredericksburg, will be handled from the Washington branch. J. W. Rea, who has been the local manager, will, it is understood, be connected with the Richmond branch.

Leslie G. Harris, manager of the Alexandria Kresge Store, has received a cablegram announcing that his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Harris, of Toledo, Ohio, were killed Sunday in a crash of a dirigible at Cologne, Germany, and were buried yesterday at that place. Mr. and Mrs. Harris were on a three-year world tour, having been gone for two years, and were visiting relatives in Cologne.

St. Mary's Academy, conducted by the Sisters of the Holy Cross, will hold its annual graduating exercises on June 9 and 10 next, with class night on June 9 at 8 o'clock at the academy, and the finals beginning with the celebration of high mass on June 10 at 9 a. m., followed by benediction of the blessed sacrament, in the convent chapel, by the Rev. Thomas A. Rankin, pastor of St. Mary's Church.

Gore to Make Two Speeches.

Clarksburg, W. Va., May 27 (Special).—Former Gov. Howard M. Gore today announced acceptance of an invitation to be chief speaker at the unveiling of the Marion County soldiers monument at Woodlawn Cemetery, Fairmont, Friday. He will be chief speaker at Memorial Day exercises in the afternoon at Kingwood.

CUMBERLAND HOST TO CHURCH SESSION

Bishop McDowell Presides as Methodist Episcopal Conference Opens.

MEMORIAL RITES HELD

Special to The Washington Post.

Cumberland, Md., May 27. — With Bishop William F. McDowell presiding, the 146th session of the Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church opened here tonight at Centre Street Church which will be host to the coference. This is the sixth time in its existence the body met here, the last time being in 1914. It first met here in 1852.

Cumberland is host to about 260 Methodist ministers and at least 200 lay delegates. The conference territory includes all of Maryland except the Eastern Shore, the District of Columbia, Hyndman, Pa., the Keyser and Martinsburg sections of West Virginia and Winchester, Va.

Tonight a memorial service was held for five members who died during the year. They were the Rev. Charles E. Smith, Glyndon; Willard F. Graham, Reisterstow; William C. Brian, Doubs, John B. Van Meter, Baltimore, and Joel Brown, Baltimore, the latter having been pastor of Centre Street Church in 1878.

Following administration of the Holy Communion tonight was the roll call and the organization of the conference. The memorial service concluded the program.

Bishop James C. Baker will appear in the program several times during the week, as will Dr. Clarence True Wilson, secretary of the board of temperance, prohibition and public morals, who is scheduled for two addresses.

The Rev. Dr. E. T. Mowbray, Hagerstown, who retires as superintendent of Frederick District, in which Cumberland is included, was tendered a banquet this evening marking the end of six years' service.

CUMBERLAND COURT ATTACKS SPEEDERS

Motorist Gets Two Years in One of Three Sentences for Manslaughter.

FILES NOTICE OF APPEAL

Special to The Washington Post.

Cumberland, Md., May 27.—Stressing the warning that speeding drivers of automobiles, especially young men who speed after midnight, will receive scant sympathy from the court, Judges D. Lindely Sloan and Albert A. Doub today imposed sentences in three manslaughter cases growing out of automobile accidents in which convictions were by jury. The warning was directed to the case of William C. Dundee, 28, in connection with the death of Miss Gertrude Harris, 22, daughter of Dr. Edward Harris, this city. She had been an art student in Washington.

Dundee was given two years in the House of Correction. He filed notice of appeal.

In giving Francis Schriver, 29, a suspended sentence of one year in the House of Correction provided he pays $25 monthly for a period of three years to William B. Decker, father of Evelyn Decker, 17, Pennsylvania Avenue High School graduate, abstains from intoxicants and does not operate his car in that period. Judge Sloan said the case had given considerable difficulty to the court.

The court spoke of Schriver as being industrious and of good reputation, although a bottle was found in his car and the problem as to whether he had been drinking was for the court to decide. The death of the girl, who was going through business school that she might equip herself to earn support for her father, a cripple, was a severe loss to the family which had to meet her hospital and funeral expenses. Schriver entered into $1,000 bond to carry out the orders of the court.

Miss Decker had been in chafge of publicity at Pennsylvania Avenue High School and was editor of Highlights. She had been invited to ride with Schriver and Miss Vera Cline early in the evening, and was fatally hurt about ten minutes after she entered the car. Three cars were involved in the accident and five were hurt.

John W. Reidenbaugh, 21, held in connection with the death of Mrs. Emma Alburtis, 72, widow of Otho H. Alburtis, veteran printer, was given a sentence of five months in jail.

The accident happened while Reidenbaugh was en route to his work and was the result of negligence in not having control of his car.

Presbyterian Delegate At Assembly Falls Ill

Charlottesville, Va., May 27 (A.P.). Dr. R. T. Gillespie, president of Columbia Seminary, of Atlanta, is seriously ill at a Charlottesville hospital.

He came here to attend the sessions of the Southern Presbyterian General Assembly. Dr. Gillespie suffered a throat infection earlier in the spring, friends said, which for a time threatened his life. His physician here has not yet diagnosed his condition.

Academy Students To Miss Girls' Kiss

Seniors Abolish Ceremony in Order to Retain "Ring Dance."

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., May 27.—Minus only the time-honored kissing ceremony, the annual "ring dance" for the soon-to-be seniors at the Naval Academy in Luce Hall next Tuesday night was assured tonight when class rings were presented to all members of the 1931 graduating class in Memorial Hall by Rear Admiral Samuel S. Robison, superintendent.

Presentation of the rings cleared away the last vestige of doubt regarding the probability of nolding the traditional dance after Naval Academy authorities recently announced that they had barred the practice in which girls slip the rings on midshipmen's fingers accompanied with a kiss during the "ring dance."

Members of the 1931 class promptly requested officials to allow the "ring dance" to be held, omitting the kissing custom.

CONSTABLE NAMED BY COUNTY HEADS

Lloyd Whipp, of Rockville, Will Serve in Fourth Election District.

NEW CENSUS AID ADDED

J. Lloyd Whipp, of Rockville, was appointed a constable in the Fourth Election District yesterday by the Montgomery County Commissioners at their meeting in Rockville. His term is to run two years and to date from May 1, 1930. Mr. Whipp for some time has acted as night desk man in police headquarters at Rockville. The bond of Lee W. Jones, appointed constable in the Thirteenth Election District, was approved.

The commissioners granted a permit for the operation of a miniature golf course in Bethesda to John H. Hiser, subject to proper advertising and payment of a license fee of $10. A petition for rezoning of a tract of land known as "Pritchetts Purchase," filed by John and Mary F. B. Imirie, was referred to the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission for action.

Because of the large increase in population in the Chevy Chase area of the county, it has been found necessary to add another census enumerator for that area, it was announced yesterday by George Edward Myers, supervisor of the census for the Sixth Congressional District at Frederick. Miss Lucy C. Powell has been appointed to work west of Wisconsin avenue.

Miss Lavinia Engle, director of the Maryland League of Women Voters, will discuss juvenile conditions in the Maryland counties as revealed in a recent survey at the annual meeting of the Montgomery County Social Service League Tuesday night at 6:30 o'clock in the Bethesda Women's Clubhouse. Supper will be served. Reservations should be made through the office of the league in Rockville.

Loudoun County Plans Memorial Day Rites

Special to The Washington Post.

Leigh and J. C. Cockerille.

The electoral board also appointed judges for the Vienna town election that is to be held on June 10. They are Floyd Waggoner, Howard Money and C. Arthur Thompson. The board does not appoint the judges in the towns of Falls Church and Fairfax because the town charters specify that the selection of such officers shall be by the town councils. In Falls Church, Mayor John F. Bethune has appointed Julius Parmelee, Charles Gage and the town clerk, Thomas Probey. In the town of Fairfax, H. N. Gibson, S. W. Sisson and Mrs. Marion Earle will serve as judges on June 10.

The Fairfax County track meet and field day being held under the auspices of the Fairfax County High School Athletic Association, which was interrupted Saturday on account of rain, will be completed this afternoon, beginning at 1:30 o'clock, at the Floris Vocational High School.

The events Saturday were: Boys' high jump, which was won by Davis Moller of Clifton, who jumped 5 feet 4 inches; R. Lewis, of Lee Jackson, was second, and Lee Brown, of Floris, third. The 100-yard dash for boys was won by Lee Brown, of Floris; R. Lewis of Lee-Jackson, second, and K. Lewis, of Lee-Jackson, third. The 100-yard dash for girls was won by Mary Hessick, of Floris; Miss Cousent, of Falls Church, second, and T. Ankers, of Falls Church, third. The 50-yard dash for junior boys was won by Allin McLearen, of Floris; Norman Hall, of Falls Church, second, and A. Perkins, of Floris, third. The Floris School has 17 points to its credit; Lee-Jackson, 7; Falls Church, 7, and Clifton, 5.

The final meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association at Clifton for this year will be held tonight in the auditorium of the school.

The fourth annual flower show of the Fairfax Garden Club will be held today in Willard Hall under the direction of Mrs. Amos H. Chilcott, the president. Several committees will assist her. The show has been opened to every one whether a member of the club or not. The flowers exhibited must have been grown by or under the personal supervision of the exhibitor. Entries will be received today from 9 until 11 o'clock in the morning. The judging to begin promptly at 11:30 with Dr. Victor Lumsden, of the United States Department of Agriculture, and Margaret Lancaster, of Washington, as judges. The exhibit will be thrown open to public inspection from 2 o'clock in the afternoon until 9 that evening.

A sweepstakes prize of an antique silver bowl, which was presented to the club last year by Harley P. Wilson, of Hollin Hall Farms, will be awarded. This bowl, which was won last year by Mrs. Chilcott, must be won three times by the same person before it is awarded permanently. A large number of other prizes are offered in each of the classes. Mrs. F. D. Richardson will entertain the judges and officials at a luncheon at her home.

Miss Blanche McGowan, State nutrition specialist from Blacksburg, will be in Fairfax today to give training in demonstrations on vegetables to the leaders of the sixteen 4-H Clubs in Fairfax County. These leaders will in turn give the same demonstration to their clubs. Tomorrow Miss McGowan will give sample demonstrations on table setting and dinner salads to the leaders of the various Home Demonstration Clubs in the county.

The case against T. P. Johnson, of Merrifield, who was before the Fairfax County Circuit Court yesterday on a driving-while-drunk charge, was continued until the next term of court on motion of Commonwealth Attorney Wilson M. Farr, over the objection and exception of the accused. The step was taken on account of the absence of one of the Commonwealth's material witnesses. Eight of the witnesses for the defendant were recognied by the court under a $100 bond each for their appearance at the next term to testify for the defendant.

J. E. Jones, indicted for possession of ardent spirits, was found not guilty by a jury, of which Hugh W. Gunnel was foreman. Clarence W. Gill pleaded guilty to an information warrant for the violation of the State prohibition law. He was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to one month in jail. The jail sentence was suspended during good behavior. The case of George Neitze, indicted for rape, was continued until the next term of court, and he was released under a $1,000 bond. The cases against Ottis Shaeffer, charged with driving while drunk, and Ralph Mills, charged with the sale of liquor, were continued until next term of court. A capias was awarded by the court for George Lyles for the violation of the State prohibition law. The case against David Taylor for violation of the State prohibition law was nolle prossed on the motion of Commonwealth Attorney Farr. The Wilkins Rogers Milling Co. was awarded a homestead waiving judgment against F. G. Carper for $550 with interest from January 14, 1930, until paid, together with expenses of collection and attorney's fees of 15 per cent of the principal and interest on the note.

Dairyman Fatally Injured in Crash

M. B. Charlton Expires in Martinsburg Hospital of Hurts.

Special to The Washington Post.

Martinsburg, W. Va., May 27—Milford B. Charlton, 38 years old, a dairyman, of Marlowe, 15 miles north of here, was fatally injured about midnight Monday at the bridge over Mill Creek, Bunker Hill, 10 miles south of this city, when the truck hit the side of the bridge and turned over on the left side. Mr. Charlton's body was found under the wreckage. He died at a local hospital before noon Tuesday.

George S. Koons, of Williamsport, Md., was with Charlton. His injuries were slight. They were en route to Arthur, W. Va., in Charlton's five-ton truck to bring back Koons' household goods to Williamsport, Md.

The victim is survived by his widow, formerly a Miss Pearrell, of this county; his mother, Mrs. C. S. Charlton, Marlowe, and one sister, Miss Marian, who teaches in Williamsport, Md., and a brother, Roger, of Hagerstown, Md.

MISTREATING WIFE DENIED BY CLERIC

Daughter Testifies Against Heimer in Frederick Court Battle.

STOCK MARKET BLAMED

Special to The Washington Post.

Frederick, Md., May 27.—With tears in his eyes, the Rev. Dr. Peter E. Heimer, for seventeen years pastor of the Thurmont Reformed Church and associate pastor of two other Reformed churches, today denied accusations of cruelty and vicious treatment preferred by his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth A. Heimer, in her suit for separate maintenance and counsel fees in the Circuit Court here. The courtroom was crowded with spectators, including a large number of women and many members of the churches of which Dr. Heimer is pastor.

Preceding his testimony, his daughter, Mrs. Gerald De Angeleo, of Fall River, Mass., and a witness for her mother, testified that her father possessed a high temper and without provocation would abuse her mother and accuse her of withholding his money. She testified that at times her father asked her mother to leave their home and added that she was an outcast among church people.

Dr. Heimer stated that Mrs. Heimer and their daughter had made him a stranger in his own home. He attributed all their domestic trouble to the desire of his wife to pursue a dramatic career and to buy and sell stocks. He testified that at her request he made over in her name between $17,800 and $19,000 upon the promise that she would return to him a portion of the securities. She not only refused to return any part of the securities, he said, but denied him any part of the income.

He said that he provided for his family and educated his son and daughter on a small salary with the aid of $6,000 he borrowed from his brother. He declared that his wife always showed a hostile attitude toward his profession and did not believe in religious work. He said she occupied her time going from place to place planning recitals and that he was never informed where or when she was going.

Mrs. Heimer, who was on the witness stand six hours yesterday, concluded her testimony with the statement that her husband at times was violently abusive and profane and several times attacked her, leaving bruises on her arms and hips. This the minister denied.

Dr. Heimer resigned as pastor of the churches when his wife brought the suit against him. Accepting his resignation, the congregations extended him a vote of confidence and sympathy. Dr. Heimer is well known and is making his home among among friends in the vicinity of Thurmont. Since his domestic troubles he has been preaching as relief minister at one of the churches of which he was formerly pastor.

Lutheran Church Gain Stressed at Meeting

Special to The Washington Post.

Hagerstown, Md., May 27.—Dr. William A. Wade, Baltimore, president of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Maryland, in his report at the 111th annual convention of the synod opening today here said the Lutheran Church showed the largest gain of any Protest
